

Syllabus for SOS-1500

SELF-ASSESSMENT AND CAREER EXPLORATION

COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this course, students will evaluate life and career challenges from an interdisciplinary academic vantage point and build practical skills to make informed choices about life and career planning. Students will discern where in their life they may assert more control after viewing common life- and career-planning challenges from the disciplines of sociology, psychology, and communications. This course utilizes the book Time to Get Real: Turning Uncertainty into an Action Plan for Personal and Professional Success by Alex J. Plinio and Melissa Smith. The authors of Time to Get Real offer a practical blueprint to allow readers to make intentional choices about their life and career planning in a way that leads to personal satisfaction and fulfillment. In this course, students will be exposed to the “Life and Career Planning Model” designed by Plinio and Smith. By the end of the course, students draft a plan that will guide decision making for their career.

COURSE TOPICS

- Exploring career development from multiple academic viewpoints including sociology, psychology, and communications
- Self-assessment of personal characteristics, relationships, and values
- Examining career factors such as strengths/development areas and organizational mission
- Constructing a financial plan
- Appraising current and future work positions
- Assessing benefits of engagement with different age groups and cultures
- Producing, sharing, and revising a life and career plan
- Articulating a life purpose and creating a realistic vision of the future

COURSE OBJECTIVES

After completing this course, students should be able to:

- CO 1 Explore life and career challenges from several academic viewpoints, including sociology, psychology, and communications.
- CO 2 Apply the Life and Career Planning Model to their own life and career.
- CO 3 Perform self-assessment in areas such as self-knowledge, relationships, life balance, and strengths/weaknesses.

- CO 6 Discuss the workplace value of relating to different age groups and cultures.
- CO 7 Produce an action plan for their career, obtain feedback, and revise according to feedback.

COURSE MATERIALS

You will need the following materials to complete your coursework. Some course materials may be free, open source, or available from other providers. You can access free or open-source materials by clicking the links provided below or in the module details documents. To purchase course materials, please visit the University's textbook supplier.

Required Textbook

- Plinio, A. J., & Smith, M. A. (2019). Time to get real! Turning uncertainty into an action plan for personal and professional success. New Brunswick, NJ: Rutgers University Press.
ISBN-13: 978-1978804616

Journal Requirement

You are required to keep a journal that records your responses to the questions posed in the Plinio/Smith book, along with your insights.

- You may record answers and insights in a journal file on your computer.
- Alternatively, you may use the book itself to record your insights.
- You may decide to purchase and use a hard copy journal.

Other Resources

- Articles and other resources are linked within modules.
- You will watch an embedded video in Module 5; it is located in the Media area of the course site.
- You will complete two Readiness Time Capsules: one at the beginning of the course and one at the end of the course; they are located in the Readiness Time Capsule area of the course site.

COURSE STRUCTURE

Self-Assessment and Career Exploration is a three-credit online course consisting of eleven modules and a final project. Activities in the course consist of discussion forums, written assignments, an ongoing action plan, and brief papers that allow you to analyze your career planning using academic resources. You will keep a personal journal in which you record your observations and answers to textbook questions. You will also construct a life and career plan and share it with a trusted person. A final project asks you to examine what you have learned.

Each module includes an overview, topics, learning objectives, study materials, and activities. Module titles are listed below.

ASSESSMENT METHODS

For your formal work in the course, you are required to participate in online discussion forums, complete written assignments and an ongoing action plan, complete three brief papers, and create a life and career plan that you reflect on in your final project.

Consult the Course Calendar for due dates.

Promoting Originality

One or more of your course activities may utilize a tool designed to promote original work and evaluate your submissions for plagiarism. More information about this tool is available in this document.

Discussion Forums

You are required to complete twelve discussion forums. In the discussion forums you share with your classmates insights from your journal entries.

Written Assignments

You are required to complete eight brief written assignments (1½ to 2 pages). The written assignments allow you to examine your life and career from a variety of perspectives.

Brief Papers

You are required to complete three brief papers; each one is approximately 2 to 3 pages in length. The brief papers allow you to analyze your career planning using academic resources.

Action Plan Assignments

You are required to complete nine action plan assignments. In the action plan assignments you list actions you might take to reach your life and career goals. They are graded complete/incomplete.

Life and Career Plan

You are required to complete a life and career plan, which you will build throughout the course.

Your plan will be graded on a complete/incomplete basis. Your mentor will be looking primarily for evidence that you have taken the plan seriously and incorporated all elements.

Final Project

Your final project involves reflecting on all that you have accomplished in this course.

- You will share your life and career plan with a trusted person and compose a brief feedback report to convey to your mentor.
- Then you will write a 3- to 5-page paper that examines your plan and its development in light of the resources you have explored in the course.

The Final Project area of the course provides fuller detail.

GRADING AND EVALUATION

Your grade in the course will be determined as follows:

- Online Discussions (12)—18%
- Written Assignments (8)—24%
- Brief Papers (3) —18%
- Final Project
  - Feedback Report—2%
  - Final Paper —15%
- Complete/Incomplete Graded Assignments
  - Readiness Time Capsule Assignments (2)—4% (Complete/Incomplete)
  - Action Plan Assignments (9)—9% (Complete/Incomplete)
  - Life and Career Plan—10% (Complete/Incomplete)

All activities will receive a numerical grade of 0–100. You will receive a score of 0 for any work not submitted. Your final grade in the course will be a letter grade. Letter grade equivalents for numerical grades are as follows:

A	= 93–100	C+	= 78–79
A–	= 90–92	C	= 73–77
B+	= 88–89	C–	= 70–72
B	= 83–87	D	= 60–69
B–	= 80–82	F	= Below 60

To receive credit for the course, you must earn a letter grade of C or better (for an area of study course) or D or better (for a course not in your area of study), based on the weighted average of all assigned course work (e.g., exams, assignments, discussion postings).

STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS

First Steps to Success

To succeed in this course, take the following first steps:

- Read the entire Syllabus carefully, making sure that all aspects of the course are clear to you and that you have all the materials required for the course.
- Take time to read the entire Online Student Handbook. The Handbook answers many questions about how to proceed through the course, and how to get the most from your educational experience at Thomas Edison State University.
- Familiarize yourself with the learning management systems environment—how to navigate it and what the various course areas contain. If you know what to expect as you navigate the course, you can better pace yourself and complete the work on time.
- If you are not familiar with web-based learning, be sure to review the processes for posting responses online and submitting assignments before class begins.

Study Tips

Consider the following study tips for success:

- To stay on track throughout the course, begin each week by consulting the Course Calendar. The Course Calendar provides an overview of the course and indicates due dates for submitting assignments, posting discussions, and scheduling and taking examinations.
- Check Announcements regularly for new course information.
