

Jen Myers is the Communications Director for the Lowell Public Schools (LPS). Prior to joining LPS in 2021, she had a 20+ year career in communications in different aspects of Lowell community life. This included spending 12 years as a reporter for the Lowell Sun; stints working in the Mayor's office, at Coalition for a Better Acre, and for State Senator Ed Kennedy; as well as providing photography and communications services to a wide range of non-profits and institutions in the city.

She is happy to be helping the Mahoney Family Foundation with their mission to educate people about child abuse and to give parents and caregivers alternatives to violence when disciplining their children.

Jen holds a degree in Photojournalism from Boston University and in her spare time loves to cook, explore new places, and spend time outdoors.
