

Names of people on your team:

Game instructions that you will read to the player (very detailed and clear):

Experiment description (including treatments and how random assignment will work):

Which treatment group you believe will score higher:

Variable you will track (as part of experiment):

Additional variable you will track (as part of observational study):

Which group you think will score higher in the observational study:

Share this doc to "anyone with link" and give them the ability to EDIT. Thanks.