Biography

Lawrence Baker was the younger son of Katie Baker and Boris Baker. Lawrence had an older brother, of whom he was 15 when he was born. His brother, Jacob Baker, was like any normal brother, helping him out when needed.

Lawrence took many subjects, mainly criminal justice and law. At age 24, he joined the CIA and went on many missions. At age 34, his father died at age 56 from unknown causes. His father was a great businessman, a director of a large company which made millions each year. His older brother, Jacob Baker, now 49, was the new director of the company, taking his father's place. On 15/04/2013, they had their father's funeral. Many of his family members showed up to pay their respects to his father.

A few years later, on a mission ordered by the director of the CIA, he met SCP-8854. He watched his group teammates slowly turn into skeletons, like SCP-8854, but dead. Luckily, Mobile Task Force Omega-15 "Clone Troopers" came into the area, after getting their mission that SCP-8854 was in that very area. SCP-8854 was then neutralised after tests were completed. MTF O-15 took Lawrence into Site-322 for interrogation. They decided to hire Lawrence into the SCP Foundation after hearing his occupation and history. He was relocated to Site-65, as a Jr. Researcher. Lawrence made many experiments on many SCPs that were onsite at Site-65. Eventually, he made it up to Sr. Researcher. After a few experiments later, he applied for the position of Exec. Researcher. After his interview, which went excellently said by the Site Director. After a few hours, he was hired for the position of Exec. Researcher. However, he was relocated to Site-78, which made him happy and kind of upset. This was because he made multiple friends at Site-65, but he decided that it would be okay and he would make new friends at Site-78. On this new site he was at, after his quick tour of the site, he taught many researchers alike. He even led multiple cross-tests, cross-trainings, and CL4 SCPs such as SCP-079 at the time. A few months later, SCP-079 was relocated to Site-65, where it is today.

Early Life

Lawrence Baker was the youngest brother, Jacob Baker being the oldest. Jacob was always kind to Lawrence. However, Jacob was secretly a reality-bender. Jacob first learnt about his powers at age 13, when he accidentally dissolved 2 bullies who tried to steal his lunch money. Luckily, nobody saw Jacob do this. Ever since this happened to Jacob, he had always tried to cover it up with some story. Jacob continued on with his school life, trying to act like it didn't happen. Lawrence was noticing Jacob going a bit crazy, but didn't do anything. Jacob eventually gave in with his reality-bending powers. Testing their limits, and what they can do. However, Jacob did not know that the SCP Foundation knew about Jacob and was investigating Jacob. Lawrence didn't know any of this at the time, not even Jacob's powers.

Lawrence went to school like any normal day, however this day was the day he was choosing his subject exams. The morning, he was cheered on by his parents and his brother, and once he arrived at school he was met with a 15 page long exam for the subject of Math. Later that day, he did another exam for Criminal Justice and Law which was 20 pages long. The rest of the day, he did his English, Spanish, and Science exams. For most of his exam results, he got A+ or A, which his family did a small celebration and treat on this reward. After Lawrence's last day of high school, he went into college and then university where he mainly mained Criminal Justice and Law as well as other majors which helped him with his time in the research department in the future.

One day, when Jacob turned 20, a group of MTF Operatives came into the Baker's household to find Jacob. Lawrence and Katie Baker were not home at the time. Jacob was found in his room, the MTF Operatives placed a SRA to suppress his powers. Boris Baker was at home that day of which the MTF Operatives gave him Class A amnestics. The Baker Family was told that he was going to military camp for a while and this is what they usually do to get their soldiers. Of course, this wasn't actually happening. This was because he was taken in custody at Site-246 for research purposes. It is not confirmed if Lawrence also holds the same reality-bending powers that his brother has.
