

Many IACS members will be interested to read this recently published book with several chapters from members of the Association.

Nurturing Young Children as Spiritual Beings in a Globalized World

Edited by Elizabeth Rouse, Brendan Hyde & Tony Eade

This book brings together leading academics and practitioners to provide research-informed strategies for nurturing young children as spiritual beings. Globalization and performativity have led to a narrowing of education in early years settings and schools, and this book considers the types of knowledge and capabilities children and educators need to address the challenges this presents. The chapters explore and critique existing practices in a range of areas including sustainability, inclusion, relationships with parents, ethics of care, and the role of the arts. Written by contributors based in Australia, Canada, Malta, the UK and the USA, the book offers theoretical discussion and practical strategies to help educators nurture young children's spirituality emphasising holistic approaches and caring relationships as an antidote to current neoliberal discourse.

The table of contents with the names of authors and part of the first chapter can be seen at:

<https://bloomsburycp3.codemantra.com/viewer/67598105ee35880001da0550>

If you have access to a university library, please encourage the librarian to purchase one or more copies. The book is only in hard back and rather expensive but a discount of 35% is available using the code GLR AT8 via Nurturing Young Children as Spiritual Beings in a Globalized World: : Elizabeth Rouse: Bloomsbury Academic. If you have any queries, would like a flier to publicise the book or would be interested in reviewing it, please contact Tony Eade on tony@edperspectives.org.uk