

In her TED talk, Grace Lin talks about windows and mirrors. She tells us a book can act like a window and “show us the world.” Grace Lin also explains that a book can act like a mirror and “show us our reflection.” A book can show you a reflection of yourself.

How has the first Mock Newbery book you read both been a window and a mirror for you? What have you learned about the world and others by reading this book? What did you see about yourself in this book?

Create a new Google Doc in your Blogging folder (which should be in your LA folder) in QUIC Drive. Title it Windows and Mirrors. Please write an 8 sentence paragraph (with an introductory sentence and a concluding sentence) reflecting on how your book was a window and a mirror for you. When you have teacher approval, copy and paste your Google doc post into Seesaw using the Note tool and put this post in the correct book folder (e.g. Ghost Boys, Front Desk, Bob, etc.)in Seesaw.
