

REDRAW THE FRAMES

Purpose

Combining language with imagery through the process of drawing frames reinforces both what you learned in the last unit and what you're about to learn in this unit.

Key information

A quick reminder of the three frames:

- Communities: How people belong (religion, government, organization).
- Networks: How people connect (trade, communication, exchange).
- Production and distribution: How people make and use stuff (technology, industry, transport).

Process

1. Which frame do you think will change the most from the last unit to this unit? Circle the frame below.

communities

networks

production and distribution

2. On the next page, create a drawing that shows the change. On the left, draw how things looked in the previous unit. Then, on the right, draw how you predict they will change in this unit.
