General Storylines

Oliver Tarvet Continues to Showcase Talent In College Tennis In

Debut Slam: It was just two months ago when University of San Diego's Oliver Tarvet was still soaking in the west coast sun, leading his team to a NCAA Tournament berth. As one of the top ranked players in the collegiate game, Tarvet earned a wild card into Wimbledon qualifying with an ATP Singles Ranking in the 700s entering the tournament. Having never played an ATP Tour event, Tarvet cruised through qualifying to make his Grand Slam and ATP Tour debut at his home slam. Facing off against fellow qualifier Leandro Riedi of Switzerland in the first round, it was Tarvet who showed he was most prepared for the moment, winning 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 to advance to the second round where he will face Carlos Alcaraz. In his post-match press conference, Tarvet had this to say about his time in college, "I would recommend any top level junior to go to the collegiate system, because of how great the coaches are, how great the setup is, and how everything is so professional. I couldn't be more thankful for San Diego and for everything they've done for me."

Arthur Fery Returns from Injury-Ridden 2024 Season with First Round

Win Over Alexei Popyrin: The former Stanford standout, Arthur Fery, made a big splash on one of the biggest stages of tennis on Monday by taking down No. 20 Alexei Popyrin in the first round. Now 17-3 in 2025, Fery has advanced to the second round of a Grand Slam for the first time in his career. Next up for Fery will be Luciano Darderi of Italy who Won in five sets today against Roman Safiullin.

Former NCAA Champion, Ethan Quinn, Earn First Wimbledon Win:

After a breakthrough at the French Open in which he reached the third round, former Georgia men's tennis player Ethan Quinn earned his first victory at Wimbledon on Monday, beating Henry Searle 4-6, 6-2, 7-6 (11), 6-2. With the win, Quinn continues his impressive 2025 season in which he has broken into the ATP Top 100 where he currently sits at a career-high ranking of No. 89 in the world.

Learner Tien and Nuno Borges Win All-College Battles On Day One:

Former USC Trojan, Learner Tien, and former Mississippi State Bulldog, Nuno Borges, each won all-college tennis showdowns on day one of Wimbledon. For Tien, it was a match not only between two former collegians but two 2024 ATP Next Gen Finals competitors as he faced off against former Stanford Cardinal, Nishesh Basavareddy. Winning in straight sets, Tien will now face Nicolas Jarry of Chile who defeated Holger Rune (8) in a five set thriller in which Jarry came back from down two sets to none. Meanwhile, for Borges, he secured his first win at Wimbledon with a 4-6, 6-3, 7-6 (5), 6-0 victory over former South Carolina Gamecock, Francisco Cerundolo (16). Next up for Borges is a meeting with Billy Harris of Great Britain.

World No. 12 Diana Shnaider Dominates In Wimbledon Opening

form with a 7-6 (5), 6-3 opening round win over Moyuka Uchijima. After reaching the third round on the grass courts last year, Shnaider has high hopes entering this year's tournament as the No. 12 seed in the ladies' draw. Alongside Mirra Andreeva, Shnaider is also a part of the No. 5 seeded doubles team where her and Andreeva look to continue their exciting partnership together. Next up for Shnaider on the singles courts is a matchup with French qualifier Diane Parry.
