[Season 2] Prologue

So it's begun. I'm more nervous than when I started Part 1.

I have a lot of worries regarding Part 2, but I hope that everything will turn out well.

1.

Part 2 will be divided into multiple episodes.

The first of those will start next week.
I might take a small break after each episode,
But nothing is set.

2.

Officially, Zahard has no prince.

[TN: I interpret "Officially" to mean "On record" or "Widely-known"]

3.

Part 2 will be a bit more light-hearted than Part 1.
I think...

Anyways, overall, I think Part 2 will be pretty fun, haha.

P.S.

5 years in the Tower is not long at all,
But it's enough to change a person. lol

[Season 2] Chapter 1

Ja Wangnan is "I Am Prince" spelled backwards.
...That's some genius wordplay, AMIRITE

...

Unlike Part 1, instead of having one main character,
Part 2 will tell the story of many different characters,
So please stop asking me who the main character is -_-;;

So everyone thought Wangnan was going to be super strong when he came out
...but come on, that's not how these things go.

People are asking me if characters from Part 1 will appear again.

Yes, they will appear.
In fact, one has already appeared, right?

[Season 2] Chapter 2

This is Chapter 2.

I guess you could say this is the chapter for introducing the characters of this episode.

The focus is less on progressing the story and more about introducing characters.
It's the commonly used technique of using up a chapter in manhwas, haha.

If the characters in Part 1 generally represented the upper-class members of the Tower,

Then this episode's characters will be representing the middle-class members.
Still... compared to Part 1, their pure combat prowess will be better.
Of course, you still can't compare them to Androssi's strength or Koon's brains ^^;

Truthfully, when I started Part 2 I wanted to show a more experienced and composed self,
But I'm still lacking and worrying a lot.

So please love the characters of Part 2,
And thanks again for reading Tower of God (and visiting me in the blogs). ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 3

Is his hair glued to his forehead?

[Season 2] Chapter 4

Mm... A lobster has appeared.
I really like seafood.
Probably because I live in the inlands...
But seafood is delicious!
A bit expensive though...

Part 2's first episode pays a lot of homage to classic Shounen Manhwa.
Since I don't really have a set genre for Tower of God,
It may feel like different genres at times.
I plan on changing themes with each new episode.

So is this episode going to be like Shounen?
Actually no,
You can probably tell, but the problems presented are more associated with people in their 20s and not 10s. That's why the floor is also F20.
But I still want kids in their 10s to enjoy,
so I'll try to limit the presentation of age differences.

There will be more characters next chapter,
And it looks like we'll officially start our story.
So please look forward to next week.
Thank you, ^^

p.s. – Visitors to the blog surpassed one million, yaay.

[Season 2] Chapter 5

Looks like Ms. Arsonist appears again.

I may throw away male characters easily, but not female characters.

Because I am the knight of females everywhere.

I'm joking.

I'm sure it's the same for black-and-white manhwa, but even more so for color manhwa,

It gets a lot harder as the number of characters increases.

In T.O.G., there are a lot of characters appearing, and they're also changed quite often, so it gets a bit hard during work.

My tablet broke during the drawing of this chapter.

I suffered quite a bit T.T

I ended up spending two nights in a row to finish; it was hard.

Man, I keep going on and on about difficulties.

Hu... Sad...

Anyways, next week there will be even more characters to draw...

And my wrist will hurt even more...

And the amount of content will probably decrease...

And my ratings will go down...

Ah... sad...

Anyways, please read next week a lot. I'll be very thankful.

See you next week~

[Season 2] Chapter 6

Most of you might have noticed, but this test is an idea borrowed from Dragon Ball's Tenchibukai test.

Truthfully, it's a common concept that appears quite often in shounen manhwa,

But I thought it'd be fun, and I always wanted to draw a scene like this,

So I chose this test.

(In reality, Lero-Ro's Shinsoo Wall test was also a shounen staple ^^;;

You can take this test as a similar one.)

Lately, I've been loaded with work, and preparing for the next part's completion is taking a toll on my health.

I didn't get to go out once this week... ah... I want to see the sun...

And so, for the next few chapters, there won't be a sudden increase in content.

It's regrettable, but it's better to have a consistent level of content, so please don't get angry with me ^^

Ah, and it seemed like many people were curious about the names of the characters in Part 2.

Silver Hair - Hon Akraptor

Teddy Bear - Kang Horyang

Schoolgirl - Yeo Miseng

Glasses Girl - Yeo Goseng

Delivery Kid - Nya Nia

Other characters' names will be revealed throughout the chapters.

Thank you!

[Season 2] Chapter 7

And the power game stops now.

After drawing nothing but complicated tests,

It was nice having such a simple test for once, lol.

It's like I'm a kid again.

The biggest difference between Part 1 and Part 2 is, of course, Koon.

If a genius scammer like Koon appears, then the games get complicated, lol.

About the name Viole,

The name Viole is from the color violet,

And the full name is Jyu Viole Grace.

More details will be revealed next week

Hwa Jeop Gong Pa Sul is one of the striking styles that use Shinsoo.

Basically, it involves transferring the shock of Shinsoo from one's body to the target object.

It's a pretty dangerous skill.

(I'm currently preparing a file on Shinsoo usage. Once I'm done, I'll put it on the blog.)

As for Yeon,

She seems like a character roughly similar to Androssi (pretty, feminine, good stats).

However, there's a degree of difference.

You'll see what I mean.

Next week,

We'll begin the story of Wangnan

Which you won't be able to read without crying, lol.

Please look forward to it.

[Season 2] Chapter 8

Well... here it is, without fail, Tower of God.

Chicken Love's model is the baseball player, Ryu Hyun-Jin.

However, it is not that kind of chicken.

Please don't mistake them.

This chapter's contents were a bit long, right?

I know I said no sudden increase in length a few weeks ago,

But it doesn't seem to be going the way I want it.

When you make a comic that's over 100 panels...

You eat lunch at your desk.

I literally ate rice wrapped in dried seaweed (with nothing else).

Never doing this again...

(But I will...)

Really, I do want to find some assistants,

But I don't have the ability to pay them fair compensation,

So I'm holding off on that.

I could probably put them on other projects,
But at the moment, I want to focus more on Tower of God than money...

Well, my situation's a bit better than the old days,

So I don't think I'll be hiring anyone just yet.

Anyways, please be careful to not catch a cold,

And let us meet next week in good health.

Thank you. ^^

p.s. I made a twitter, but I'm not telling.

p.s.2 - Those with girlfriends or boyfriends, go become sick. Don't come out to see the spring flowers. I get cranky because the roads get blocked up.

[Season 2] Chapter 9

This chapter would be about the backstories of various characters.

Arkraptor's Princess Maker

Yeon's klutz series

Wangnan's dramatic past..

It became long because many stories were put in,
So I was worried that it would have been boring to read.
It seems non-action scenes are losing their meanings.
A hard problem to solve.

Wangnan's survival seems to be the biggest thing in Season 2.
Will he make it? Or will he die? Stay tuned!

Sorry, Wangnan.

Thanks to Ha Il Gwon-nim who let me use his character from God of Bath.
and congratulations on your marriage!

...Why does everyone seem to be getting married.

[Season 2] Chapter 10

The test is called 'A Trustworthy Room'.
The exact rules will be revealed next chapter.
So, please look forward to it. T.T

The game Wangnan and co. were playing is similar to Korea's Gostop.
The one who collects all the cards and lives the longest wins.
I don't even know the exact rules.
It's just a game.

Hmm... Starting next chapter, the volume of content will decrease.
Except the pacing of the story will be quicker, so I don't think the ratings will go down.

And...

Ah, nevermind. I'm gonna go watch soccer.
Thank you. ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 11

First, a word of thanks to the Webtoon staff who uploaded my alternate version I sent on Sunday.

As you may have figured out from reading now,
The main structure of today's chapter is focused on How Baam and Wangnan act differently
In the same situation.

Quite different from how the end of Season 1 went.
That time the twist was making people see a bit from Rachel's point of view.
I will talk more about this later on.

About the rules of the tests,
I wanted to figure out how to explain it simply, but it was hard. :(

I had to go through lots of redoes on this chapter.
But I still wasn't satisfied.
Guess I will have to learn more.

Trustworthy Room Test Rules

The Game's Rules

The goal of the game is to gather 7 teammates and 6 rooms. The most important requirement of the game is faith.

- From this point onwards, you and your roommate will be acting as one team to either steal or protect the rooms.
- The remotes of the rooms have the capability to open or close the room and can change the ownership of the room.
- The personal connectors connect to the remote. Once connected to another person's remote, you can decide to either become his/her teammate or take his/her room. (To become teammates, press the blue button; to take the room, press the red button.) (Once you become teammates, you can share rooms and take/protect rooms together.)
 - If you leave one of your rooms empty, you will be disqualified.
- If you take the remote out of the room, you will be disqualified. (And one person must remain at all times in the room, his/her connector connected to the remote.)
- If the number of regulars in the resting area falls below 7, Viole wins the game.
- If Viole takes the connector from the Ranker and steals Yeon's room, Viole wins the game.

-Warning-

- While taking the 6 rooms necessary to win the game, the last room taken must be Yeon's room on the top floor.
- You can only use your own connector. (Your names will be displayed on the connectors)
 - If your connector breaks, you'll be disqualified.
- If you press the red and blue buttons together, you'll be accepted into the connected person's team and betray your former teammates.
- Viole's connector that's in the hands of the Ranker can automatically open Yeon's room.

[Season 2] Chapter 12

This is Part 2 Chapter 12,
Thanks to Viole's fast skip,

Looks like we're going to put off Prince vs. Viole for now. T.T
Actually, I didn't really feel like drawing it anyway.

We get to see a humane side of Akraptor.
Lots of people are making theories that Miseng might be Akraptor's real daughter.
This is not true.
But it seems like it's true that Akraptor has (had) a daughter.

I've had a lot of things to do, and working on heavy volumes of content wasn't good for my body and mind.

I feel like it's time to control my condition.

It pains me to say this but the content volume won't rise for some time, T.T

(Of course, that's not to say it's a small amount, haha)

Actually, I wanted to take a week's break before starting this game. ^^;

Even now, I'm continuously fixing and reworking the story.

Don't know if it's because I've gotten old, but every time I plan out a game, it hurts my brain.

Anyways, please look forward to next week ^^

(And fans who are in school, good luck on your tests ^^)

Thank you.

[Season 2] Chapter 13

Akraptor was a man with great paternal love.

...Is this really true? I don't know.

This chapter centered on Miseng and Akraptor's dialogue.

Miseng's parents sent Miseng into the Tower for her future, even though she is so young.

Akraptor lost his daughter and entered the Tower, and he was able to understand the helplessness Miseng's parents felt.

...Probably. I don't know, ^^;

I don't have a daughter -_-;

I just want this chapter to show that both Miseng and Akraptor are filling the emptiness that they both have. Haha.

I hope I was able to convey that well.

On top of other things, I'm pretty bad when it comes to sentimental scenes;;

Hmm... Lately, several readers have been wanting for my manhwa to become "Violet and Company"

But Tower of God isn't that kind of manhwa...

So I can't do that.

Sorry, ^^;

But I'm confident I can still make it enjoyable.

Lastly, I want to thank Mr. Crazy for helping me out.

It's also Each Other's Neighbor request week, so please sign up,
(Although the sheer number so far's been overwhelming; ;)

I'll see you next week,

Thank you~!

[Season 2] Chapter 14

Hmm... There's not much to write...
Lately, I've been going on, half-dead.

The neighbor requests are over 3000,
So it's going to take some time to process them all.
I'm accepting requests until today. ^^

It's really hard to be a good author.
It's been on my mind lately

[Season 2] Chapter 15

I wonder who writes the story of EPL. [\[Link\]](#)
I'm very jealous of that talent.
Looks like what's needed for a fun soccer game isn't a good player or an awesome scene, but drama.
Likewise, what's needed in a fun manhwa is drama above action or comedy.
Looks like I delivered (more so than soccer).

Anyways, the mood of the manhwa will turn around a bit starting this chapter.
It's time to reap the harvest of the plot points scattered here and there,
And it's time for Viole and Wangnan's story to start coming out,
and it's time for people to betray each other left and right.
Something like that.

The one who killed Rapdevil...
The answer's already out there.
If you read the chapters carefully, you'll be able to figure it out ^^;
It's not that hard.

I have my training preparation next week, so the content will be a lot less.
It's been a while since I grabbed a gun.
In the army I was more used to reloading the guns than shooting them, haha.

Anyways, please look forward to next week, and have a good Sunday!

P.S.
I am unable to accept any more neighbor requests because there is apparently a limit.
I didn't know there was a limit.
I'll try to resolve this somehow.

T.T

[Season 2] Chapter 16

Love is a Won Sul Sa.

The Won in Won Sul means "Circle",
It is a Shinsoo Control Technique that involves rotating the Shinsoo in a perfect circle.
When Shinsoo is spun in a circle, it gains greater strength while retaining the same surface and size.

A Won Sul Sa may use Shinsoo as booby traps,
Or, like Love, may throw the Shinsoo as balls or attack with a spinning reinforced body.

Because it takes testing at Gustang's Research Association to receive certification,
There are few people who can perform the Won Sul Sa Position.

Also about Love's "Iron Man" Contract,
It is the Contract of the Mule Family (Love's Family).
When one reaches the limits of his/her body, the contract restores the body.
Simply, it is a Contract that regenerates stamina.
Such a Contract with the Guardian can be earned by a Family's Ranker through a special test.
(TN: It seems that Families can have a special contract with Guardians that give specific bonuses.)

A little disclaimer:
To Viole's Fans, this is the one who attacked Viole.
Not me.
I was just doing some army preparation when this guy hit Viole.

[Season 2] Chapter 17

Rapdevil Revival!!

Ooor not... He was playing dead.
Quite contrary to his appearance...

I wanted to put some superhero music ("Fly Superboard") in the background where Love uses Blue Oar, but couldn't due to copyright issues...
Shame.

I really wanted to do it, at least once (TN: Korean Webtoons sometimes have music embedded within the manhwa, so it actually starts playing when you get to a certain panel/point in the chapter. It's very prominent in another manhwa, Dr. Frost. It's really cool...)

Looks like Yeon is getting bullied again.
Actually, just going by the Regular's power levels, excluding Viole, she's peerless.
In comparison to part 1, she'd be like Androssi.

Getting used at every corner.

Sigh...

That's why mental state is important folks.

The prince.....

Viole turned out to be a talented genius, as expected.

But the fact that he has to get hit once is a bone hurting fact.

(TN: "bone hurting" is an idiom... but also might be referring to something else, wink wink)

Lastly.

Why doesn't the Buddha come to me?

I want to take a break on monday...

Buddha come on!

(In case people are mistaken, my mother is Buddhist)

(TN: It was Buddha's birthday)

The fact that Rapdevil is alive could've been caught by those with keen understanding of the rules.

"A room must have at least one teammate inside."

That part.

[Season 2] Chapter 18

The time that webtoons go up was pulled back a bit.

I'm more comfortable with putting it up by 12...

But I'm not sure how the readers feel about it.

Hmm...

Nia's betrayal had a lot of foreshadowing

So I'm sure a lot of people saw it coming.

I wanted the readers to focus on the drama surrounding the character of Nia

Rather than the foreshadowing or the twists...

So I intentionally put in a considerable amount of foreshadowing.

Honestly, after drawing a chapter like this, I get a lot of strain both physically and mentally.

Of course, the large number of cuts (pages) also play a role

But having to spend a week in a chaos of emotions makes me feel like I'm going crazy.

I'm normally the type to read over and think about what I drew before leaving work,

But I couldn't even look at this chapter.

Although I want to maintain a sense of objectiveness when creating the characters and story,
I too am a human being and get shaken up during emotional scenes.

Anyways, starting with this chapter there's been a few changes to the story.
This game has about 3 chapters left.

After, we'll see the hidden story behind Viole and this test,
Along with the connection to the story from Part 1.
Even though this test seems like it's very trivial,
Within the T.O.G. World, this is a pretty huge incident ^^;;
After this, the Part 1 Characters will start to make their appearances,
And the scale of the story will start to increase.

So please enjoy the remainder of the story.
And take care not to catch a cold (I caught one ; ;)
And have a good week ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 19

...Due to an extended "Netcan" session (drawing with people over the internet),
I thought of writing this tomorrow,
But under duress by a certain someone,
I'll be writing this and heading to bed.
It's an avid reader who's controlling the author.
Very scary.

It's the 100th chapter.

Though it is something I said to the manager over email as well,
I really couldn't even fathom reaching 100 chapters before.
I thought it was merely a number before,
But now that I've completed 100 chapters, I feel great at the thought that I've accomplished something.

Compared to other authors, it's a small number, so it's a bit iffy to say it out loud,
But I would like to sincerely thank the readers who have followed me all the way through.

Despite my inadequate skills, so many people have loved this comic and took an interest in it.

So, I apologize for my lack of skill, feel a heavy burden, and am also grateful.

This chapter's main focus was Nia and Wangnan from the beginning.
Of course, Viole's story was in there too,
And while Viole is the "key" of this incident, he isn't at the center of the plot.

With the beginning of the 2nd part, the question of "who is the protagonist" has been prominent,

But the protagonist isn't strictly set.

Of course, overall, the one that will lead the story will be Baam.
But, Baam isn't necessarily always the protagonist.

I would be grateful if everyone would wait patiently for the story of Baam and the Tower. ^^

Truthfully, I tried to do something for the 100th chapter, but due to a cold... ;;
I tried to at least increase the quantity, but since the next chapter is the climax,
I decided to give it my best next week.

Because, in Tower of God, if this week was short, the next week is long
And if the next week is also short, the next next week is freaking long -- killing the author.

If the chapter is short, something big might happen soon...

Well, you can think of it as something like that. ^^

To those who sent 100th chapter congratulatory fan art,
Thank you very much to all of you.
There were more than a hundred... T.T

They will soon be compiled and put up on the blog.
If there is anyone who doesn't want it published, please mail me ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 20

From the start, this chapter was created around the concept of pairs.

Wangnan - Nia
Arkraptor - Miseng
Horyang - Prince
Viole - Yeon

Like that.
It might seem like there's someone missing,
But that's just in your head.

I don't know if you noticed, but the pairings are actually similar to that of an adult and child.

Perhaps a link between the generations...
Maybe I wanted that type of a story ^^;
Dreams, Challenges, Failures, Life,
Parents, Relationships, Family.
Whichever one of those it was.

Viole and Yeon is a slightly different type of pairing.
Because Viole alone is just too full of melancholy,
A character that acted like cooling medicine was created,
And that character was Yeon.
Although she's strong, she's shaken up wherever she turns...
That kind of concept.

I don't know about films or novels,
But I think manhwas definitely need a character like that.
And in some ways, it's only a character that works in a manhwa.
I like it.

So I said before we're steadily going to connect this part with Part 1.
The game will end in the next chapter
(It will be a hard-to-foresee ending ^^;)
And afterwards will be the Test Epilogue and the connection to Part 1.

We've gotten close to the Part 2 characters,
And Part 1 characters,
And each Family's and FUG's characters will start to come out...

Please don't expect too much!

I also plan on resting after the epilogue.
For about one week.

P.S. This is as of current, the chapter with the most comments in all Webtoons of Naver.

[Season 2] Chapter 21

1.

The webtoon came out early, so the review must be coming out early too!...
That's your mistake.

After seeing the comments on the last chapter, I felt like I was receiving lots of love,

So it gave me a lot of strength even as I worked all night.

I always felt meeting the deadline was a lonely work, but it looks like I was wrong, and you readers were there with me all along.

Of course I'm human too so sometimes I'll make mistakes...

And the thought that one day the love you've shown me will be replaced by criticism weighs heavily on my mind...

But I'll try my best to produce a great manhwa for you all.

Thank you.

My pen feels unusually heavy today.

3.

I won't talk about this week's chapter because the explanations will be found in the next week's chapter. ^^ 4.

There's a limit on Neighbours (서로이웃, Suhroiut; GoDai: Some sort of cafe networking thing SIU uses) so I'm planning to reveal my Neighbours information on the cafe.

Some of the info will still go around among Neighbours.

If I keep blocking I feel like I'll draw a line between me and the readers, so I think I'll decide which information to reveal then transfer right away.

I'll talk about some of the general information concerning Season 2 in next week's afterword.

Thank you.

Blog Post of June 25, 2012, about last chapter's post

I'm posting this because people seem to have misunderstood my intentions.

When Wangnan says that he would forgive Lurker in this chapter,

It's not because Lurker is a good guy or anything.

Many people think I'm forgiving Lurker by beautifying him;

Whatever his past was, I had no plans to beautify his actions in any way.

The reason why Wangnan could not kill Lurker is that in the current situation where people must step on each other to climb up,

Lurker, who killed Nia "because he had to climb the Tower",

Is a more "righteous" human being compared to Wangnan, who was trying to kill Lurker for "moral reasons".

That's why Wangnan couldn't kill him.

It doesn't mean he forgave Lurker because Lurker's a good person ^^;

Even then Wangnan says he'll "forgive" him because Wangnan's trying desperately to keep morality alive in this utterly amoral reality.

Lurker has already abandoned hope in those morals, and that's why he says "You can't forgive me" to Wangnan.

In the end, Wangnan says that if that's the case, he'll change the Tower himself.

Although this is information that will be briefly discussed in the next chapter, it is a part that many people are misunderstanding,

So I have written this on my blog in fear that I may be sending the wrong message to young readers.

Every time I draw manhwa, there are many times when I feel the limits of my own skills of presentation.

I will try harder to send a more proper message, even if just a little more.

Thank you.

[Season 2] Chapter 22

The resting period is one week.

My comment wasn't properly posted,

But since I sent the person in charge a text, it'll be changed soon.

And my least favorite character came out.

It's difficult to draw him and the plot gets complicated whenever he's in it.

Ao (frustration), I hate you.

Well, [Koon], if some kind of merchandise comes out,

I think you'll sell out the most, so I love you.

'Gusgus being a FUG member' has been decided from the beginning.

Mm... it was actually planned to be foreshadowed when Love reports in,

Thinking that [Viole] is a girl but 'Gusgus refers to him as a guy in his reply;

However, I thought that would have made it too obvious so I decreased the foreshadowing.

In fact, I'm tired of dragging out time using foreshadowing so...;

Well... in a case such as this test,

Wangnan Team formed + FUG conspiracy is the core content.

I'll take a week break, and the plot will begin to really connect with Part 1 starting from next chapter.

I think the plot will flow towards a direction none of you expected, haha.

The reason for this hiatus being [only] one week is because after this arc and the next arc,

There is a pretty long arc, so I plan to take another break before then. ^^

In a way, I think it'll be the best arc so far out of both Part 1 and Part 2,

So even I want to see it soon.

Then everyone, see you after two weeks~!

P.S.

I was thinking of writing this but it seems I actually didn't do it.

The reason Yeon could join Wangnan's team is because Prince and Yeon were originally one team.

They formed a team after Viole left, and if you pay close attention, Prince says that they are "on the same team" when he hands over the soft drink to her.

That is also the reason why Yeon could leave her room. ^^

To be more concise, in a situation where Yeon-Prince-Rapdevil formed one team,

After Horyang eliminated Rapdevil and got Yeon-Prince to join his side, Tin's room was stolen using Wangnan's connector, so they won the test.

In this chapter's case, I reduced the explanation of the game to the absolute minimum and put all my focus into emphasizing the feelings of the characters,

So you have to read into the details to discover what is being foreshadowed by the game. ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 23

Koon came out. It's been a while.
Rachel appeared in one scene too, haha.

The story will really begin in next week's chapter...

Mm...

Well... You'll know when you see it...
I have a near-complete original copy that I really want to show you.
Despite that, I hope you can wait a week.
I'm a pro so I can't show you unless you give me money.
Not the skill of a pro, but the mind of a pro!!

Anyway, after this episode, gradually you'll get the feeling of:
"Ah, so the manhwa will flow in that direction."
If not, nevermind.

What's for sure is that it'll get better and better.
I think this is the most important thing.

[Season 2] Chapter 24

Where is this manhwa flowing to?
What is the genre of this manhwa...

Mm...

I'm not sure either.
I thought this chapter was Love and War.

Many people think the current time is 5 years after the end of Part 1 because of the prologue,

But it's actually 6 years later.

Also, 6 years is not a long time in the Tower.

To us it's about 1~2 years?

There are fewer days in the year and people live longer, so time feels different.
As people become rankers, the difference in their perception of time gets even bigger.

There is a post about time
(I think I posted it about a year ago;),
But there's a slight spoiler in it so it's unrevealed.
Only I can see it.
I'll reveal it later.

The Koon arc and the next arc actually have more reveals about Part 1 than battle scenes.

I guess that's good news for people who like story reveals.

I already told you that once the next two arcs are done there'll be one big arc.

Haha, I think the stuff you've been expecting are all mostly there.

Looks like it'll be fun.

.....If you won an electric fan, please send me a mail...

[Season 2] Chapter 25

Knot of Wool has ended.

I pondered on how to draw this chapter a lot.

Above all else, I had to draw so that even young readers could understand the relationships between Koon and Rachel, and Baam as well,
And that was a difficult problem...

I think I often run into my limits when I try to solve you readers' problems 'easily'.

Koon Eduan's name was finally mentioned in this chapter,
And I think the day when we'll see the faces of the 10 Family Heads isn't that far away.

However, that doesn't mean they'll all appear at once and go 'We are the 10 Heads!!
Tadah!!' or anything like that.

Next arc, stories about FUG will come out and Viole will appear again...

Next chapter isn't that long either.

This arc had few action scenes, so even if it's just for fun,
I plan to increase the importance of action scenes in the next arc.

It's the Olympics these days so I often tune in to the games when I'm working.
And then I get too focused on them so I can't work (...)
And then thanks to those damned monkey magic referees I'm even more unable to work (...)

So I have decided to not watch, and just check the results.... ㄸ ㄸ

However, I am always cheering them on in my heart.
National athletes waiting~!

[Season 2] Chapter 26
Hwa Ryun came out.

Because I haven't drawn [her] for a month, drawing the Wangnan team, I struggled
(...)

This arc is planned to proceed in the format of Present + Reflection on the past.
Of course I can't tell you what will happen,
But it seems information on FUG and Viole's past will be revealed sooner than you all think.

But actually, my thoughts on story progression speed differ greatly from what you readers think,
So I can't guarantee anything ^^;;

Personally, I find it difficult to get into the minds of characters like Yihwa,
Maybe because of that, there is a slight awkwardness to her dialogue and actions.
It could be my limits as a male artist..
I will try but it seems it is not an easy problem to solve.

The weather is hot in Korea so watch your health.
See you next week ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 27

The moment Viole's bangs get out of the way, he transforms into Baam.
Viole, the world's first haircut transformation magic girl.

.....

Just kidding.

Actually, my condition was the worst while drawing this chapter --
I had headaches due to the heat and I was low on energy.
I was working on the plot but I couldn't think of anything as my mind blanked out.
After I grabbed my notepad and got a grip on my mind, it was already 3 days to the deadline kekekekeke.

In the end, I couldn't sleep and had two nosebleeds...
It was truly the worst experience.

To Mr. Global Warming, who gave me this experience,
I want to send a Siberian mountain-sized fuck-you. ^^

I was considering taking a week's break for the sake of work,
But it hadn't been very long since I took a week's break (...)

So I ended up drawing the rough copy like a company worker who had to write his yearly report at a bad time haha.

I'll end my personal ranting there.

(One day I shall get sick and take a break.)

In this chapter, I revealed the reason why FUG approached Baam,
Although it's something you would've noticed if you read carefully.
In shorter words,

'Due to a contract with the Guardians, Zahard cannot be killed unless you are an Irregular.'

Ha Jinsung, who appeared in this chapter, is from the Ha Family.
In terms of the family tree, he is waaaaaaaay above Yuri.
As expected from a Ha Family member, he is good at martial arts and is very strong.
Haha.
Actually, besides Regulars, only people with permits can enter the Regulars' district.
Hwa Ryun was only able to enter and bring Ha Jinsung along because she is a special Guide;
Rankers and High Rankers are actually forbidden from associating with Regulars.
Of course, FUG is a random bunch so they don't care about the rules. ^^

Actually, I was going to throw all the past events into the next chapter,
But it looked like most of you readers wanted a speedy advancement in plot, so it looks like I'll include just a little bit of reflection on the past and focus on the Wangnan team.
In fact my condition is bad these days, so the length of chapters may decrease.
Then, please read and love the chapter next week too, and I must go to sleep.

[Season 2] Chapter 28

The FUG arc ended.

Actually, I was planning to continue this into the next test in this arc,
But I thought the arc would be too long
(I thought it would be difficult to get some length out of this)
So I divided it into two arcs. I think this next test will be short and powerful (...). ^^
I'm expecting about 6-7 chapters, but I'm not sure.

Although I'm sure you have realized if you read this arc,
The story of Tower of God actually revolves around the 10 Families and Zahard's past ^^;

Why FUG is trying to kill Zahard,

How Zahard became the King of the Tower,
Why Mirchea Luslec wanted to make Baam a slayer,

All of these will be revealed one by one. (+As well as stuff about Zahard's princesses)
I'm thinking these will be explained over a long period of time in Parts 3 and 4 ^^

Karaka made an appearance. (Although that was just a silhouette) Karaka is a character that will appear often in Part 2.
Of course, by often, I mean often for a Ranker ^^;;

Next test, a pretty interesting character will appear.
It's fine to anticipate that character, since I'm expecting many readers to take an interest in the character.

Honestly, this test is nothing but ground bait for the next arc. Haha.
I think you're feeling the scale grow bigger and bigger.
And the bigger the scale gets, the more I die (...)

I must complete the story before I die TT TT

Character Guide

I opened the post on Mirchea Luslec to the public.
If you're curious, please take a look.

[Season 2] Chapter 29

I don't have much to say,
And anything I say will probably end up as a spoiler...

I get a lot of questions about Part I and Part II characters,
But as I've been telling you since a long time ago,
Tower of God is a manhwa that switches main characters every arc.
It has a slightly different plot style from most other shounen (shounen) battle themed comics,
So please understand, even if it's a little uncomfortable.

By the same principle,
Wangnan's team members from Part II aren't completely the main characters either.
It takes a long time to climb the Tower,
And no one knows what might happen on the way ^^;
Actually, the chances of a Regular becoming a Ranker are smaller than the chances of winning a lottery.
Many Regulars fall, but someone always goes up.

Mmm...
The character who appeared at the end of the chapter...
I can't tell you much yet,
But he's an idiot among idiots.

[Season 2] Chapter 30

If you want to see that guy's face,
You're gonna have a tough time, haha

In this chapter, we briefly saw some techniques that utilize Lighthouses;
Actually, those were originally planned to appear in the first battle scene with Viole.
They were left out for story flow, but as I told you in the beginning of Part 2,
The characters in Part 2 are all Regulars who've climbed up to the 20th floor or higher,

So their skills aren't that useless.
If you look at their average skill levels, the Part 2 characters are obviously better ^^.

As the story develops, battles that utilize positions, such as combinations like Light-Spear Bearer and Scout-Fisherman will come out one by one,
So I think for those of you who are anticipating battle scenes,
It'd be more fun if you read while focusing on these parts ^^.

I think that many of you will correctly guess the identity of the Pink Pig that appeared in this episode.

Starting from this arc, the center of the story will begin to move from Wangnan to Viole.

Also, I think the story will begin to move into the central plot at the same time.

P.S.

Many readers seem to think that I have no greed for money, possibly due to the thing with the Audio Drama last time,
But I actually have a huge greed for money, and I have a lot of thoughts about making money with Tower of God.
However, I'm only going to make money when the method and the deal are right.
I'm extremely selfish and dogmatic when it comes to copyright.
I also believe this is an obvious attitude for any artist.

(The work for the book is only getting delayed,
And I've already made the contract. ^^)

P.S.2

Also, I'm hoping that no more bad talk about the Audio Drama will come out.
Although I did end up posting an article like that because it turned out this way,
I have no plans to disturb those people's futures, and I instead want to encourage them.

Of course there was a mistake in terms of how it was done, but it's alright as long as they don't do it again.

Of course, I would be thankful if the rest of you Voice Story people be careful and give some thought into this as well.

Then, I also hope that you'll all encourage and listen to VS' next Audio Drama.
I will no longer post on this matter,

And I hope no more talk about this will show up on the café or anywhere else.
Thank You.

[Season 2] Chapter 31

Hello, this is SIU.

I think many readers will expect an afterword, so I'm posting this.

A close friend passed away so I think it'll be difficult for me to write an afterword. I've always tried to draw manhwa and greet you guys with a smile on my face, even if personal things happened, but today that's not so easy for me. Sorry.

I'll return with a brighter appearance after I sort out my feelings. ^^

Thank you for always cheering me on.

[Season 2] Chapter 32

I had planned out for the chapter to be longer at first, but a lot of things happened so we couldn't finish in time. I'm very disappointed as well. Apologies.

Hmm... the hip hop boy that recently came out received a good response, although I was wondering if it was ok to send out such a guy... haha

The character is revealed more in the later chapters, so just don't mind this chapter too much and just please accept him as he is. ^^

Because of hip hop boy (...) I got a lot of questions about the 10 gaju, and one of them is coming out on the next episode.

Please look forward to it... and you'll be disappointed so let's not do that.

As I've informed you, this chapter is not very long. But because of this we might have a very Long chapter soon.

I heard the typhoon was coming, so please achieve that day off from school... jk.

Take care of your homes, and I hope it won't be too much trouble for you.

Thank You.^^

PS.

Right now, Zygaena's flipped his body again.

You can tell if you look at Mazino's position from when he first appeared ~hehe

[Season 2] Chapter 33

Hip-hop boy is the most searched word...
[It was Naver's most searched on the released day.]

People...

Seriously...

I really can't understand your tastes.
Do you love nipples or something.

Well anyway, this chapter was actually a compressed form of 1.5 chapters,
So I deeply regretted my decision of not taking a break last week and cried tears of blood...

I actually thought about extending it to 2 chapters,
But that would make the story waaay too slow, so I just went ahead with this.
Besides, even if I make the battle scene longer, all we would get is the hip-hop boy doing windmills...
So I just worked while on the verge of becoming a zombie...

My assistant Sweet Pea, who helped me a bit with coloring last chapter, Helped me greatly by coloring most of this chapter.
Of course, we're all people obsessed with pay and beef,
But I would like to thank Sweet Pea once again for taking on work even in the most difficult of times.
Please cheer on ^^
Although we do work by taking parts like this, basic coloring is just literally filling the page up with color,
So it doesn't affect the style of the drawing, or the end result. ^^
Rather, it gives me more time to work on the main thing and increases the chances of the end result being better,

So you don't need to worry about that.

Starting from next chapter, we'll be wrapping up this arc, and then I'll take a short break.

After that, we'll slowly cross over onto the much-anticipated BIG arc.
Please look forward to it, and have a nice week ^^

P.S.

Although some of you may have noticed,
Urek is a bluff addict.
It's terminal.

On top of that, he's actually super strong, so there's no way to fix it, either...

[Season 2] Chapter 34

I wonder if you're having a nice Chuseok.

{Korean holiday, a bit similar to Thanksgiving.}

After a tour of the main house (house of the eldest son of the family) and greeting guests, I went straight back to work... Holidays are very brutal days for webtoon artists. This is the first time I've disliked longer holidays (...)

Well... Anyway,

This chapter is a seriousness+comedy chapter.

From the beginning, the Part 2 characters' concepts were "Ordinary but charming after a while", so I strongly encourage you readers to find a kind of charm in characters that look like vegetable salesmen.

Who knows. They might give you lettuce or radishes once in awhile...

Besides that, it seems Baam is popular wherever he goes.

Yeon's cooking... gets burned before you can decide whether it's good or bad.

Very crispy.

Then, please enjoy what's left of your holiday, and I hope you eat a lot of Chuseok food too ^^

Haengsho~ (Be Happy)

[Season 2] Chapter 35

Finally, the first storyline of Season 2 has ended.

As previewed, the second season is divided into a few large storylines, and within them, smaller arcs.

The next story will be based on the Workshop. Simply put, it's a gathering of the engineers who make items. Because it is in the middle area, the next story will slowly reveal the middle area as well ^^.

Because the flow of time is so long in Tower of God, 1 or 2 years might seem as if it's nothing, and that's true.

To regulars, 1 or 2 years isn't that great of a time period. Actually, after they have become E-rank regulars, there are plenty of those who hippity hop play around 3-40 years until they take the test again.

Karaka was originally set to not appear with a mask but ^^; Since there has been so many new faces these days, I've decided

'Hey, you should be mysterious', so he came out as one who was 'pissed at Ha Jinsung and wore a mask...' So I edited the scene in which he appears in the previous chapter. The face will eventually be shown as intended, so don't worry too much. Hehe.

Because of this chapter, I'm sure many people will start saying "Isn't Wangnan's ring a novelty toy?" "Isn't Karaka's ring a novelty toy?" But... well, if you watch a bit longer, you'll find out.^^.

Actually, after finishing this chapter, I planned to take a break, but after talking to Naver, making some in-between stories before taking a break would make more sense, so I've decided to do so. So, 2 in-between chapters, break-->Main story. I think I'll do it like that^^

I plan to make the in-between stories more relaxed, but I'll also be trying to give the chapters that all of you want, so please enjoy them. ^^

Then, see you next week~

P.S.

Leesoo changed clothes. If you look closely, there is a subtle difference. I did what I could for Leesoo.

[Season 2] Chapter 36

I thought about the many things that I could do with this chapter, and I decided that I wanted to show more of the relationship between FUG and Viole; so, I chose to draw Viole's past for this extra chapter. I hope I explained things that I didn't adequately explain in the main series.

I become very annoyed whenever I draw a character whom I haven't drawn for a long time; but interestingly, I don't feel that way when I draw Baam. Perhaps it's because he's the character whom I'm most used to drawing.

There's something that many readers misunderstand. Baam's talent is definitely amazing, but it's not 'matchless.' He has weaknesses as well ^^ FUG didn't capture Baam because of his talent, but rather due to his Irregular title. This means that they chose the side with the slightest possibility.

I think the Workshop Battle will maintain a bright mood, so I talked about a darker (...) story before it. My heart aches to put the main character through so much suffering.

Actually,

I tried planning out concepts for things like four-cell cartoons, short anecdotes, and parody scene; however, I felt that it's not what most readers want, so I decided to put them aside.

Next week, a comedy with the characters who played comic relief roles in Part 1 will take off. Though, I'm just calling it a comedy, and it probably won't be that funny (...) I hope you enjoy it^^

"I'll return after 2 years'... I mean 2 weeks' break. ^^ Thank you for always cheering me on."

During the crossover from Part I to Part II, as well as during the end of Completing Fences, I didn't get much rest because I was busy planning for the following arcs, so I was thinking that I'd take a few months break, work on some other stuff, do a lot of preparations, and above all, rest as much as I needed and come back...

ke

Where is my dreamlike break...

Anyway, see you soon.

Thank you~

Um... I thought about many things as I composed the story this time. I don't think I should tell you much when you've only seen the prologue, but in any case, I contemplated many things, and I haven't concluded anything yet. ^^;

Right now, I think I'm going through some 'growing pains' as an artist. But I think that these pains are proof of the fact that I'm taking my work seriously, so in a way I'm happy as well.

I've become used to social networks by consistently using Me2day and using Twitter here and there. (Although from today onwards, I think it'll be difficult for me to use them often.) And I tried to integrate my feelings from my social networking experience into my work. You've probably already noticed that 'chatting' will play an extremely important role in this arc.

I just began, but the rating is so low haha. I'll take it as an encouragement for me to work harder. But I really like this chapter T_T

Then, please enjoy the upcoming story ^^

See you next week~^

[Season 2] Chapter 39

It's just because he got a little gloomier (...) in Part 2,
But from the original plot, Koon is very mischievous, adventurous, and curious...
If there's something like that, he just tries it out...

That's his style.

It's just because he doesn't have anyone to do these things with in Part 2.

Emile, as a system, is essentially an evolved version of the "Shimshimee" app.

It's a system that asks and answers,
But Emile also has the amazing ability to analyze and absorb information ^^
The truth behind Emile will probably be revealed in the latter half of the arc.

As shown in this chapter, Dan is the fastest member of Koon's team.

(However, Ran has greater mobility in battle ^^;)

As you guessed, Ran is from the Koon family.

I get a lot of questions asking if Novick is from the Ha Family, but he's not.
He's from a Family that split off from the Ha Family.

This arc is relatively long, so it'll be better if you read it with a relaxed attitude as opposed to a hasty one.

There are many issues to be resolved in this arc,
So instead of messing it up hastily, I plan to do this slowly and properly, haha.

Please look forward to next week as well~

Thank you~

[Season 2] Chapter 40

This chapter looks like it doesn't have much plot, right?
Correct. Not much plot.

A few readers told me that after coming into Part 2,
The story unravelling quickly and the scale of events getting bigger does make it fun,
But it also makes it complicated and difficult to follow,
So you can see this chapter as an attempt to control the rate of plot development.

Thanks to that, it seems to have become a chapter with a traditional pattern and fun.
Two new characters were introduced, so there's a need to get used to them as well haha.

Well... the story will fly in a direction you'd have never expected next week (...)
So I think it's okay to take a rest this week.

Quaetro Blitz, who was introduced in this chapter, is from the same family as Quant (Blitz Family).

Many people misunderstand due to Quant's reputation,
But the Blitz family is famous for producing Blaze Wielders.
The downside is that there are many retards...

You could say that Chang Blarode is an A-Rank Fisherman amongst the correct
E-Rank Regulars.

These two characters will have recurring roles.
(Quaetro's gender will be revealed later. Haha)

This arc will be strongly focused on battles between Regulars, so those of you who like Regulars will happily enjoy the read.
Then, please look forward to next week.
I'm gonna go eat some chicken.

P.S.

Just because you have more Baangs, it doesn't necessarily mean you're stronger ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 41

This is season 2 chapter 41 of Tower of God.

Well... Some of you may be wondering why the plot is suddenly going off on a tangent, but in fact, the story of the Devil of the Right Arm links to the Workshop Battle. Of course, Horyang is a character that is related to the Workshop.

Starting next chapter, the story of the Devil of the Right Arm will begin, and I think it'll flow naturally to the Workshop Battle. ^^

Well, I can't say anything big because we're beginning, but I guess this is the beginning of the meeting of the Regular Teams, perhaps? Ah, this arc is related to the thing inside Viole's body, to some degree haha.

Starting next week, the manhwa will probably proceed with a focus on the story instead of battles for a few chapters, but I'm not sure if I'll be able to do a good job. In fact, it's also what I want to be the best at, and I think it's the thing that a manhwa artist must be best at. I want to keep challenging new things even if I have to fail a little.

Also, the weather is cold, so stay healthy. See you next week ~

[Season 2] Chapter 42

The Devil of the Right Arm arc has begun.
I don't think this arc will be very long.
It leads to the workshop battle anyway;;

Horyang's earlier reaction to the lobster and his way of talking Implies that he knows more about it than others...
For those of you who read more carefully, it may have been a predictable storyline,
haha.

Ignition Weapons (especially the Thirteen Months) play a big role later on,
So I think I'll explain them to some degree in the Workshop Battle and move on.
Of course, it's a little early for them to make their appearance. ^^

Instead of thinking that all ignition weapons have souls,
It's probably more accurate to say that they're created using a special kind of Shinsoo.

As for the creation process, that'll come as the story develops... haha.

If the final content of Part 1 was the portrayal of the Tower's already existing powers
And of how one has no choice but to obey the laws of the Tower, Part 2 as a whole is planned to portray becoming independent from those laws and powers,
So I would appreciate it if you read with a focus on that aspect. ^^

I heard it's exam period, so students, please have strength,
And I hope you all get good results.
Thank you~ See you next week~

[Season 2] Chapter 43

Now I feel like the team assembly is almost done and the real story of the Regulars will begin. haha

About Baam's power-up (...) at the end of Part 1, it seems that many readers thought it was a natural result of Baam's talent and ingenuity so they didn't find it suspicious.
It seems you underestimated me...

If Horyang takes out the Devil, he's incredibly strong.
Among the Regulars, there are not many who can beat Horyang in that state in terms of raw power.
Of course, there are few problems, too. Haha

When I just began Part 2,
I had to start all over so it was very tough and I know many readers also felt very uncomfortable, but now the story is becoming focused and more than anything, the characters have found their places, so I think I'll be able to truly progress the story of the Regulars ^^

I hope the hardship I underwent was worth it.

Please be careful with the cold going around~
See you next week~

[Season 2] Chapter 44

So Horyang and Ran met.

Actually, I was considering complicating the plot to make it unclear whether they would run into each other or not, but I just decided that it was unnecessary and just went ahead with it.

Because I wanted to focus on team Wangnan's family-like mood from the beginning, you may feel that this has a different feeling from 'teams' seen in the typical sonyun (shounen) Manhwas. Rather than gathering to fight, they are growing closer to each other after travelling together ...;

On top of that, it's a team with a great variety of age and gender. The reason Wangan team seemed to be 'lacking' is probably that although they feel like a family, they are still hiding their pasts and affiliations from each other.

Compared to that, team Koon is a little different. In a way, they are the standard 'team' you see in Sonyeon manhwas. Haha.

Expect that no matter what way the two teams meet, they'll have good synergy.
Haha. Now that I look at it, tomorrow is Christmas Eve. Everyone, please enjoy a Merry Christmas with your friends and family ^^

[Season 2] Chapter 45

It's busy now that it's the end of the year. T_T
Now that I've had plenty to play, I think that if I don't focus and work, Something terrible will happen. Hehe.

I had a bit of difficulty with the length of this chapter because of mixed orders.
I tried to make it a bit longer, but accidentally blew one of the files in the middle ^^;;
In the end, I resorted to a shorter chapter in order to deliver.

To meet the new year, I've also changed the thumbnail ---
Actually, with the new arc, I thought of changing it ---
But somehow only got to change it now. ^^
I'll probably change the thumbnail here and there during the 2nd volume.
You see, I like changing these things.

From the next chapter onwards, story development will be on fire.
Then, with the closing of the new year ^^
See you next year~

P.S. I'll be sure to upload the gossip next year. Hehe.

[Season 2] Chapter 46

I trusted Google Translate, but I'm not sure about How it turned out. I tried to use the shortest sentence, so I tested a bunch of things and that's what I got. Putting the grammar and what-not beside, I hope I successfully delivered the message of "You fell into my trap" correctly. I asked a friend overseas, and they can easily understand what it means. A foreigner got it too, so I'm sure it'll be fine...

Actually, as I was drawing this chapter, I felt that many elements may become ignored or criticized for being pointless because many people focus on 'Baam and Koon's reunion', but I think I ended up adding far fewer of those than expected.

...but still, the focus of this arc is Horyang and Cassano... TT

Please give them some attention too.

Anyway, Cassano made his appearance, and The Devil of the Right Arm arc is entering its latter half. As I've been saying for a while now, this arc is like an opening for the Workshop Battle arc, (You'll probably see why I've been saying this at the end of this arc) but I've also prepared things that will bring many changes to the story ^^ so

I hope you enjoy it as much as possible.

Thank you-

See you next week~!

[Season 2] Chapter 47

Since the first scene where Cassano appears, it seems that I've been unable to breath through my nose...

Actually, I've been so confused about Cassano and Horyang's lefts and rights since Cassano came out that I keep drawing and checking and fixing;;

It seems I wasn't educated properly in kindergarten.;;;

The Mashechnny-style Lightning Spear Technique that Ran uses is a Lightning Style Technique invented by Maschenny Zahard, who made an appearance a while ago.

It's a technique that turns Shinsoo into a spear, so it grants the advantage of being able to take the Spear Bearer position without being armed with spears.

(Compared to ordinary shinsoo manipulation techniques, Lightning Spear Techniques are much faster and have higher accuracy.)

As it allows one to participate in both short- and long-range battles, it is considered to be one of the 'ultimate spear techniques'.

The Maschenny-style Lightning Spear Technique is only passed down in Maschenny's branch of the Koon Family,

(in Ran's case, due to the Lightning Spear Technique, his ranking as a Spear Bearer is higher than his ranking as a Fisherman.)

However, after becoming a Ranker, it is very difficult to take on the role of a professional Spear Bearer with the Lightning Spear Technique alone.

(Because the level of other Spear Bearers becomes that much higher)

So later on, they're used more as support in close-range battles...

In Maschenny Zahard's case, her lightning Spear Technique is faaaaar stronger than a usual High Ranker's spear technique.

In other words, if you have Maschenny on your team, it's the same thing as having another High Ranker-level Spear Bearer on your Team.

Of course, the only person who can use the Maschenny-style
Lightning Spear Technique so proficiently is Maschenny Zahard herself ^^;

It's been a long time since I talked so much about the setting.

Please look forward to next week as well^^

ps 1.

Ran's technique has a letter missing.

it's 'espada'.

I couldn't check because it was sideways.

I'll fix it tomorrow

ps 2.

Koon's Armor Inventory is an Item that has a 'level limit' on it.

It can only be used in places above a certain level.

[Season 2] Chapter 48

I had to think a lot about appearances in this chapter.

I put Koon's search side-by-side with Horyang's battle to intensify Koon's situation, but it was really difficult because I wasn't used to it.

I've come to respect film editors.

It feels like the more I draw chapters, the more scary and difficult it becomes to try new things.

I'm wondering if the moment that an artist gives up on trying new things is the moment the style of an artist is established, haha.

Because of the sudden twist in the plot after Cassano's appearance,

I'm worried that the content may have gotten shoddy.

So I also added a long battle scene in the middle.

Of course, they'll all be resolved later, but I'm also wondering if there was a better way to do this.

Every time I ponder these things, I feel that I still lack experience.

I received a big award this week.

I actually wasn't expecting it;; So I hadn't given it much thought, but I was informed by many that I had been awarded.

When I first heard the news, I was more taken aback and bewildered than happy, so I wasn't sure what to say...

I think I received the award not because I'm a great artist, but because you guys are award-worthy readers.

I'll try hard to one day become an artist who isn't embarrassed of receiving so much attention and love.

Thank you.^^

ps.

I think my comment caused confusion this chapter.

Apple is capable of being both Scout and Light Bearer.

Ran is on the Fisherman Position, but he's also capable of taking on the role of Spear Bearer, and Prince carries around Fisherman equipment.

One is not limited to one Position.

We've seen Apple actually use a Lighthouse, and I think some readers may have been confused

as I hadn't put this information in the chapters.

I sometimes think that I put in some content that I may have not explained before, and I guess this chapter was one of those times^^

I'll fix the comment so that there's no confusion.

[QC Note: We incorporated SIU's comment that he mentions here into a TL note in the chapter.]

I'll be careful next week~!

[Season 2] Chapter 49

This is Volume 2, Chapter 49 where Novick's Hayeol Style has been corrected to Crimson Bell Technique instead of what was miswritten as Crimson Soul Technique

[tCNote: this is a translation of SIU's words! Not a comment by us]

Novick's image... is a bit like that. Strong and powerful.

As you found out while reading this chapter, a light bearer + wave controller makes a very good combo. If you just control the lighthouses well, it increases the number and amount of shinsoo, and above all, they become an opponent without a blind spot.

Koon's name comes from the football (soccer) player Sergio Leonel "Kun" Agüero del Castillo, so the Koon's family's hair and color, as well as mask color, follows the scheme of Argentina's flag (blue), with the blue base. And so the Koon's family skills were also set in Spanish, but... because I don't know anyone who speaks Spanish I ended up working with Google Translator for it (...)

If there's anyone who can speak Spanish well, I would appreciate an email. Hehehe

As a forenote, there isn't much to write-

Though I say it often, this chapter is a bridge to the next chapter, so instead of expecting everything to be solved in this chapter, I hope you think of it as the beginning of something.

Thank you-

[tCNote: We knew it was "Kun" and not Koon for some time now, but for consistency's sake, we keep the double O version . Do you think we should adapt to "Kun"? This also enters a bit of a slippery slope as we know the actual spelling of many characters. But there's a fair chance many of you will rage at some of the actual names, as some of them are borderline offensive to native english speakers and /or odd to pronounce...]

[Season 2] Chapter 50

It was difficult to write the dialogue for this chapter. The conversation between Koon and Baam was everything for this chapter... I had to keep their characteristics alive while still allowing the reader to feel their changed situations... I needed that feeling, but it was difficult... Even though I am still only learning, I feel that I am very lacking in emotional parts. Do I have to get older... Well I think things like that too.

Xia Xia was this story's dark horse.

She's on a rampage.

Just in case you get the wrong idea,
I don't even have a LoL ID hahaha I've only borrowed my friend's ID and played a couple of games with bots. But it was too fun. So I couldn't make an ID.
I'll make an account when I'm on a break...
I get a lot of questions about the gossip that I began in good spirit, but there's been so much change to the story these days that it's a little risky to write gossip; I'll continue after the situation clears up to some degree. And gossip is something I write when I feel like it, not an obligation in any way. (I think you guys know what this is, kind reader have been posting translations on the forums. The most recent gossip involved Urek appearing on SNSD's 'I Got A Boy' album cover, of course.)

[Season 2] Chapter 51

The fact that this chapter came out on Lunar New Year is completely coincidental... this is why I wanted to do a special chapter...

Actually, I don't think working on Lunar New Year is very difficult. I don't have my own household and I work at home, so I don't have to move around much on this holiday. However, there are many other manhwa artists who need a big rest, so I hope releasing chapters doesn't become a huge burden for them.

Starting from this chapter, the courses of characters will gradually change. I've said this once before, but I have no intention of starting the Workshop Battle arc with a dark mood. I think that won't happen, probably. Haha.

Then, please enjoy the rest of your holiday, and I'll see you again when I'm fatter. ^^

P.S.

There's a popularity contest proceeding on the fan cafe. Please participate~

P.S.2

Please refrain from spamming comments on other webtoons.

[There was a time when some immature fans spammed 'Rachel's fault' on every webtoon.]

[Season 2] Chapter 52

If you look in the previous chapter, you can see Viole's pocket flying off. Although Lighthouses can be used as Pocket during emergencies, they don't have the same level of simultaneous translation functionality that Pockets have. It is more of a symbolism problem than a function problem. A Pocket, in a way, is a kind of 'license' that confirms one's status as a Regular.

Actually, last chapter and this chapter were both due on Lunar New Year holidays. I spread them out out so I would be able to avoid taking a break, so I hope you to understand ^^ I'm thinking that I'll be returning to the normal chapter length next week.

The Workshop Battle story will properly begin next week, and within one or two months, all the Regulars will have gathered for the Workshop Battle. Right now, although I'm painstakingly preparing the games that will be in the Workshop Battle , I'm actually getting some good ideas, so even I'm anticipating it ^^

Also, there's a Character Popularity Vote taking place on the Fan Cafe, so I hope many of you participate.

Now that the seasons are changing, please be careful to not catch a cold.

See you next week

[Season 2] Chapter 53

I had some work to do, so my post was late.

It took a while, but Season 1 characters are back at last.

You will have to wait before seeing them in action,
but you won't be disappointed.

As for why Rak and Koon broke up, that will come out later.

Koon is a person who has acted as an 'adult' since he was really little.

So deep down, a part of him wants to go back to being a 'child' even though he grew up.

That is the irony Koon has.

As an author, I try to keep attention whenever drawing him.

About Koon, he will be displayed more in the Koon family episode which is soon to come.

So right now see him as seen. (Couldn't translate here well... But I think I got important points.)

During the first draft, many of the Part 1 characters would have been changed.

But as lots of people love them, I decided to let as many live as possible. ^^;

Frankly, Tower of God was really hardcore when it began.

Such things were softened as it was published.

So mental breaking won't show up much (He used a slang here, can't think of a good way to translate it.)

Have a nice week.

Thank you~

[Season 2] Chapter 54

Become Thorns~ That piece~ Into me~

[tCNotes: The above is a continuation of BUzz's song, "Thorn"]

In this chapter, Koon and Wangnan shook hands.

[tCNotes: In Korean "hold hands" also usually directly refers to "team up"]

In fact, there wasn't much content, but it was a chapter that was impossible (...) to draw briefly. It may have been a boring chapter for those too lazy to read...;; But I think when I'm coming up with the story or releasing the chapter, these chapters are the most difficult.

It seems that the teams participating in the Workshop have been pretty much decided, and it looks like Koon will have to work quite hard. Will Team Wangnan be able to take on so many other teams teeming with uber-strong characters (...)

Please look forward to it.

Then, to the students who are facing the doom of the beginning of another school year and to the workers who are facing Monday, I will once again run toward my deadline.

See you next week~

[Season 2] Chapter 55

This was part 2 Chapter 55.

For the past few weeks, I had been drawing chapters to link the two arcs, but I think I concluded it today.

Tower of God is one of those manhwas that have a very low occurrence of pattern repetition. On every floor a new background, a new game, and a new story are introduced, and human relationships (teams) change fluidly. Although these chapters slow down the plot progression, I think they're necessary in Tower of God's case.

So I think the story will really start moving along next chapter. Of course, the Workshop Battle will be an arc full of different characters (haha) so I'm wondering how I should split up the chapters.

Actually, my wrist hasn't been so well so I'm considering taking a break, but I think I'll just keep going for now.

Then, please look forward to next chapter too~

I hope you spend a fun week.

Thank you.

[Season 2] Chapter 56

Traveler finally showed up.
He can be said to be the key person of this episode.
There are some comments about Bleach, but like I said before, I don't read that comic;

Until now, the story was mainly about Wangnan's team.
However, really important stuffs will come from Viole's team.

These days, it seems the story got a bit loose when I tried to tell lots of tales at once.
From now on, I'll follow the main storyline, even if that makes it a bit slower.
Although at some point, I must ignite the speed (go fast) ^^;
Thank you~
