The Brains return to Crocus Beach after Kyouko's vote-off.

Conf - And with that, I have control of the tribe. It might be a little smaller than it was before, but I'm running the show now.

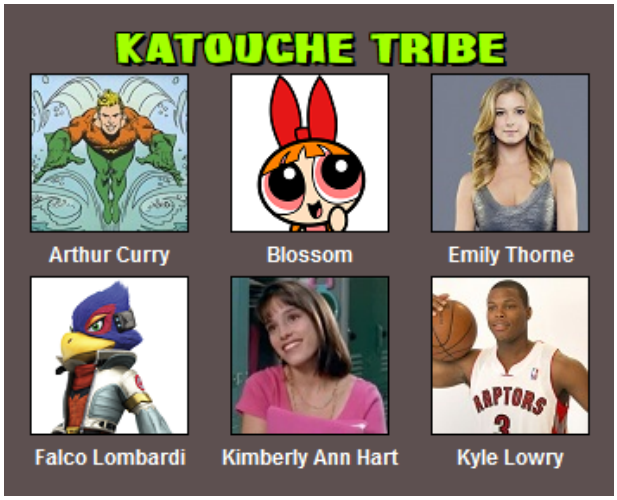

Conf - Mama's mind is so...malleable, it was easy to see that she'd flip once under pressure.

Conf - Voting Kyouko out was SO hard. She's been my best friend out here, but I think the rest of the tribe will get along a lot better now.

Welcome to Fantasy Survivor: Anguilla!

The Brawn Tribe wakes up during the sunrise of Day 4.

Guys, it's time we had a serious conversation about our tribe.

Huh? What's up?

When this game started, we all talked about how well we could work in a team, but for the past few days, the guys and the girls have been totally separate from each other.

Yeah...that's true. But it doesn't really matter because we've been doing so well in challenges.

That's right! When push comes to shove, we always work together to win the challenges.

But what about if there's a swap? Are we all gonna just split up? We shouldn't turn on each other...

We might get split up as a tribe, but we need to keep our heads together, that's how an alliance wins the game.

So you're sayin' even when we swap, everyone in the tribe should still stick together?

That gives us the best chance of making the merge together, I think.

Okay! Yeah! We could totally do that! The Brains will be super weak, and I bet the Beauties are fighting all the time.

If that's the case, sticking together must be the most rational decision.

Conf - I really like all the people on this tribe. But only a few of them know I have the idol...maybe I should tell the guys about it so we can use it more effectively for the tribe.

 Conf - This conversation is nice and all, but I hope Kyle knows most of his loyalty should be to OUR alliance.

Conf - None of this matters until we make the swap and see what the tribes actually look like. I'm not gonna sit still on a sinking ship, no matter how nice the company is.

Kyle, Falco, and Arthur speak far away from camp.

Oh, I thought we were all allied now.

 Uh, yeah, Kyle, what was that all about?

Everyone on the tribe already knows the divisions, so we should speak plainly about it. I think it helps us in the long-term to be up-front with them.

It will keep the 6 of us together in any swap situation! I say we trust them.

 It MIGHT keep us together. They MIGHT use that information against us and get us all voted off!

I think we can trust them just fine for now. Why would they flip on us to go with the other tribe?

Conf - I don't think Kyle gets the issue here. He told all the girls we have an alliance without even asking me or Arthur about it. That's not the most loyal thing you could do.

Conf - I believe the girls will be much more useful to us as allies. Surely it beats whatever alternative they can muster up?

Conf - I think this will be best for the tribe in the long-term. We need to be honest about our divisions in order to work best as a group.

Kimberly, Emily, and Blossom talk near the water-well.

What do you two think about Kyle's offer?

It makes sense, doubling the numbers of our alliance will make us more than a match for the rest of the tribes.

 Yeah! And how are we gonna trust anyone else more than our own tribemates?

 It's not about trust, being seen as a strong 6-person group could turn everyone else in the game against us.

 Then we'll just have to think of a plan when that happens.

 This might sound crazy, but I think we should tell them about the idol.

 Huh?! We can't do that.

 Why not? It could be something that binds the whole tribe together.

 It also gives them information to use AGAINST us. That's way too risky.

 It's not like they have any reason to flip on us…

Not yet, they don't. Listen, let's just agree to be careful, and not tell them about the idol.

Conf - That idol is supposed to be my x-factor. The more people who know about it, the less power it has.

Conf - I guess Emily has a point, but I think having the trust of the entire tribe might be more important than the secret of the idol.

Conf - I think we'll be able to work together in spite of the idol stuff, but why is Emily so dead set on keeping it a secret?

Switch to the Beauty Tribe at Merrywing Beach.

Sam, Brooke, Leo, and Adam discuss the situation deep in the jungle.

Oh man, so it's like, official. We're all allies now?

Yup. We've got this tribe on lockdown.

Let's just make sure Connor and L'arachel don't catch on, otherwise they might try to flip on us.

That's right. If either of them have reason to suspect us...they will surely try to work with the other tribes to target us.

Hopefully we keep winning immunity and don't have to worry about it.

Yes, but even if we lose, Brooke has the idol, there is no way this can backfire on us.

Well, beauties, let's get back to sitting pretty.

Conf - Getting to check in with my alliance is absolutely an essential step in keeping us all together. At first I was worried about Brooke being untrustworthy, but she seems to be taking this rather seriously.

Conf - Leo and Adam might just be a part of my alliance, but they're way less annoying than Connor or L'arachel, so they can stick around too.

So...since we're so safe, we don't have to worry about people seeing me and Adam as a pair?

Oh right, you two won't vote us out, so I guess it's all good.

Just try to keep it together so the other tribes don't suspect anything.

Conf - I guess Brooke is warming up to the idea of Adam and me being together. Great! That'll be great for our group going forward.

Conf - I'm lucky to have an ally like Leo that was able to nail down this alliance. Because of him, me and Sam don't have to pretend to be strangers.

(Far away in some bushes)

...

Conf - I knew Adam and Sam were inseparable, but Leo and Brooke are in on it too? I need to do something about this before it's too late.

Connor find L'arachel, who is by the shelter, doing nothing.

I'm not sure if you heard about it or not, but Adam and Sam are together.

Awww, good for them! But, uh, just between you and me, it was kinda obvious.

Well it's not just them now, Brooke and Leo are involved too.

Oh….there's 4 of them? Well...that'll be a confusing wedding…

NO! That's not what I meant! They're all allies!

OH! That’s cool too! It’ll be even easier for everyone to work together.

Don’t you see that we’re in danger because of that!

Well one of us certainly is!

Aren’t you even a little concerned about this?

Conf - The fact that she’s my only option for an ally is….worrying, to say the least.

I mean, Brooke already hates you, sooo…(shrug)

And you’d be voted out right after me. How is that good for you?

We’ll swap soon, so I’m not too worried.

You're awfully sure of yourself.

Confidence is contagious! Just believe in the tribe's strength and we'll win immunity! Then we'll all be safe!

Conf - Connor's been pretty negative this whole time. I don't really feel like I owe him anything just because HE'S scared of going home.
