Solidarity School of Mesopotamia

Solidarity School is a continuous action of the Citizens' Movement of Moschato Mesopotamia based on the volunteering participation of teachers and educators of all grades and specialties which is addressed to students and adults who want to enhance their knowledge or their typical skills without any age, economic or other requirements. The purpose of this action is to cancel any barrier in education and support every person according to their educational needs among a learning society.

Solidarity School of Mesopotamia has supported hundreds of students through extra tutors, foreign languages classes and classes for preparation for the national exams since 2003. The educational program is enriched with art workshops, such as theatrical, sketch and comics workshops and various educational workshops.

We work for an inclusive and socially sensible education. There are also supported groups (a) Group of gender, sexual orientation and gender identity to raise consciousness on LGBTQ+ and gender equality issues. (b) Group of career orientation for the better understanding of the career opportunities after school based on skills of each person.

The operation of the Solidarity School is based on collaboration, mutual and active participation in all levels. The daily operation is based on working groups which parents of the young students and adult students participate in. All the decisions are taken through open joint assemblies of students, teachers and parents without any hierarchy.

Solidarity School of Mesopotamia also organizes actions open to the neighborhood, supports the other actions of Mesopotamia and it is a member of the Network of Solidarity School.
