

This Little Trailblazer

By Joan Holub and Daniel Roode

Paving the way to a future that's bright. Helping the world with their skills, smart, and might. Little Trail Blazers cause great big changes.

This little Trailblazer helped think of a way to do math with machines, called computers today. Ada Lovelace wrote one of the first computer programs the US government later names of computer language Ada in her honour.

This little Trailblazer caused a big fuss by not giving up her seat on the bus. Rosa Parks bravery help change an unfair rule that African-Americans could not sit by Caucasians on the bus.

This little Trailblazer practiced hard at the barre. In the Firebird ballet, she soared like a star! Maria Tallchief was the first Prima ballerina of the New York City Ballet, and the first world famous Native American Ballerina.
