

ANIMAL BEHAVIOR

Ethology – Study of animal behavior.

What's the study of human behavior called?

Communication is the transfer of information from sender to receiver.

Why do we communicate with others?

Convey information, meet others and make friends, get our needs met, defend self or others.

How do you communicate with others?

Talking, singing, yelling, facial expressions, body posture, writing, art and dance.

What animal(s) sing? Whales, birds, siamangs.

What animal makes music? Crickets

What animal dances? Bees

What animal gets dressed up to get a date? Peacock

Communication can be Verbal (speaking) and Nonverbal (Displays, posturing, scents etc).

Nonverbal Communication can include:

Facial expressions, body movements, scents (airborne chemicals) & sounds.

Interesting Animal Examples: