

Venus Po

Stardate 96817.3 (26 October (Morning))

Well, everyone's settled in now. They're all excited about this. I have to admit, I don't place much faith in this, but if the Professor says so, then we've got to at least try. I'm going to miss Jolt's second birthday on Friday. I hope I'll be able to use the communications relay then. I might have to twist some arms to make it happen.

Everyone's been working hard today. The probe pulled through and got some amazing radiation samples for us. We've plugged those samples into the machine now, so we'll see what happens. Was a good evening; those ghost stories went down well. Even the Vulcan was scared! Got to make sure I thank you Heinrich. On second thoughts, it'll probably go to your head.

I swear. It was right there. Yemzii was right. There are ghosts here. No. There are no such things as ghosts. You're just being silly, Venus. Tiredness. We made a breakthrough today. It's just the tiredness talking.

I can't take it any more. Every waking breath. Out of the corner of my eye, I can see them. I can feel them. They just killed Yemzii. They're going to kill us all. Oh gods, no. OH GODS THEY'RE GOING TO KILL US ALL.
