

NO FLOATING PRISONS

Dear Suella Braverman,

We, the undersigned, are writing to express deep concern about the proposal to house people seeking asylum arriving to the UK on the barge 'Bibby Stockholm' as of July 2023.

For many people seeking asylum arriving in the UK, the sea represents a site of significant trauma as they have been forced to cross it on one or multiple occasions. Housing people on a sea barge - which we argue is equal to a floating prison - is morally indefensible, and threatens to retraumatise a group of already vulnerable people.

As we understand, the barge is currently being modified to increase its capacity from 220 to 500, which means people will be tightly packed into rooms with no privacy and little ability to move freely. Conservative MP Richard Drax has himself expressed concerns about unanswered questions such as how people seeking asylum will be able to come and go safely through the port, what activities they will be provided with and how sufficient healthcare will be ensured.

When the Bibby Stockholm was used by the Dutch government as an immigration detention site in the 2000s, it is reported that an Algerian national detained onboard died, following a delayed and inadequate response to his deteriorating heart condition. Cases of rape and abuse onboard were also reported. At the time, human rights organisations condemned immigration detention, particularly on ships, as inhumane.

It is without question that this is the wrong solution - morally, ethically, and logistically - for the question of where to house people seeking asylum upon arrival to the UK.

We urge you to abandon these plans and establish a working group consisting of MPs, housing experts, trauma experts and civil society actors to move forward on establishing an appropriate, community-based solution for the accommodation of people seeking asylum.

Yours sincerely,
