Conference Guidelines:

- Before the Conference
 - Schedule your conference on FACTS with your child's homeroom teacher.
 - Families communicate to the teacher any specific questions or concerns to be addressed during the conference.
- During the Conference
 - Student shares reflection, work samples, and goals. Parents listen quietly during this portion.
 - Stakeholders ask follow-up and clarifying questions during the student-led conference.
- After the Conference
 - Stakeholders work with the student to achieve the goals set forth during the conference.
 - Families agree to receive communications from the teacher to review the progress of the developed goals.

Student-led conferences allow an important opportunity for students to take charge of their own learning and share that learning with the adults who matter most to their education. Thank you for your partnership in this experience. We want conferences to be a positive experience for all involved. We look forward to seeing you on February 11th and 12th!

Please note that conferences are scheduled for 15 minutes each. It is important that teachers stay on schedule. Please feel free to schedule a follow-up conference if needed.
