

Tristan Adriano
“Troubleshooter”

The youngest son of five from the House Adriano, small merchant house and owners and operators of the Adriano shipping and merchant company based out of Gemric City. After having a falling out with his family about a life of hard work at the merchant company, Tristan decided to live by his own wits and started to work as and “troubleshoot” on the streets of Gemric City. Tristan still has some contact with his mother and tries keeps up with family.

Tristan fights with a Florentine style of fencing when in melee combat. He is considered a good shot with a pistol and even better with a rapier. Tristan is also be trained at art of brawling or fistcuffs, being very skilled at throwing a kick or punch. Tristan has a reputation at being quite skilled with the ladies and the fact he gets around. Having a different beautiful woman every night, the ones he likes sometimes twice.

After having an affair with Primo Segreti’s wife of House Segreti, a powerful banker/loan shark, Primo wanted Tristan to pay for his desecrations, causing more problems for Tristan.

Cassiopeia Piselli is head of powerful merchant family that want to take over the House Adriano shipping and merchant company at any means necessary. Even with Tristan's fall out he still has to dodge and watch out for house Piselli gangs and street thugs.

Tristan has made enemies from Kristopher Scarpato, privateer and ship captain. Tristan helped his best friend Augusto steal cargo from the captain. Captain Kristopher vowed that no one steals from him and lives.

In time of need, Tristan finds safe harbor at Adrianna's a Brothel and inn. Tristan has become friends with Mistress Adrianna and often does small troubleshooting jobs for her and her girls.

