

The building of the Kirtland Temple

The building of the Kirtland Temple

This is showing how temple was made and how preparations began

Materials Used

Windows Marble

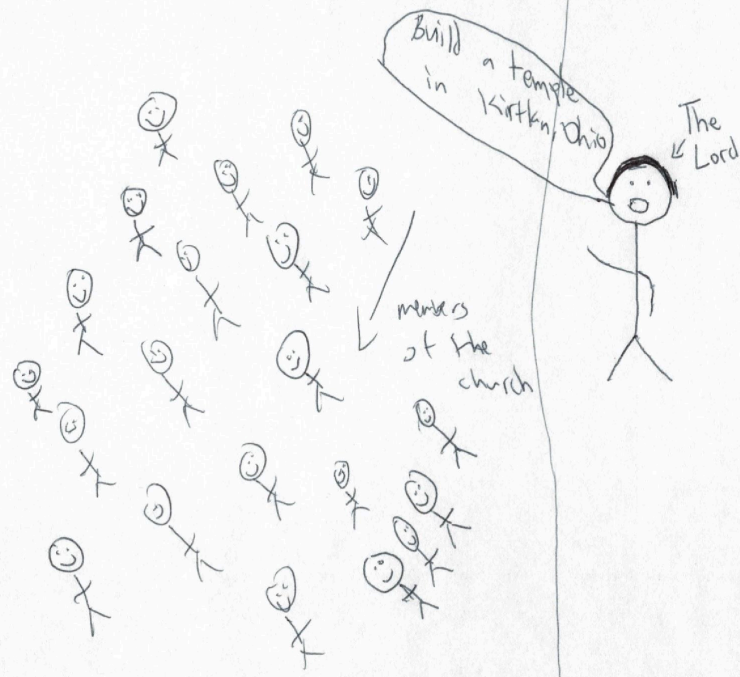

Wood

Final Product

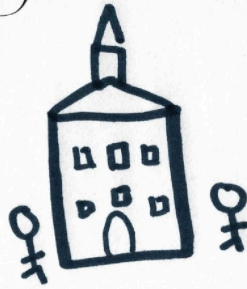

The building of the Kirtland Temple

In December 1832, the Lord commanded the members of the church to build a temple in Kirtland, Ohio

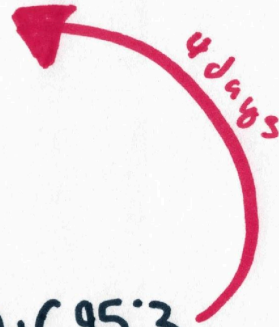

The building of the Kirtland Temple

Building the temple would cost a lot of money, so they waited. Six months later the saints still hadn't started building. They told Joseph Smith he was displeased with them. The saints repented and 4 days later they began to build the temple.

D+C 95:3

The building of the Kirtland Temple

The Lord's plan? Yes

how should the temple be built? With logs? with wooden boards? No. The lord has a plan, given by himself, soon to be seen, the difference between our calculations and his idea of things.

The building of the Kirtland Temple

The first presidency of the church saw a vision of what the temple would look like. He also told Joseph to gather with his counselors, and showed them how to build the temple.
D&C 95:14

The building of the Kirtland Temple

A group of men prayed, they saw a vision of what the Kirtland Temple would look like. First they saw the outside, then they saw the inside structure. When the temple was finished, it looked exactly like their vision.

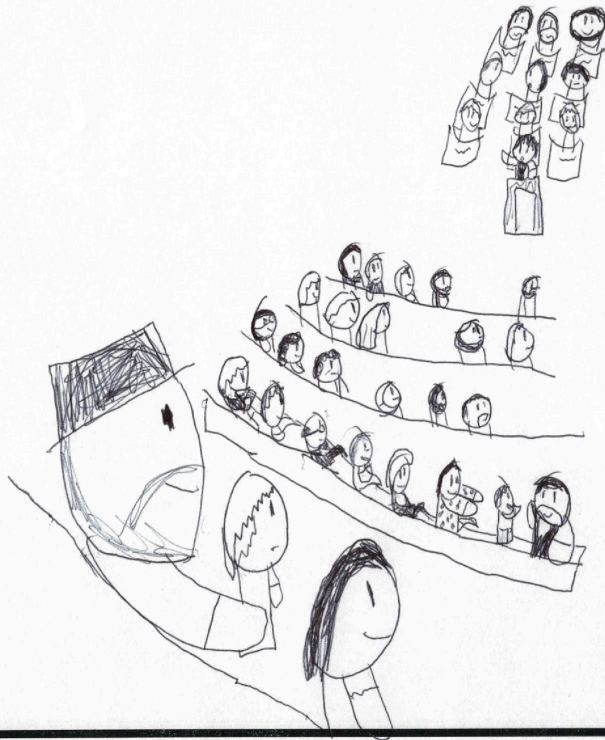

The building of the Kirtland Temple

During the building of the temple, some one wanted to change the design. Joseph Smith ~~stayed~~ insisted it looked exactly like the vision.

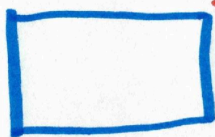

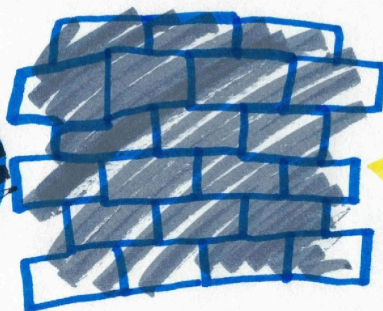

The building of the Kirtland Temple

It was like a special meeting house where the saints held their church meetings

The building of the Kirtland Temple

Stone

The building blocks were made of stone

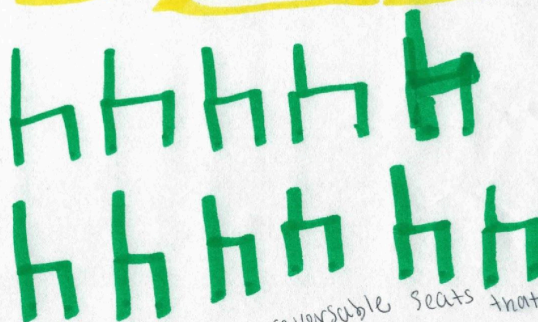

= plaster

The outer wall was covered with plaster

Three rows of three pulpits reversible seats that can face either direction

The building of the Kirtland Temple

THEY sacrificed MUCH TO BUILD THE temple.

The building of the Kirtland Temple

The building of the Kirtland Temple

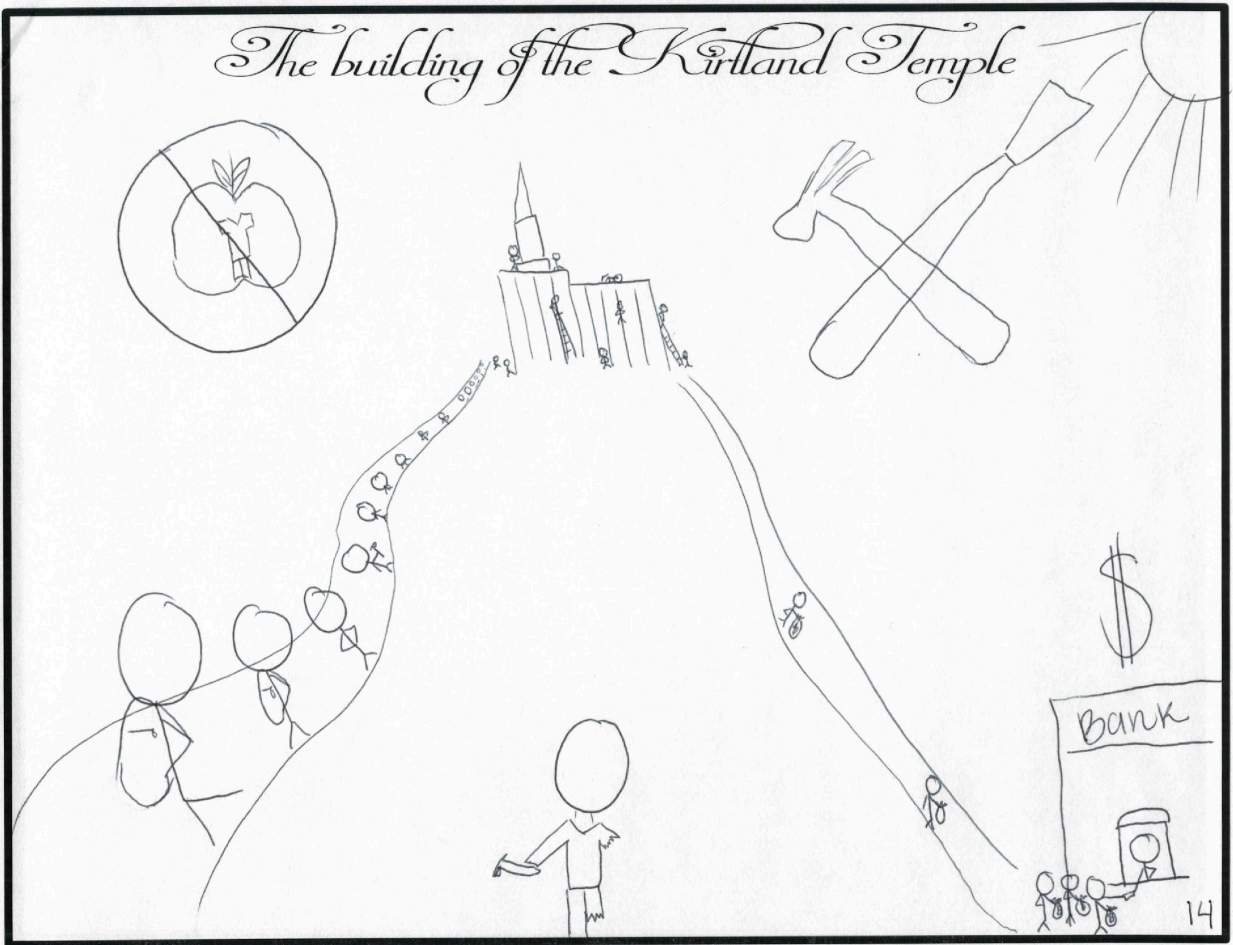

The building of the Kirtland Temple

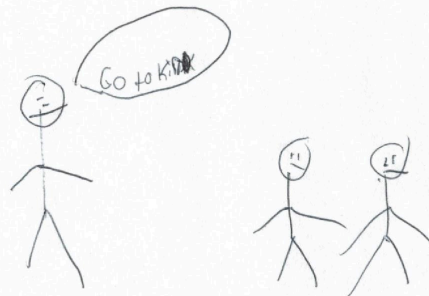

The curtains

W

The building of the Kirtland Temple

The building of the Kirtland Temple

The lord told the wealthy people to go to KIRKLAND.

The building of the Kirtland Temple

Church members collected broken fishes and put it in the plaster.
By doing this the temple sparkled in the sun

The End