A document exposing @Knight_Of_Lake, a parody account on Twitter.

I, a 16 year old girl, who got groomed by a 30 year old man, @Knight_Of_Lake and for his manipulation of minors, both emotionally and romantically, and in some cases, sexually. He has sent some suggestive posts over my group of friends who are also minors, and one of them younger than me.

And I became the main victim.

Firstly, I was groomed by many adults online at the age of 8 to 11 over the course of almost 4 years. It was a trauma for me, it messed me up.

I have been hypervigilant and extra careful of someone older who could be using me for their gain.

Then there's this man… I have made my "accusation" of him as a groomer. I told my friends about that. But when I was convinced that he's just being a genuine, supportive friend,

I felt extremely guilty of myself for accusing my friend like that. I beat myself up for it.

And so I trusted him for many more days

Until it was late.

From the beginning,
He met me through one of my old art posts on 14th September, Doom Shadow. At least that's when a popular artist made a reply (whom Lance is mutual with). Through my energetic, whimsical replies to her and others, how responsive and kind I can be, which gave him interest in being friends with me… for that.

When I was almost at 400 followers, he noticed, despite the fact that he just met me, he told everyone to follow me. I felt happy at that, for someone who supported me in reaching it. So I did the same, which made him in awe.

And so, I made my first Twitter friend.

Thanks to him, I made more connections. He helped me come out of my shell and be open to a few more people.

Made more art…

Earned 300+ followers in 2 weeks…

The pressure…

Then I went off and disappeared on 25th September (due to mental health issues) without explanation, as it was getting overwhelming for me as an introverted artist.

As for my return on 15th October. Considering I had been gone for 20 days full, I didn't post my comeback other than reposting and liking posts.

Lance saw me reposting on 15th October, and he liked them to acknowledge my return.

One of my friends posted something about her sickness. As we chatted under that, and asked how I was.
Told her that I was doing slightly better, that I just needed a break for my health..

I posted that comment at 12:41 PM on 16th October.
And then 11 hours later, Lance DM'ed me.
At 11 PM.
(that's the time I usually post my art at, more so active.)

He just resorted to that, which took him more than a day to slide in.

(can't provide the screenshots as the past convos were deleted, but I wrote copy-pasted notes of it)

@Knight_Of_Lake: "Hello oomf. Glad to see you back. Just wanted to say that I'm happy to know you're doing well and that you feel better.💝🫂

I'm also sorry if I accidentally overstepped some line by messaging you in your DMs. 😓"

my reply at 1:12 AM:

@cerisemara: "awwwe thank you so much Lance! you didn't overstep at all, it means a lot that you reached out for me 🥹🫂💕💕"

then.... another reply from him which i find... strange?:

"Sorry, I'm sometimes overly careful, making sure not to overstep any boundaries, even if there aren't any.😅

So anyways, how are you, it's been a while? ❤️" ok this is the part that I felt weirded about.

it is true and nice for him at the start... UNTIL he said that ‘even if there aren't any ’ – boundaries. That didn't make much sense.
There ARE boundaries and will ALWAYS be there between a minor and a grown-up man.

Though, I found him acting very nervous toward me somehow. Well, he's being overly careful of course.

But he shouldn’t be in the first place.
He was doing the boundary testing from the first DM alone.

Through many replies, Lance has been giving me so much emotional attention. Mirroring my personality (emojis, words of habit, even same humor) to make me feel safer to be able to communicate easily after a long break I took. Though, him being the only guy to DM me about my return out of 626 followers I’ve had….

It made me feel slightly more attached.

He is doing this deliberately to make me feel seen and valued personally. So I can fully trust him, to talk to him more, anytime.

Afterwards, he started interacting with me more and more. Liking and replying to the majority of my posts, often immediately.

Mostly, personal stuff.

Especially this…

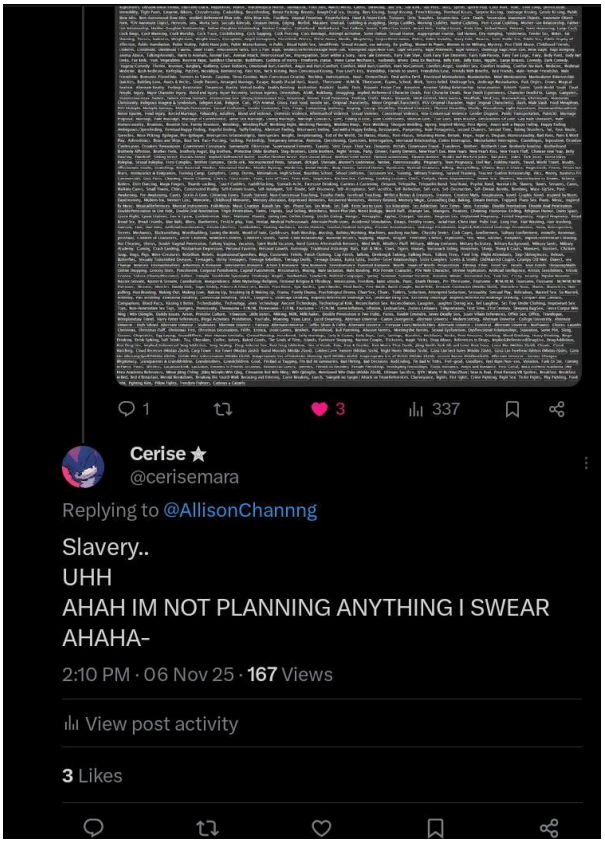

He commented that in less than a minute… faster than other posts of mine.
Which made me think he was trying to be seen as a potential love interest of mine.

on 6th November.

My best friend, Allison, quote retweeted:

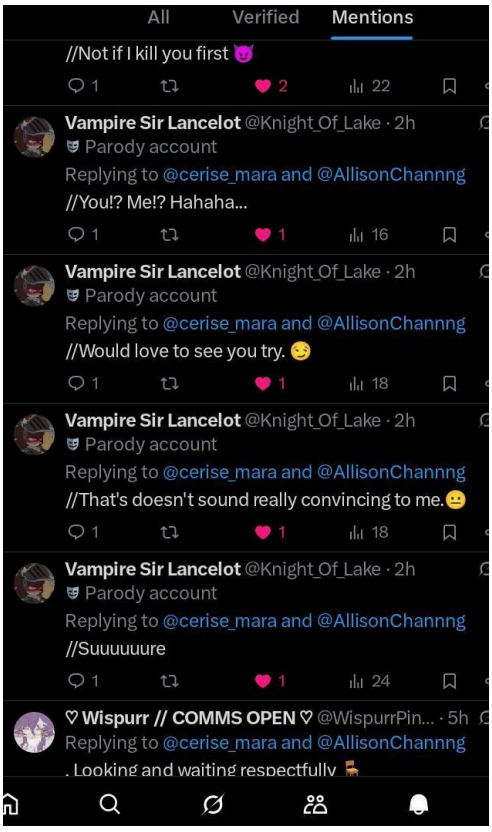

Lance replied to it.
(it's messed up in order, he already deleted them all. I could only see it in the notif tab.)

Yes, I was being flirty, at least that's part of my personality.
but the fact that he even liked them…

For the right order:

My comment: "Slavery..
UHH
AHAH I'M NOT PLANNING ANYTHING I SWEAR AHAHA-"

Lance: "Suuuuuure"

Cerise: "You hear nothing, Lance IT'S NOTHINGGG"

Lance: "That's doesn't sound really convincing to me.😐"

Cerise: "How about I tie you down and tape your mouth to shut-"

Lance: "Would love to see you try. 😏"

Cerise: "I'll choke you"

Lance: "You?! Me?! Hahaha..."

Cerise: "harder until you pass out <3"

Lance: "Not if I kill you first 😈"

Cerise: "Oh you can't. You're still tied up, you won't escape~

Lance: "Are you sure about that?!"

and that one last reply that Lance liked.

It is my fault for initiating it.
But purposely, I needed to see how much more he can let me. For more evidence I could gather to know if he even cared about boundaries.

..he should have never participated nor let it continue, for it to escalate that way.

Mrs. Scourge saw that, and posted this, as one of Lance's mutuals blocked him.

That led him to post this:

And so I made my account private.
3 hours after that post, he noticed the change. He DM'ed me despite his statement earlier.

Overdramatic I was.

(note: again, I don't have screenshots, the old chats are deleted.)
The next day, I replied to him back that I needed some time away. That I was the one who started it, that he shouldn't blame himself too much.

and he told me he was feeling okay.
… that we both shared blame for this. Both our own faults. That he'll try to use that experience to be a "better person."

I see…
(I wonder if he does that recently?)

He said the important thing is to be able to move on.
I replied to him later that I felt slightly better, which made him relieved.

Then he went back to posting normally as usual. Talking to others as usual. Which was too… fast? I couldn't even process it fully. But okay…

He didn't realize? Are you kidding?? He told me there are boundaries he didn't want to overstep.

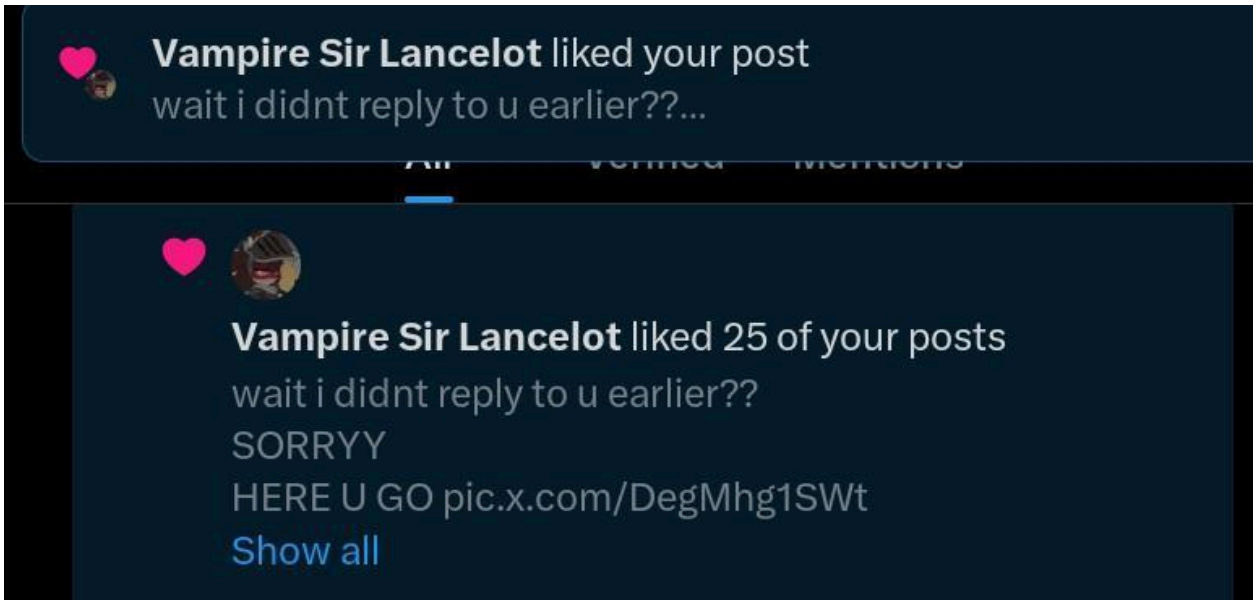

Ofc he stopped. But not in public… unsurprisingly
(And for him to rethink? He's been doing the same shit to me recently. Worse.)

I talked with him in the GC asking him for when and how he met me. He told me that my art appeared in his timeline, he “immediately” followed. Well, that’s a pretty manipulative lie.

He actually didn’t follow me back despite liking 17+ of my posts in late August until 14th of September when he noticed Yadi commented on my Doom Shadow art (the one he’s currently promoting like insane) where we first chatted about my very personal qrt to it.

Soon after that, he started liking more and more up to 30+ posts of mine to tease me. (including my replies to other people)
I did it back and it got up to 99 posts of his. Same as he did with over a 100.

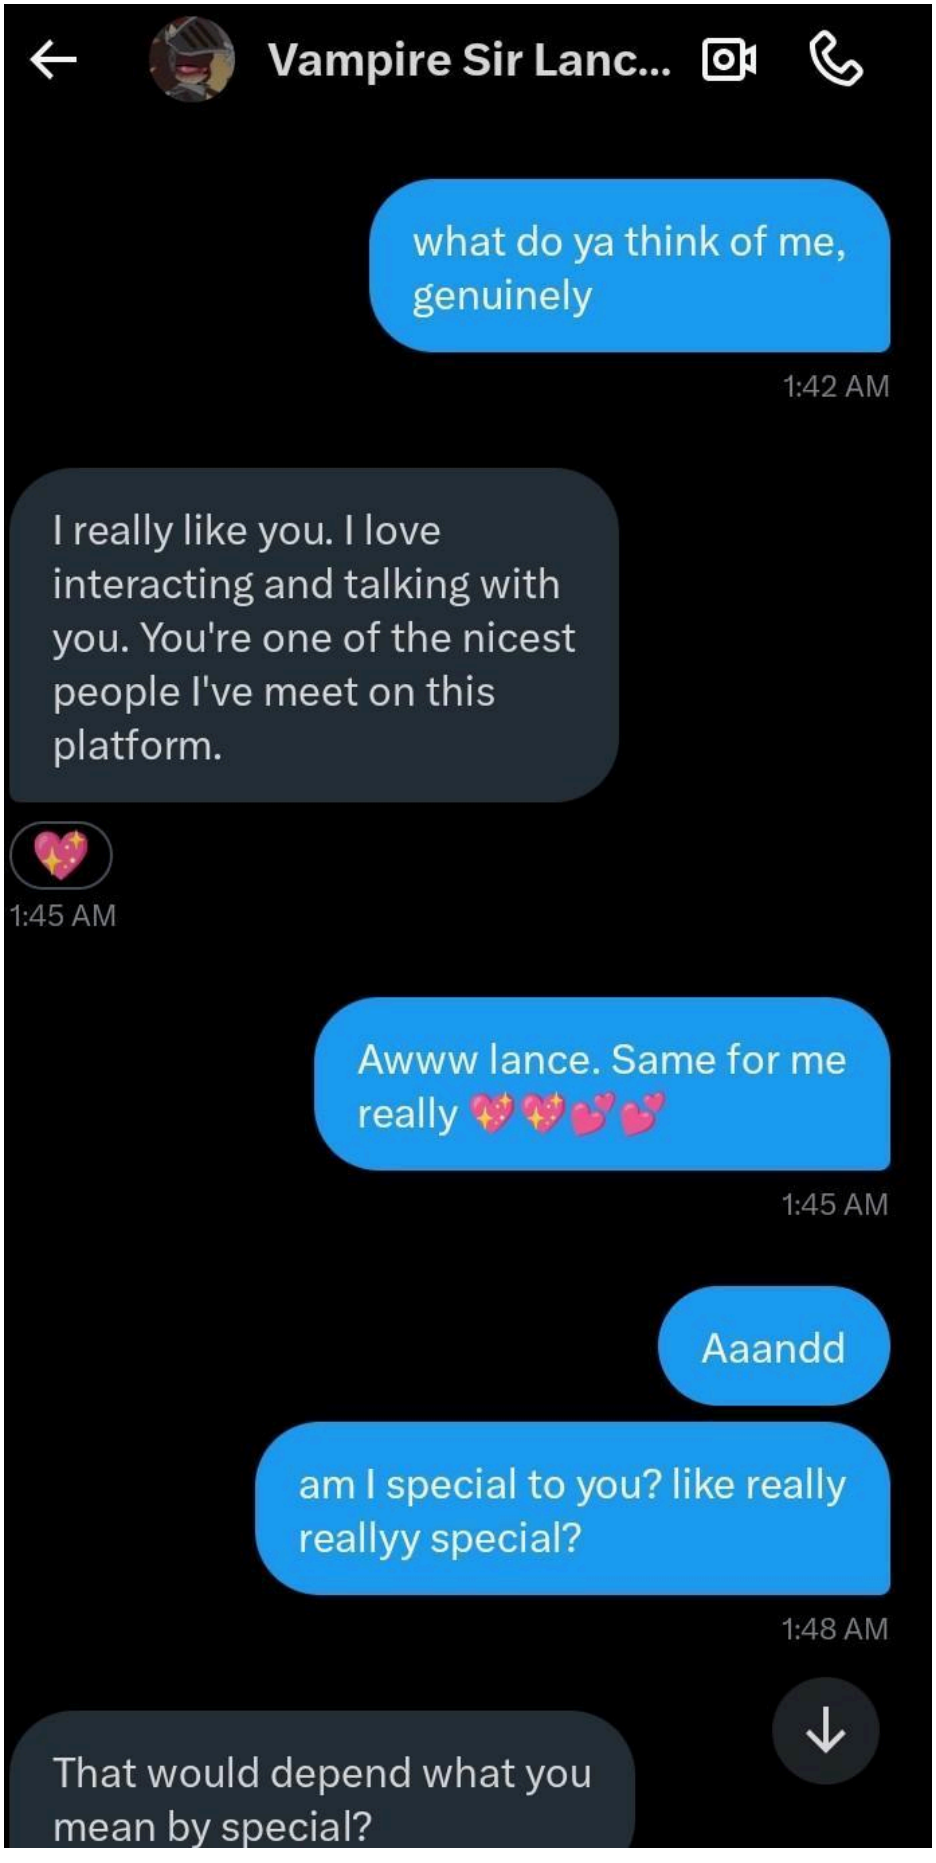

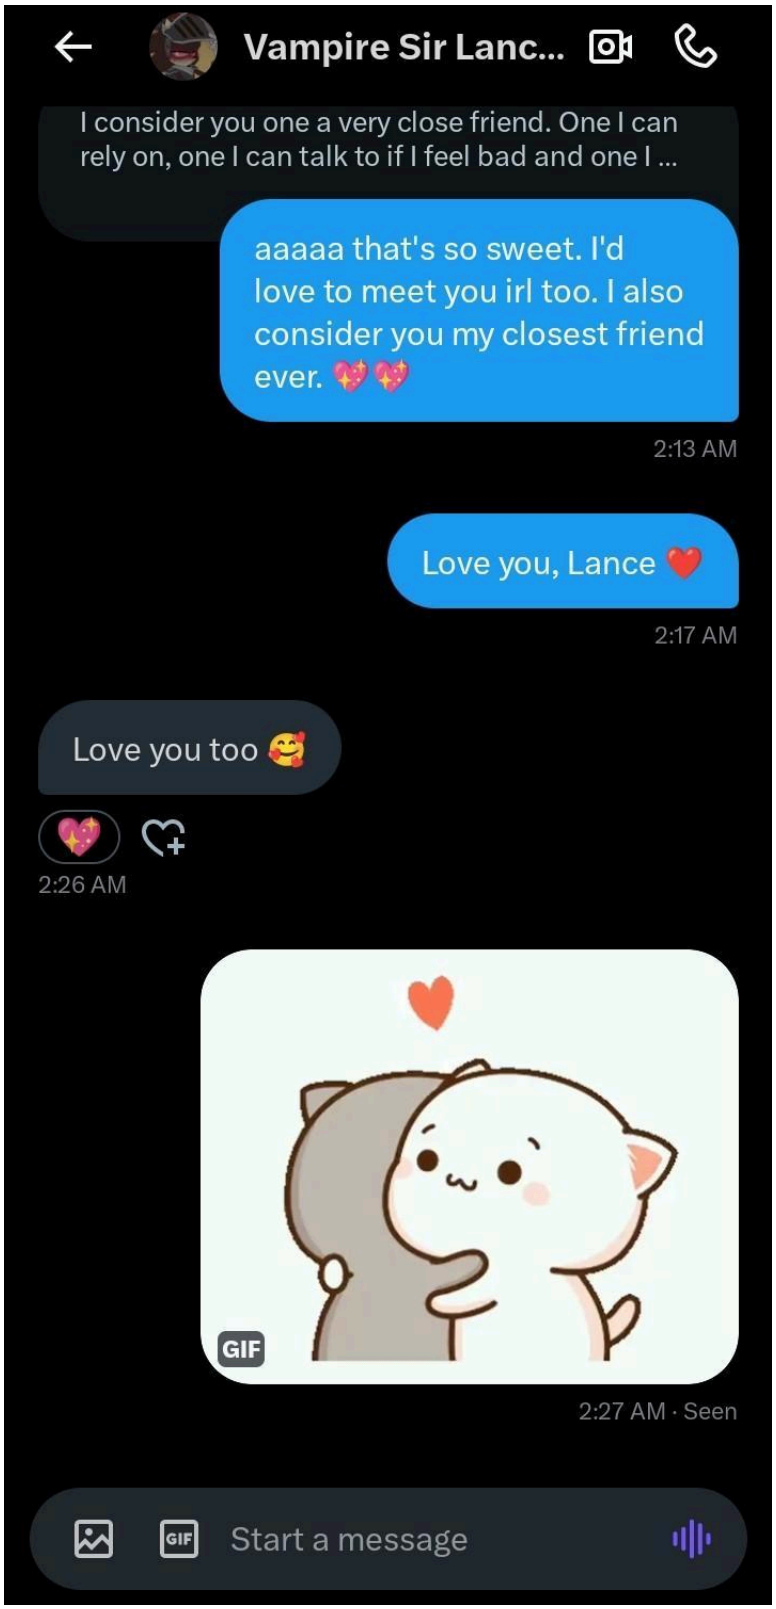

Friends messing with each other ig.

But I kinda hate how I was enjoying that too much… with an old man.

He can rely on me (my attention…?), one he would love to meet me IRL… for what? What do you intend to do to meet a minor in-person, who you just met online a few months ago, someone you completely don't know? Honestly, that weirds me tf out. I'm not interested in meeting someone I don't know fully, let alone a foreigner. Because ngl, this feels like coming from a possessive freak trying to make me think that I surely will decide to meet him IRL… when I get old for him. Nobody, not even my old and new online friends, says that to me. If we do, I can never know what you might do to me. And that, makes me afraid.

Was he being extra manipulative here? Oh I could never know.

…that is, a major sign of a red flag.

I hate how he just accepted all of this with no problems. It only made me continue doing so, eventhoughIknewit'sallwrongBut Iwas-

Half of the day, every day I've spent with him.
Reacting to fan media, joking, venting…

And he's so sweet, so kind… So affectionate with me.

We had been sending each other GIFS of kissing and hugging every day. Saying I love you's, saying nice things. He's very supportive of me, both art and personal. He could go crazy in sending my art over 15 people's dms. Quote retweeting those to communities to have it spread to others' tl.

He's too nice to me.
He's nothing bad.

Just complimenting my art… as well… as my face I first revealed. That I'm cute, pretty… "everything else" …

He's the only man who's giving me this much attention.

It's… addictive.

That…

made me fall in love with him.
I really didn't want that feeling. But I did.

I often stay up late till 4-6 AM for him many times. I feel empty whenever he goes inactive.
I ruined my sleep schedule for him.
I ruined my academics for him.
I ruined my life.for.Him.

This early December, I posted this.

And Lance never commented nor did he liked it. Not surprised. He didn't want to look obvious.

just like that… him being silent about the idea of us together.

I talked to him more in the DMs after the confession.
No, I can't love you. I can't love a man. You shouldn't love me back.

I confessed early because I expected Lance would reject me (for he should know boundaries), so that I can easily move on and become friends as usual. He's the wrong person I fell for. I simply did the act of killing this love in hopes for a rejection.

But, he didn't…

When he agreed that,
I…
I squealed when he said that. I felt so happy, so euphoric that I didn't care about anything else, that I would do anything for this man, that I would "love" to meet him irl, that I would even marry him whenI'm inmytwentieshavekidsand-

I fucking lost my logical thinking after that.

So looking back on this now,

Who in their right mind wants to FUCJING DATE with a 16-TURNING-17 YEAR OLD GIRL to wait a year until she can finally grow OLD to LEGALLY FUCK WITH as. A. 30. YEAR. OLD. MAN. ???

That is predatory behavior.

An online friend we were talking about.

Basically, we were thinking of meeting with each other IRL when we're dating.

For context, he lives in the Czech Republic and I live in the Philippines. As for that, it is a greater distance between us.

I was foolishly excited to be with him.

He didn't seem to be much against the idea. He was… seemingly genuine about wanting to meet me IRL.
And dating adds points to this,

I'm afraid…
He's gotten possessive of me.

I fell into a situationship trap.

We were flirting with each other like a "couple" kind of vibe.

And we weren't even official, "yet."

I was waiting for Lance to respond, but nothing.
He would've done the same for me often. He could've said something as simple as “Goodbye, cerise”

But, okay, whatever. I wasn't going to waste more time so I just left.

Since I have access to Allison's account, I could take a look at it.

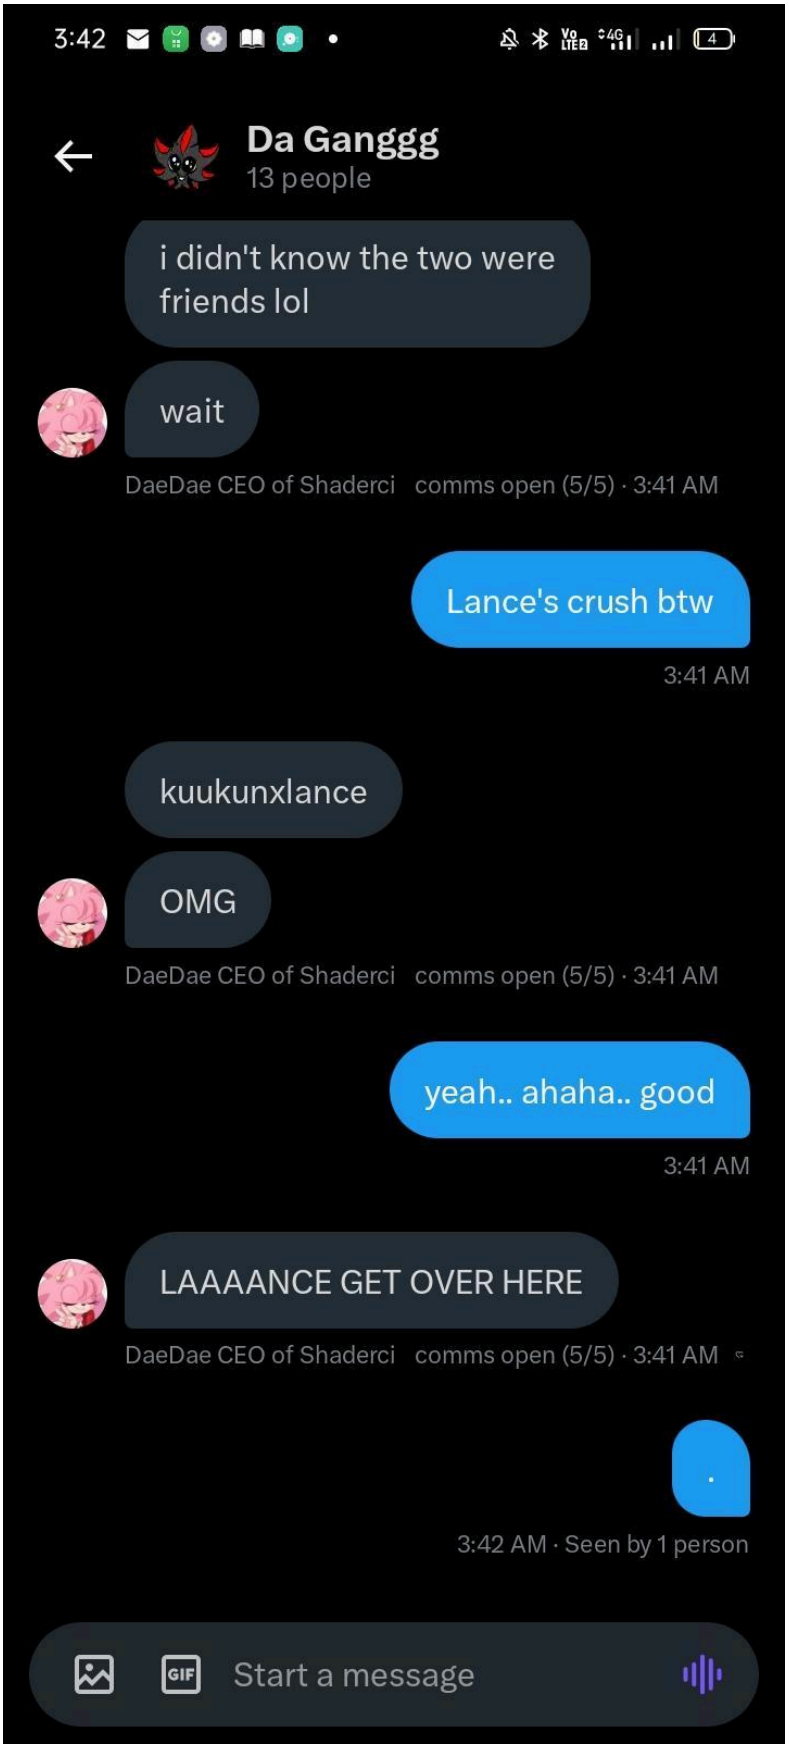

And nobody reacted to our final leaving.

My other reason for why I left, because Lance let Dae ship him and his crush (a popular artist) together..
When we were still in a situationship days before… Which I ended things with him here

(He just said that. Like, just that… sigh.)

And,
I was the one who planned it – suggesting it to Dae for adding his crush there. That she'll be shipping them… hopefully so I can even move on. To stop loving him, and make him get himself a potential lover.

But, my jealousy was killing me the whole time but I had to keep the mask. Be kind, be kind…

And the whole thing was happening.

Just me pretending, pretending…

Until I kinda felt like I wanted to die.

@THAT_luca, my friend, who I asked for help many weeks ago about Lance when I was in a vulnerable state of growing unhealthy attachment with him. The groomer case was almost closed as we concluded he's “safe,” assuming he was being a genuine, supportive friend… until now.

Luca saw that “I fell in love with someone.” post of mine, and he asked me in the DM for who the person I fell in love with.

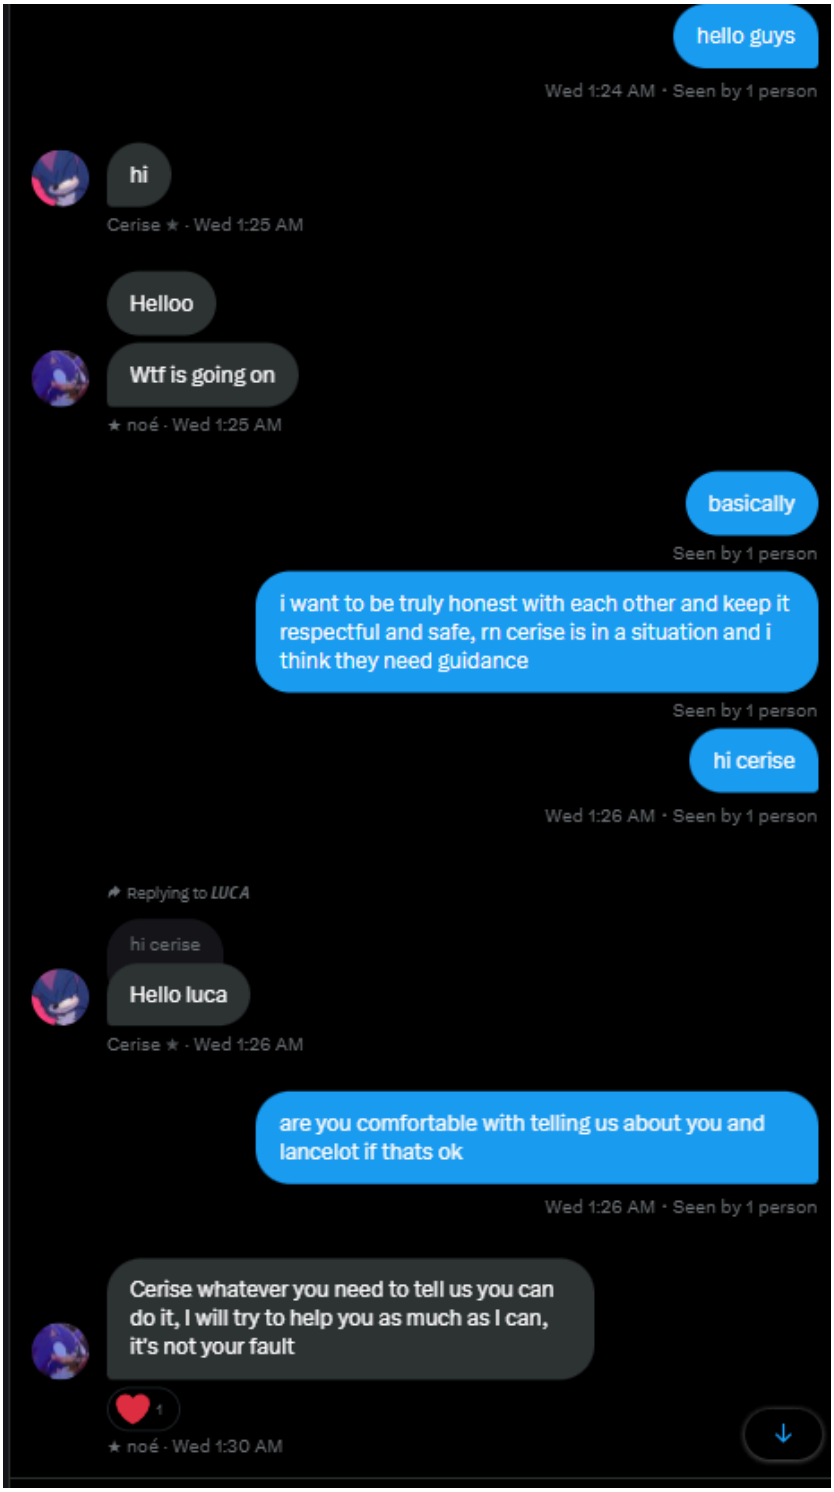

I was hesitant for a few minutes whether I should tell him about it since I was in a situationship with Lance, and I had to keep our relationship hidden, or not at all.

…And my instincts kicked in, feeling that this was all wrong. He's twice my age and I wondered what's even good for me to date with that man?
I realize that maybe I got myself in a trap and I needed help with guidance… if any of this was right.

(POV OF @THAT_luca_) And he added me to the GC with his partner to talk things with me, both of whom had similar experiences as I do. So gladly, I receive better guidance and support from them. I appreciate the time they give me. They're the two as my most caring friends, along with Allison, (and others.)

If Luca didn't dm me this.

I would still be in love with that man. That the dating will still happen.

He sent a few posts of a Sonadow fankid on the GC before, and I was the only one reacting to that, with us calling them adorable baby. People were quiet about it.

And he sent me this in my DM. So what's this implying? He likes babies? babies with me? am I going crazy??

Additionally,
Lance often shared posts of sonadow, shadamy, sonamy, lansoni, etc. (some of which were suggestive). Some of my friends seem to be uncomfortable, since I'm the one who mostly gives a lot of hype.

He shared a post of the Bunny Service, that is, a suggestive sonadow art for our other member, @FeralFaeWrites, our 14 year old friend.

Although I made a mistake as well, he did ask me in my dm if he could send that to our gc, and I said yes without thinking. (I'm hypersexual and all I thought was to have fun reacting with those)

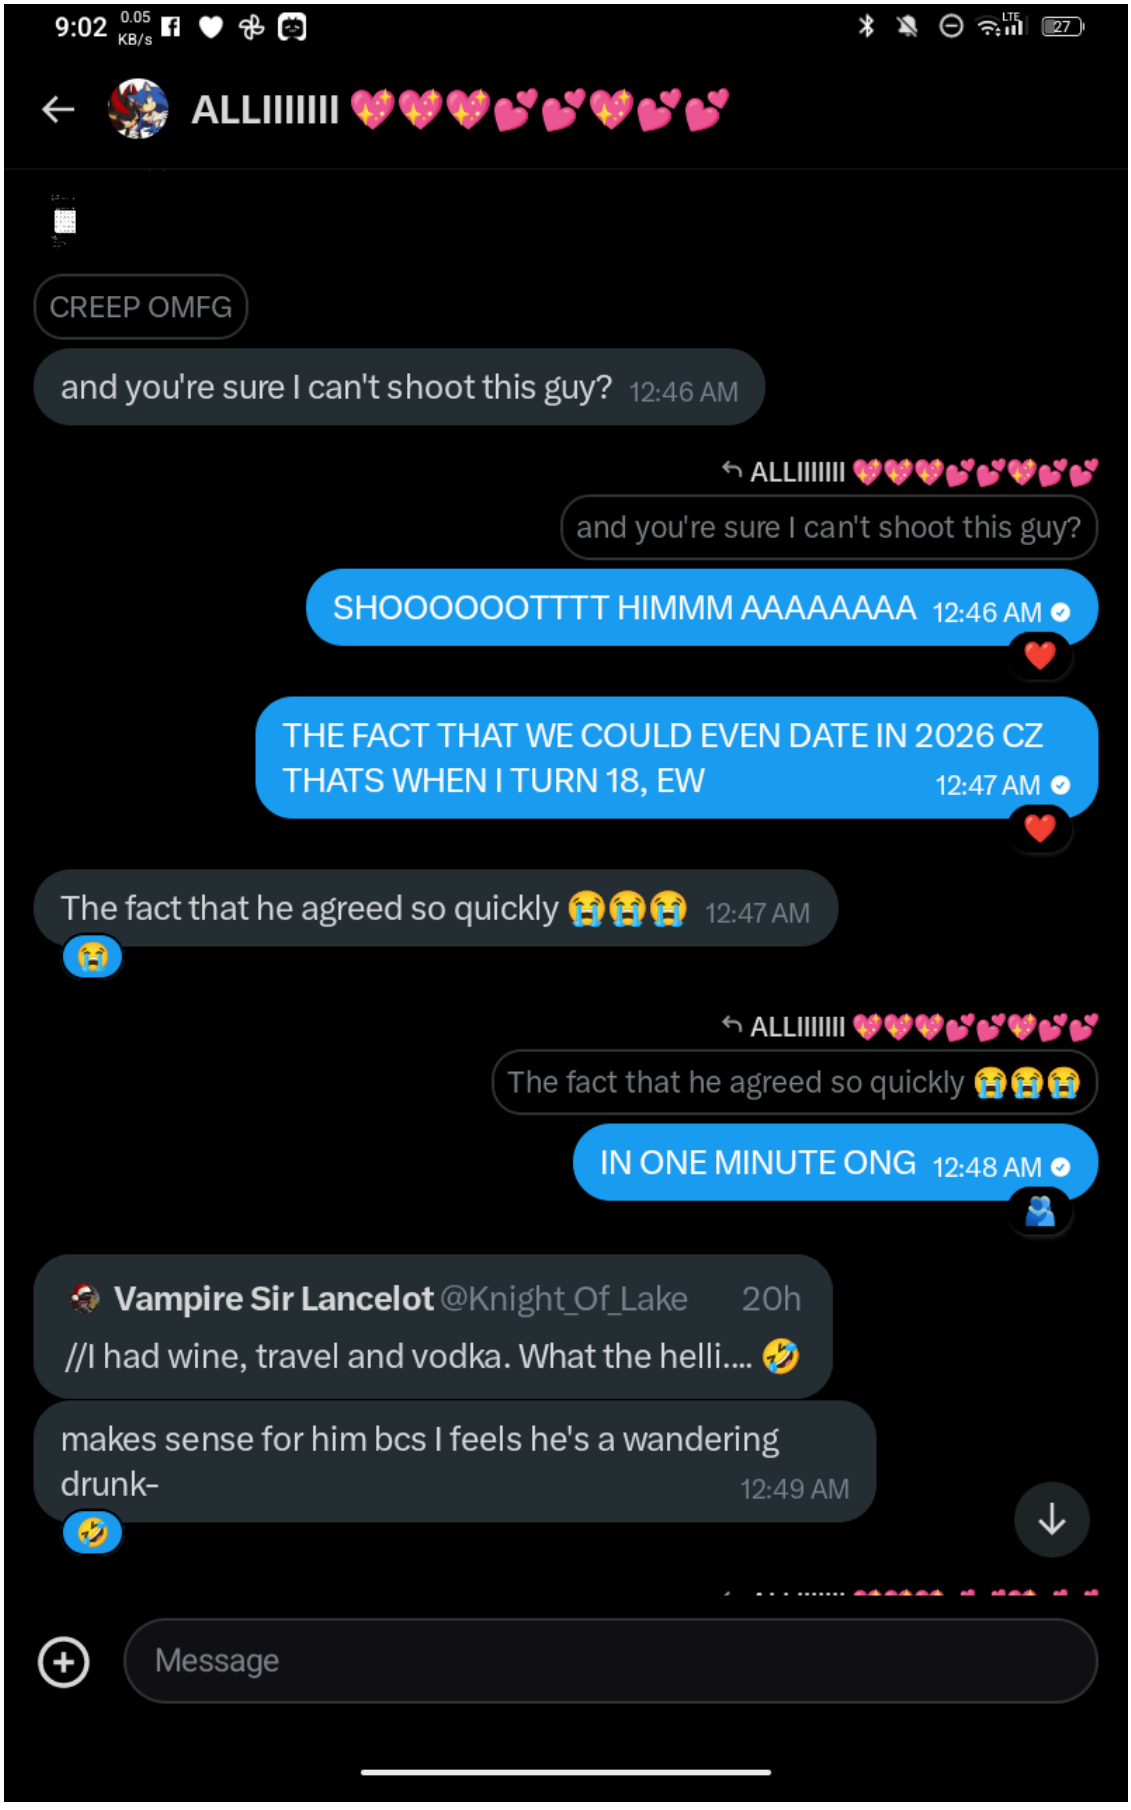

And I realized how weird it was for him to even think of sending that for someone who's even younger than me.

… yeah idk what to say.

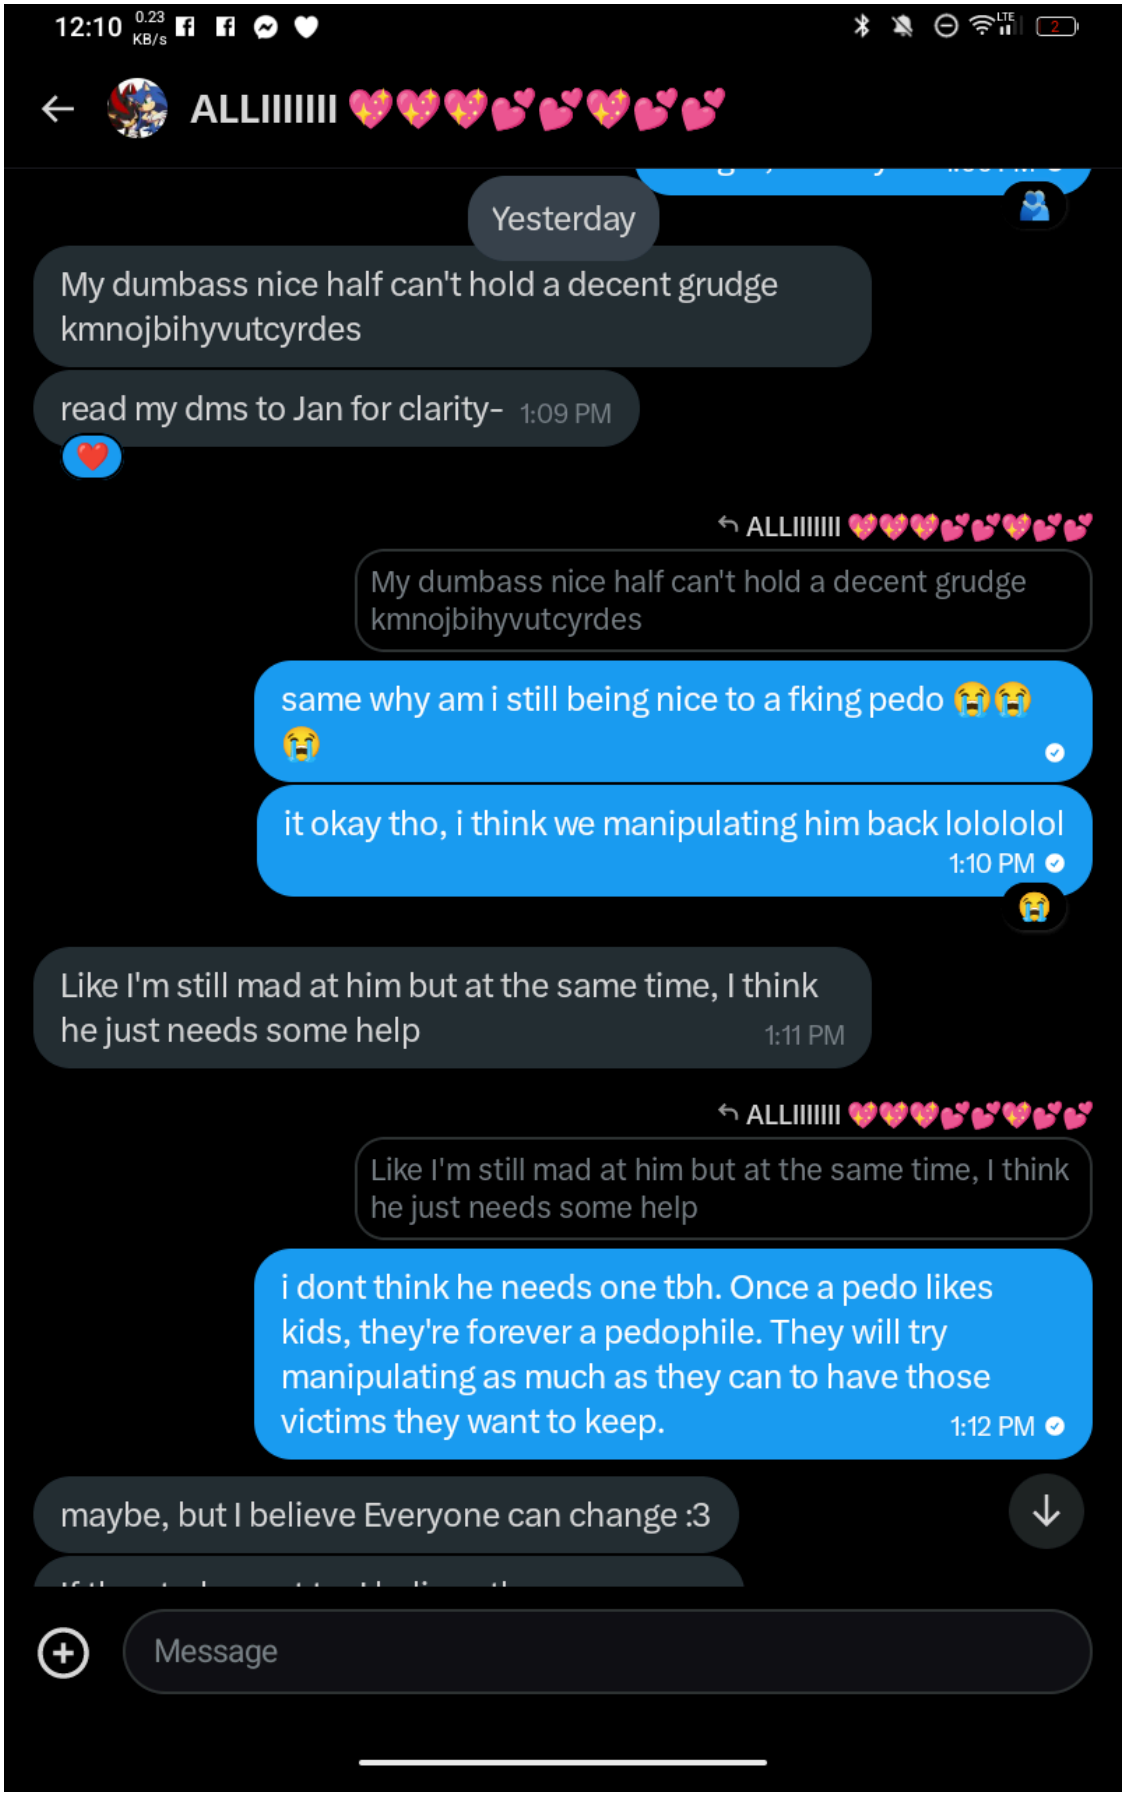

And,

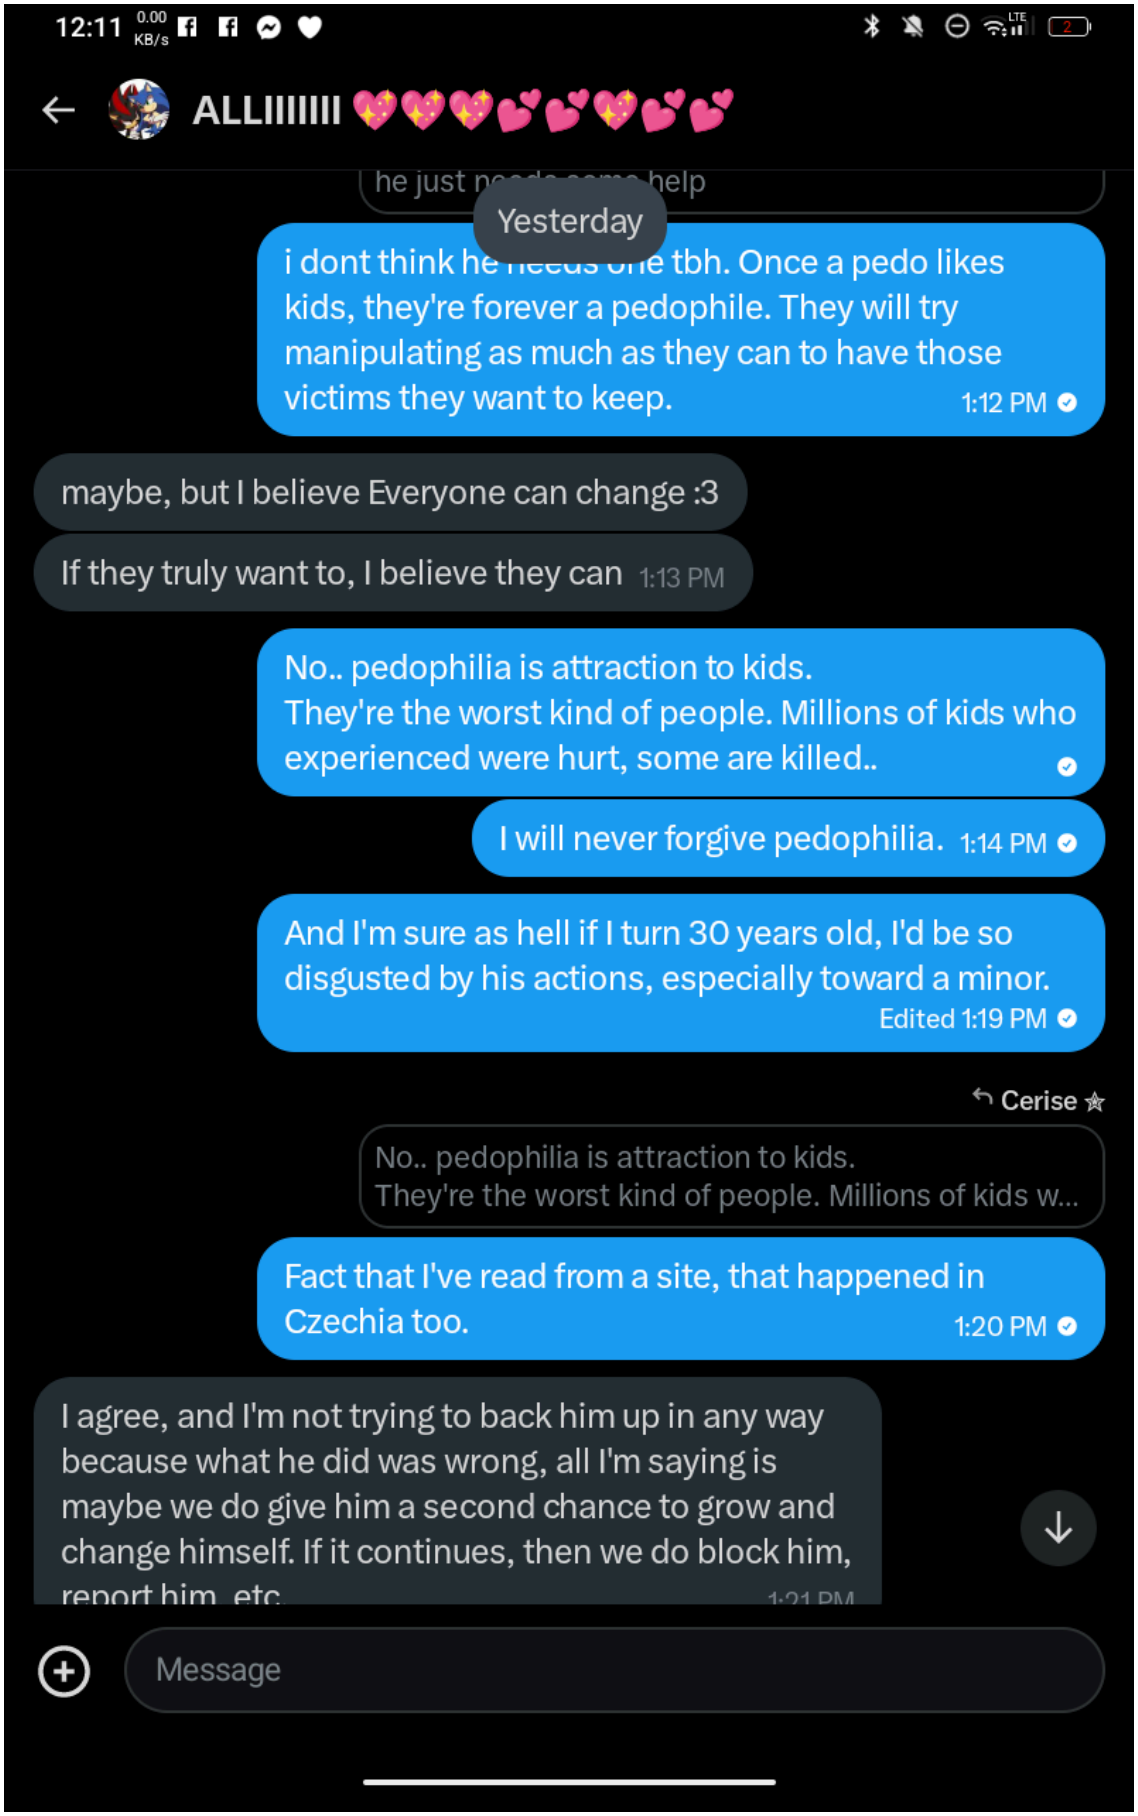

he's doing the same thing to Alli, after which I didn't feel like talking to him.

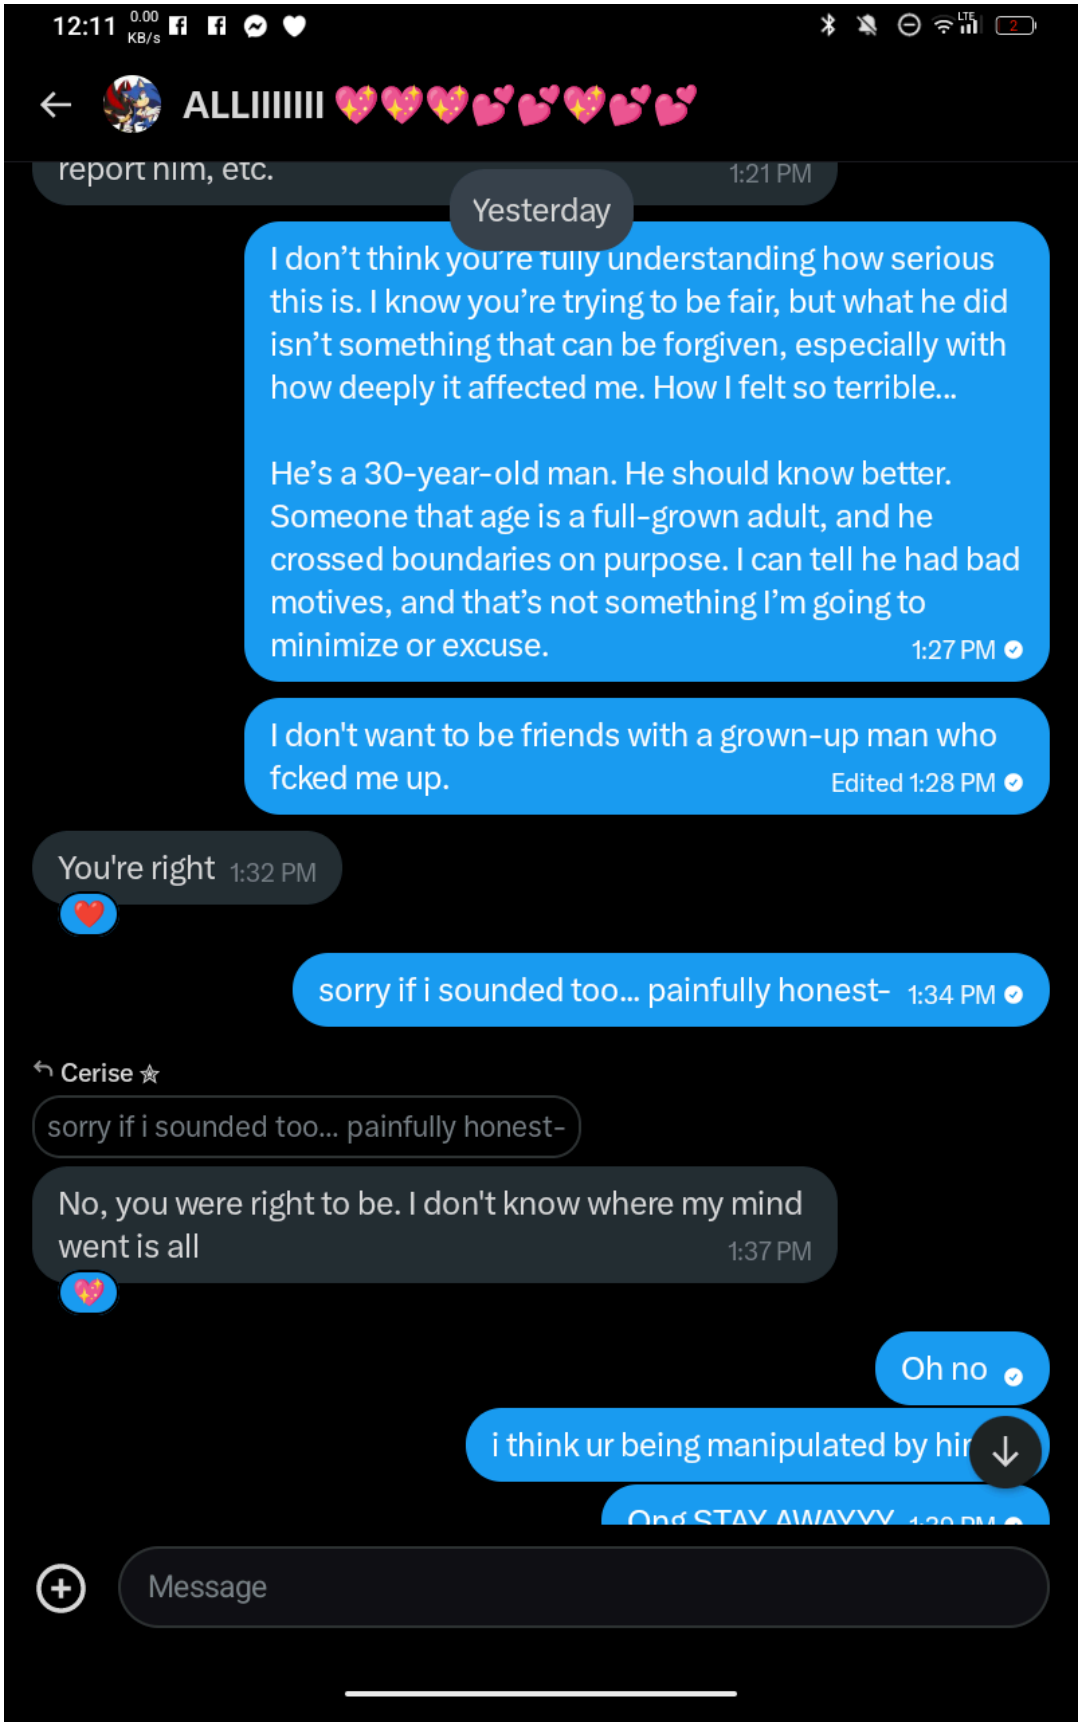

Told him multiple times for him to stay away from Allison, (as I have access to her account to this DM) yet they both keep talking. Manipulating Allison even, to make her stay, so he can have her to be kind and be caring to him. That kind of attention he wants from a minor who can be vulnerable enough to be able to trust him. To no one who's the same age as him, but someone younger.

They're the worst kind of people. Millions of kids who experienced were hurt, some are killed..

This is our online friend, @Organic⌀verlord POV, talking with Allison.

And I need this shit to be over.

One of my private journal entries I wrote in October (as I was still in a normal state of mind before all this)

“What's his reason for being this overly friendly to me?
Because in my opinion. When a 30+ year old man talks like that to a 16 yo girl who's a minor, I find that to be creepy and weird, even if there isn't romance or... sexual stuff involved.

That is why I'm hyperfixating on this shit like hell. I'm a sensitive person who is easily attached. What I'm doing is protecting myself. And I do not want to fall for any trap I am not aware of.

It doesn't even have to be obvious.

What he's doing is just unusual. It's how groomers would do, making younger people trust them in the beginning stage. But without the obvious shit. Keeping an adult's secret feelings intact without risking and continuing talking with someone younger.

That is, my insight on this.

20s can be a red flag. But 30s? That's like... way huge than I can handle, and honestly I feel intimidated.

Ok now I'm starting to connect dots from reddit posts, legality of this... It's not okay. I have not made a conclusion yet, no.
I just need to learn about this when I couldn't as a child.

I've been overthinking over every reason. And I can't find a good one that could convince me enough that it's just casual friendship.

Not a good reason enough,

...but bad in a way how I feel.

I concluded. It's emotional grooming. ”

Hate me or not,
if you think I'm doing this for clout, if you think I'm accusing him, if you think I'm victimizing myself… You're very heartless.

I can never forgive pedophiles. They hurt me in the past. Both IRL and online.

Emotionally, romantically, and sexually.

Using me because I'm younger. That's what made them think it’s hotter and prettier that way.

That shit fucked me up, and I hate that I'm still going through this one again.

Pedophiles never have a good heart. They hurt innocent kids. Many lives were lost… were tortured, and were killed brutally.
It's all for their selfish gain of pleasure. To please their own attraction.

Once a pedophile, is always a pedophile.

It doesn't matter where. It doesn't matter how friendly they can try to be. Whoever the fuck they are, whatever the fuck they want to do them with, they still bring pain to those who should have never have gone through.

Like any other criminals there are.

…they never change.

And if you can't feel bad for those kids
You're not a human

You're a fucking monster.
