Open letter to Stephen Toope, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cambridge:

Please support University staff and students striking for the climate on the 20th of September

Greta Thunberg and young leaders all over the World are calling for a Global Strike for Climate on September 20th. Children have been using their Friday school strikes to denounce the insufficient action to avert the climate crisis that threatens their future. Now they are asking all of us to join them in demanding urgent action on climate change in a global day of action that will send a powerful message that changes social attitudes and politicians can't ignore.

Ahead of September 20th, we ask Stephen Toope, the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, to support the staff & students who decide to take part in the Global Strike for Climate, and to actively encourage staff involvement in the strike, as Bristol University has already done.

We believe that as a leading global scientific institution we have a critical role to play in addressing the climate crisis and sending a global message of warning. Now more than ever, scientific institutions need to lead a society-wide transition away from fossil fuels.

The research at the University of Cambridge has provided us with invaluable knowledge to understand the causes and consequences of climate change. Our researchers are also at the forefront of imagining and engineering solutions to climate change. One thing is clear, we will need a systemic transformation of our economy and society. We can implore policy makers and society to change in order to avert the climate crisis, but until we ourselves act in line with our findings and take the brave and necessary decisions, none will believe the message from the scientific community. We face a moral imperative to lead by example.

Students, staff and Cambridge residents and businesses are significantly concerned about the current climate crisis, and many feel the urge to make a difference by participating in the Global Strike for Climate this September 20th. As one of the biggest employers in the city, we believe that in backing the University members who decide to take action, the University would make a significant difference and would send a message of urgency to save the livelihoods of the millions currently affected by the impacts of climate change and safeguard the future of coming generations.

Many thanks for signing the letter

- Please share the letter with others who may not have seen it, and invite them to sign;
- How can you take action for the Global Climate strike?
 - Take the 20 September off as annual leave and join events happening on this day:
 - Youth strike 4 climate (9.30am-12pm). Let's join students on the strike 4 climate! Find our UCU banner at Shire Hall at 9.30am, or join us during the march to King's Parade where they will be chanting and talks.
 - Solidarity with Anglia Ruskin University (1pm-2pm) ARU are organising a one hour solidarity platform in the LAB courtyard.
 - West Cambridge walkout (2-3pm). Join us outside the West Cambridge Café at 2pm for a mass solidarity photo.
 - Panel discussion: Tackling the Climate Crisis with Profs Aled Jones (Director of ARU Global Sustainability Institute) and David Humphreys (Open University) at CUSU lounge (3-4.30pm). Join this discussion about what climate scientists and trade unionists can do to tackle climate change.
 - Mass Rally at King's Parade (6-9pm). Join us in a rally that will bring us all together after a day filled with actions. There will be speeches, music, chants and hopeful visions.
 - If you cannot take the 20 September off as annual leave, you can still organise something in your workplace, such as a lunchtime event, wearing a badge or handing out leaflets.

To know more about what you can do for the Global Climate Strike, please read our Cambridge UCU how to guide.
