Official Rules

We'll define work from here on as a thing produced (whether materially, intellectually, or both) of one's own accord, or of an other's who granted absolute permission to use his/her/its/their/… intellectual property(s). We are not interested in participating with or helping to settle disputes not directly involving us. Work is what you send us. It is assumed to be your own work until and unless claimed otherwise (with proof) by an other party. We will not be held liable for or even remotely entertain any unsolicited use of an other's licensed property.

Important notes

- All work must be that of the contest entrant, or work licensed under the open source Apache license.
- Only one submission per entrant.
- Do not submit a project that already existed before the announcement of this contest.
- Entries may not be submitted by any person who is a legal minor at the time of entry.
- Dragonchain employees and contractors, contest judges, and members of their immediate families are not eligible to enter.
- Persons from the following countries or regions can submit but will not be considered eligible for contest rewards due to local rules, including exclusion from judging and prizes: Italy, Brazil, Quebec, and Mexico.
- Submissions from the following embargoed countries will not be considered eligible for the contest, including exclusion from judging and prizes: Crimea, Cuba, Iran, Syria, North Korea, and Sudan.
- Entries will be collected via the website using an online form, unless otherwise specified/defined.
- Submissions must not be derogatory, offensive, threatening, defamatory, disparaging, libellous or contain any content that is inappropriate, indecent, sexual, profane, tortious, slanderous, discriminatory in any way, or that promotes hatred or harm against any group or person, or otherwise does not comply with the theme and spirit of the Project.
- They must not contain content, material or any element that is unlawful, or otherwise in violation of or contrary to all applicable federal, state, or local laws and regulations including the laws or regulations in any state where the code and supporting statements are created.
- They must not contain any content, material or element that displays any third party advertising, slogan, logo, trademark, representation of characters indicating a sponsorship or endorsement by a third party, commercial entity, or any of those that are not within the spirit of the Project, as determined by Sponsor, at its sole discretion.

- They must be original, unpublished works not containing, incorporating, or otherwise using any unlicensed content/material/element(s) owned by an otherwise unrepresented third party or entity.
- They cannot contain any content, element, or material that violates a third party's publicity, privacy or intellectual property rights.
- The submission is not the subject of any actual or threatened litigation or claim.

FAQ

Can I submit more than one entry?
We limit entries to one project per participant. We encourage you to submit your best entry!

Is there an age limit to participate?
You must not be a minor (per your local law) to be eligible to win.

Do project submissions need to be formatted by dartfmt?
We can run dartfmt on our side. We believe code quality is primarily driven by good structure, rather than indentation. But of course, if the code is impenetrable to the judges even after running dartfmt, it may be challenging for them to score it well for code quality.

Can a team of people submit a single project?
A team of people can submit a single project, but the person submitting the project through our form should be authorized to submit the project on behalf of the entire team or entity, and a winning project from a team is only eligible for 1 prize.
