SL: If you're gonna join... now's the moment

Hey,

Lemme guess.

You've seen Presence Pillars around.

Maybe once. Maybe a dozen times.

You've read the stories. The growth. The numbers.

You've probably even hovered over the join button once or twice.

Then life happened.

You got busy. You overthought. You scrolled past.

And now we're here- last email before the price goes up forever.

{first_name},

5 years ago, I was broke as hell.

I had no plan. No team. No safety net.

Just walked away from a partnership that was supposed to be my escape plan.

And suddenly, there was no way out.

All I had?

Just me, a busted laptop, and X.com.

Today, However-

I work with the biggest businesses and make multiple 7-figures

And I did it all without begging in DMs or forcing offers down throats.

How?

I invested 3 years in providing value, building a network and growing my reach on X

Presence Pillars is the blueprint.

Everything I learned. Everything I applied. Everything that got me here.

Inside, you'll find the exact steps to go from "nobody knows me" to "oh shit, he's everywhere."

At 11:59 PM tonight, we're switching to a yearly mentorship model.

Which means this is your last shot to grab access and never pay again.

My friend, whether you've got 40 followers or 4,000- doesn't matter.

We've helped people grow from scratch, and we've helped people explode what they've already built.

This will work if you show up and do the damn thing.

If you've been watching from the sidelines, this is your signal. Right here. Right now.

Jump in or miss out.

SL:12-hour grind OR actually see your family?

Hey [First Name],

When I first started my business, I got a lot of advice.

“Post 5 times a day on socials”

“Invest X amount on a guru course”

“Spend hours cold DMing strangers”

Haha! No thanks -_-

I became a nurse to help people, not to play the internet hustle game.

And honestly?

The thought of grinding like that made me want to quit before I started.

Instead, I found something different:

- No spammy messages to people I didn't know.
- No massive upfront costs that left me stressed.
- No complicated tech, I didn't have time to learn.

I wanted something safe, simple, and proven.

That's exactly what I found in the Business Builder Challenge.

Look, I know what it's like to work yourself to the bone...

Then come home and realize you've missed dinner with your loved ones-again.

And the food's cold, and so is the conversation.

So, I'll not go around offering you a $997 course.

Or tell you to spend hours DMing strangers.

But

I do have something perfect for you.

Something I found when I was on the brink of burnout in November 2022

Don't Worry,

It's $17.

It's step-by-step.

And it's built for busy people like you who can't afford to waste time.

If you're serious about breaking free, here's your chance:
