

The Educator's Blueprint

Hosts: Dr. Lisa Powers and Dr. Trisha Guffey

Purpose: Join us as we engage in meaningful conversations on topics currently impacting our school systems, behavior, and instructional practices. From the classroom to the boardroom, we welcome you to unpack, reflect, and learn with us.

Link to Listen or Subscribe:
Educator's Blueprint podcast directories/platforms
MO SW-PBS LINK

<https://twitter.com/EducBlueprint>

Series 4: 2021 PBIS Leadership Forum

Episode 16: We're Going to a Conference

Guest: n/a

Quotes:

- Look at the action plan, your goals, and identify the just-in-time needs to determine sessions to attend while balancing personal growth needs. - Trisha
- Pre-planning is key...plan for collaboration, determine how to capture information and method to share learning - Lisa
- Be brave and network. - Lisa
- Conference presenters are more than happy to talk to you and share resources; network with them. - Trisha
- Networking is important; be brave and ask questions of presenters to learn more and connect. - Lisa
- While I might have a lot of notes, I'm going to star or highlight one or two long-term priority items and one or two short-term priority items and follow up on these items accordingly.

Resources:

- PBIS Leadership Forum website
- PBIS Leadership Forum - Registration page

Special thanks to:

Austin Gross, Music Composer,
Evan Courtney from Creative Courtney, Graphic Designer,
The MU Center Team for School-wide Positive Behavior Supports, and Gracelyn Guffey, Emcee.