

Subject Line A: Avoid these words so you don't sound like a SCAM to your prospects

Subject Line B: Read this before this scam gets you...

I remember during quarantine when I was first getting serious about getting a real job. I mean... I had one as a server in some local Dallas bistro, but I WANTED more money.

After applying to jobs on LinkedIn, I got a DM reply from someone called Ashley. She was recruiting and she was impressed with my profile. I messaged back expressing my interest as a college graduate looking to get more hands-on experience. Ashley responded and said something along the lines of, competitive pay, and quick promotions, unlimited opportunity to scale.

They were all the buzz words my sorry naive-a wanted to hear, but... I didn't know any better.

That's why you will not

For once I felt validated in the job market. I was like, "Wow, someone finally wants to interview me for a legitimate desk job."

Oh... I found out to be so wrong...

Turns out they were a pyramid scheme trying to recruit more people for their sales team. Their tactic was to use super-super pushy sales scripts to sell to poor people requesting for free basic insurance benefits.

To keep a long short, you know it's a SCAM when they're using words like...

Side hustle.

Quit your 9-5.

An extra $10k/mo.

You only need your phone and internet.

These buzzwords are just that. Buzz. Nothing more but to trick your mind into "fast results" A.K.A. getting a real job that pays BIG money.

Now that I've saved you from a month of training and from leaving your waiter job at the local bistro.
