

PUBLIC SPEAKING

I started doing radio with friends many years ago, when I was around 17. I loved it, so I kept on doing it for a few years. I never lost my passion for public speaking and thankfully I had the chance to carry this on several occasions, both as guest and as moderator. I worked with brands, institutions and independent publications in order to speak publicly in talks and panels and bring culture together with my experiences and the ones of the other guests involved.
