What I do:

I help personal brands sell their courses and coaching services in the DMs.

What qualifies me to do this?

- Over $2 million in sales for my clients in the last 1.5 years
- Majority closed directly in the DMs
- All industries

- Remy Blumenfeld - former Hollywood producer and business coach
- Dave Crane - celebrity public speaking coach
- Kura Home - $35k biz coaching offer for home service professionals
- Jen Oknin - menopause health coach

Right now you're here:

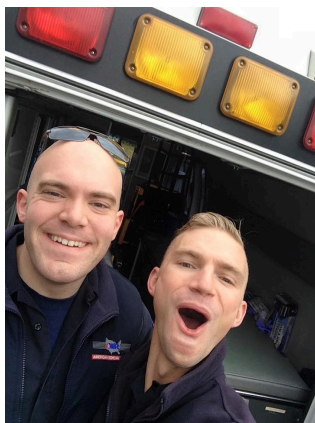

- You know you're dropping the ball with your DM sales conversations
- Not having enough chats with quality leads
- Getting stuck trying to move the conversation towards a call
- Setting unqualified calls with low close rates because you don't qualify before the call
- Having absolutely no freaking idea how to close deals directly in the DMs

Sound familiar?

We're going to take you to here:

- Know exactly what to say to move the conversation forward towards a sale
- Have more productive sales conversations each week
- Set qualified sales calls and increase your close rate by pre-selling them in the DMs first
- Downsell leads and close deals directly in the DMs without a sales call

Who I am:

- Former EMT from Seattle 🚑
- Introvert
- Word Wizard 🧙 Copywriter and Messaging Strategist
- Really f*cking good at turning DMs into closed deals

A bit of proof that anyone can fake:

I understood DMs way better with this free course than with Matt Lakajev paid program

Hey Justin, watched your video now

Trully awesome! You nailed it on the explanation and the frameworks you built

Robert Hedequist • 3:36 AM

Hi Justin, thanks for sending the video along. Just reviewed. Really good stuff and a nice presentation on your part. Clear and concise.

this is the 2nd time I've watched this. It's so good.

It makes me realize that I need to have longer chats with my coaching prospects before I give them the info on my program or a lead magnet - because it would really help qualify them.

(I talk to so many people who aren't committed to fractional work, they really just want to get a job... and a mtg wastes both our time.) I need to qualify more by chat.

I like the framework and the psychology you follow. For someone who's into DM selling, there shouldn't be no reason why they won't be able to follow it. Simple and effective (Edited)

It's better than what Matt does anyways, lol (with all due respect to him). Though you both have much in common practices. (Edited)
