Community Manager

IT Project Manager with expertise in Web3 community and Social Media Management.

I managed web3 and Tech communities, MTG DAO,XANA Metaverse, Bictory Finance, to mention a few. Using agile methodologies, I oversaw various aspects of these projects, collaborating closely with the teams. Notably, I contributed to Virtua's success in selling over 1000 NFTs, leveraging my expertise in project management. My role involved maintaining a strong online presence and fostering engagement within blockchain communities. Through these experiences, I've gained insights into community management and project coordination in the blockchain industry not forgetting Social media management.

Product Manager

I bring a wealth of passion and a strong technical skill set to the ever-evolving domain of web3. With my expertise in UI/UX design, mobile app development, and aspirations as a future Product Manager, I am wholeheartedly dedicated to shaping exceptional user experiences and functional mobile applications. My career objective is crystal clear: to embrace challenges in this highly competitive environment and channel my creativity and skills towards driving substantial and meaningful change.

I had the privilege of participating in the EthAccra Hackathon, where I joined forces with a group of like-minded innovators to explore the cutting edge of web3 technology. In this dynamic event, I assumed the role of project manager for our team, diligently coordinating our efforts and ensuring the successful execution of our project. This experience fortified my commitment to taking on responsibilities that not only contribute to my personal and professional growth but also enable me to harness the immense potential of web3 for the betterment of Near and the broader tech landscape.
