

Wireless Network Access

Remember that the Wi-Fi network you should be using is called Cajon Valley and you will use your Hello ID username as your login to the Wi-Fi. Your students will use the same network and their Chromebooks are preconfigured with the correct network. Detailed instructions for logging on to the network from a Mac or Chromebook can be found here.

Hello ID

Hello ID is the district's single sign-on system. All applications that you or your students will use in the district can be found from this portal. Hello ID can be accessed by going to <https://login.cajonvalley.net>.

- Staff Usernames: Login with the first part of your email address (everything to the left of the @cajonvalley.net)
- Student Usernames: Students will login with their student ID number
- Additional information on student passwords can be found below.
