Subject: You won't believe what's still wide open on Amazon KDP...

Hey [First Name],

Most low-content niches on Amazon are brutally crowded now.

Coloring books? Saturated. Word searches? Saturated. Generic journals? Saturated.

But there's ONE low-content niche where demand keeps climbing and supply still can't keep up — planners, diaries, and calendars.

With Techo Royalty, you can build a full planner book in one sitting — drag, drop, export PNG or KDP-ready PDF. No Canva grind. No designers. No PLR packs everyone else also bought.

See how it works here: [Link]

Cheers, Ike

P.S. If you can drag and drop, you can build your first planner today: [Link]

Subject: The simplest way to build planner books (no design skills)

Hey [First Name],

What if you could skip the Canva headaches, the misaligned margins, and the "why doesn't page 18 match page 17" moments?

Techo Royalty runs in your browser. You stack drop-in sections — habit grids, mood rows, time slots, kanban boards, macro circles — onto pages like Lego bricks. Then export PNG + PDF ready for Amazon KDP or Etsy.

What's included:

- Drag-and-drop planner editor
- 303 stock templates across 30+ niches
- 30+ section types you can stack
- Bulk book builder (whole book in one go)
- Year calendar generator with real dates
- PNG & PDF export

Subject: Publishing planner books used to be a pain. Not anymore.

Hey [First Name],

Building planner books used to mean: hours in Canva dragging boxes, paying $200+ to freelance designers, or buying PLR packs that 8,000 other publishers also bought.

Techo Royalty makes it simple:

- Pick a stock template (or start blank)
- Drag, drop, stack the sections you want
- Export PNG or PDF that's ready to upload

Subject: What most people don't realize about Amazon KDP buyers...

Hey [First Name],

Open Amazon right now and search "planner," "diary," or "calendar."

You'll see thousands of buyers leaving reviews this week. The category is evergreen, gift-driven, and hyper-searched — and most of the supply is mediocre.

That's the gap.

With Techo Royalty, you can build planner books fast — then export PNG + PDF and fill that gap on your terms.

Subject: Want to see how easy this really is?

Hey [First Name],

Is it actually possible to build professional planner books without being "a designer"?

With Techo Royalty, yes.

- Pick a template (or start blank)
- Drag in the sections you want
- Stack pages into a full book
- Export PNG + PDF

Email 5

Subject: "Will this work for me?" Here's the real question...

Hey [First Name],

Fair question. Here's the real test:

Do you want a tool that removes the annoying parts — page-by-page Canva work, freelance designers, duplicate PLR packs — so you can focus on building books and uploading them?

Techo Royalty keeps it simple:

- Browser-based drag-and-drop editor
- 303 templates + 30+ section types
- Clean PNG + PDF exports
- The planner niche people are already buying

Email 6

Subject: What's stopping you from building your first planner book?

Hey [First Name],

If you've been thinking about planners, diaries, or calendars on Amazon KDP, you don't need to "figure everything out" first.

Start with the easiest win: build one planner book this weekend.

Techo Royalty gives you the editor, 303 templates, 30+ drop-in sections, bulk book mode, and PNG/PDF export — plus 4 bonus tools (PDF Page Mover, Interior Generator, Cover Calculator, KDP Keyword Finder).

Subject: Who the heck is "Planner Pete"?

Hey [First Name],

Google sends clicks... but Amazon KDP has buyers showing up ready to spend.

And planner buyers? They're searching every single day. Daily planners, fitness journals, ADHD trackers, pregnancy logs, finance books — the category never sleeps.

Techo Royalty helps you build those books fast and export PNG + PDF for publishing.

Subject: Only a few people are doing this the simple way

Hey [First Name],

Most people overcomplicate planner publishing. They start with Canva... when they should start with a real planner engine.

With Techo Royalty, you can:

- Stack drop-in sections instead of dragging boxes
- Use 303 stock templates across 30+ niches
- Build a whole book in bulk mode
- Export PNG + PDF cleanly

Subject: Quick heads-up: easiest "starter kit" for planner books

Hey [First Name],

If you've been looking for a clean way to build planner books without fancy software... this is for you.

Techo Royalty is built for:

- 30+ section types (habit grids, mood rows, time slots, kanban, macro circles)
- 303 stock templates
- Manual customization in your browser
- PNG/PDF exports that are actually usable

Details here: [Link]

Sincerely, Ike

Email 3

Subject: Is this the fastest way to publish planner books this year?

Hey [First Name],

If your goal is speed without messy formatting, this is worth a look.

Techo Royalty gives you:

- Daily / Weekly / Fitness / Finance / ADHD / Pregnancy / Pet / Niche planners
- Drag-and-drop control with snap guides
- Bulk book builder for whole-book assembly
- PNG + PDF export for publishing

Email 4

Subject: The advantage most new publishers miss

Hey [First Name],

A lot of people get stuck because they try to "design a book" before they have strong pages.

Stop designing. Start stacking.

Techo Royalty's section-stacking method lets you drop in pre-built modules — habit grids, time slots, mood rows — and assemble pages in minutes instead of hours.

Then export PNG + PDF and you're done.

Email 5

Subject: One tweak that makes planner books feel "premium"

Hey [First Name],

Quick tip: consistency sells. Clean spacing, aligned sections, smooth page-to-page flow.

That's why the section-stacking method matters — every module snaps into place so your pages always look like a designer made them.

Techo Royalty lets you:

- Drop in pre-built sections
- Stack them into full pages
- Reorder pages with one click
- Export PNG + PDF
