I have to say I didn't spend much time on this part of the assignment. I'm not particularly interested in YouTube and my district restricts it. I the video said that it had been deleted, I am not the sort to try to get it back. So I went looking for advice from some people who might know. I saved these as references, in case I should ever want to watch a deleted video.

From my esteemed classmates:

1. (Marcy Rinehart) " I used a converter by the name of Xilisoft Youtube Converter and this is the link that is free to download Xilisoft Website. It was easy to use and saved my video quickly to my computer." <http://rinehartmarcy.blogspot.com/2011/07/appropriate-you-tube-video.html>

2. Jessie C. tells how to appropriate a you tube video using a Mac:

1. "Open a Safari window with the youtube video you are wanting to download and save to your computer.
2. Go to the safari toolbar up top and click on Window
3. Then click on Activity
4. Look through the activity for the youtube video and find the largest file size
5. Double click and your download will begin.
6. you can find the file downloaded in you downloads file
7. To put this video back on youtube, simply go to youtube.com and select upload.
8. you will need to create an account, if you don't already have one.

It is so simple! Very quick too! Now you won't have to worry about losing your favorite videos anymore!" (<http://jessiec123.blogspot.com/2011/07/appropriate-you-tube-video.html>)

I also checked YouTube for answers:

"Try this: Using internet explorer, Click on tools, click on Internet Options, click on Connections, Click on Lan Settings. If "Automatically Detect Settings" is checked, UNCHECK it. That's it. I searched a long time for this solution. I hope it works for you too. Good Luck!"

4. Another user had this solution: " Add &fmt=18 to the end of the video's URL"

5. One user made a detailed video about this: "How To RESTORE Deleted Videos From YouTube".
