

MUSIC: The Curtain Falls by Trace Callahan fades in, mid-song.

FEL: [excitedly] You want to join our troupe?

DALYN: [skeptically] You want to join our troupe?

LEONA: I do. If that's acceptable.

FEL: That's more than acceptable! That's fantastic! Let me be the first to officially welcome you to the Carouvel Traveling -

JYRSA: [brusquely] Outta the way, molten glass coming through!

VELETTE: Hey, move your feet! You're standing on the hem of the general's coat!

GLENN: What is death - but the next stage in our paradigm?

FEL: [sheepishly] I, uh...I'm explaining it badly, aren't I?

LEONA: This is all very different from what I was expecting.

DALYN: For heroes are not meant to be forged through destiny -

AKSOL: Were you admiring my perpetual motion wheels? I've got big plans for these bad boys.

LEONA: For months now, I've been searching for a way to serve a greater purpose, and I think with you, I've found it.

FEL: Trust me, Leona. The troupe is gonna love you.

NARRATION: Starfall. A fantasy audio drama. Find us in your favorite podcatcher today.

MUSIC: Fades out against the final line of dialogue.

LEONA: I think I understand that.