

Oxford Bibliographies Activity (Due Tuesday 3/14/23)

1. Choose a student link and add your name next to it. Copy the stanza or idea from Calle 13’s “Latinoamérica” that you plan to highlight in your song collection.
2. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
3. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
4. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest; Enter the title for your article in the table below. The article you choose should connect in some way to the stanza you have chosen.

Student	Oxford Bibliographies Article Title	Stanza from “Latinoamérica”
Student 1	Abolition	No puedes comprar mi vida La tierra no se vende Trabajo bruto, pero con orgullo Aquí se comparte, lo mío es tuyo
Student 2 Patrick Jacob	Mining Extraction in Latin America	I am a smoke factory Peasant labor for your consumption
Student 3 Daniel Evans	Sports in Latin America and the Caribbean	I’m Maradona against England scoring two goals on you
Student 4 Amir Basma	The Haitian Revolution	I am Latin America, A nation without legs but still walking. This nation doesn’t drown with the waves. And if it collapses I rebuild it.
Student 5 Zack Ye	Revolution and Reaction in Central America	I am the photograph of a disappeared person A people without legs, but that walks, hey!
Student 6 Dean Clasby	Political Exile in Latin America	Tampoco pestañeo cuando te miro Para que te recuerde' de mi apellido La Operación Cóndor invadiendo mi nido Perdono, pero nunca olvido, ¡oye!
Student 7 Elizabeth Lawrence	The Guaraní and Their Legacy	I am, I am what they left I'm all left over from what was stolen
Student 8 Francisca Barria	The New Left in Latin America	Soy lo que me enseñó mi padre El que no quiere a su patria, no quiere a su madre Soy América Latina Un pueblo sin piernas, pero que camina, ¡oye!
Student 9 John Gangemi	Foreign influence on Latin America	My land is not for sale-Operation Condor invading my nest
Student 10 Eric Freeburg	The New Left in Latin America	Soy la fotografía de un desaparecido
Student 11 Chenxuan (Noel) Luo	The New Left in Latin America	Land is not for sale. Hard work, but with pride. Here it is shared, mine is yours.
Student 12 Danny Heberle	Photography in the History of Race and Nation	«Soy la fotografía de un desaparecido»
Student 13 Paola Almendarez	Migration to the United States	Un desierto embriagado con peyote Un trago de pulque para cantar con los coyotes Todo lo que necesito Tengo a mis pulmones respirando azul clarito
Student 14 Zihao Lin	Magical realism	El amor en los tiempos del cólera, mi hermano (Love in the time of Cholera, my brother)
Student 15 Jake Scinta	Human Rights in Latin America	I am the photograph of a disappeared person.
Student 16 Marvin Calderon	Human Rights in Latin America	My skin is of leather that’s why it withstands any weather.
Student 17		El que no quiere a su patria, no quiere a su madre.

Jose Romualdo Zepeda
Student 18 Emily de la Cruz	Soccer (Fútbol) in the Americas	Soy Maradone contra inglaterra anotándote dos goles Soy lo que sostiene mi bandera
Student 19 Desiree Morales	La nación en vaivén: identidad, migración y cultura popular en Puerto Rico	Soy toda la sobra de lo que se robaron
Student 20 Lugardo Marroquin	Zapatista Movement	Soy lo que dejaron, soy toda la sobra de lo que robaron, mano de obra campesina para tu consumo, soy el desarrollo en carne viva
Student 21
Student 22
Student 23
Student 24 Jefferson Turcios	History of Health and Disease in Latin America and the Caribbean, 1600–1870	Soy el mar caribe que vigila las casitas Haciendo rituales de agua bendita La tierra no se vende El jugo de mi lucha no es artificial Porque el abono de mi tierra es natural
Kevin Bibiano	Poverty in Latin America - Amos Megged	(Vamos caminando) Aquí se respira lucha (Vamos caminando) Yo canto porque se escucha

Student 1: Directions:

- 5. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
- 6. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
- 7. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Abolition
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Andrews, George Reid. Afro-Latin America, 1800–2000. New York: Oxford University Press, 2004. Perhaps the most important synthetic work on slavery and abolition since Tannenbaum’s Slave and Citizen (1946) and one based far more on empirical research than Tannenbaum’s suggestive essay. The first three chapters are remarkable overviews of late colonial slavery, the struggles for independence and abolition, and the democratic potential of post-independence and post-slavery nation-building in Latin America. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0002.xml#obo-9780199766581-0002-bibItem-0001
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
George Reid Andrews	Afro-Latin America, 1800–2000 .	2004	Oxford University Press
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Rhees Stacks ; F1419.N4 A63 2004 or Ebook Central Academic Complete
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0023
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
One observation I had was that it is really is to go down a rabbit hole of related topics and sources but in order to find the most relevant information you should keep refining your search. That being said, It can also end up changing the direction of your research based on findings and related topics which is great.

Student 2 Directions:

8. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
9. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
10. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Mining Extraction in Latin America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Brown, Kendall. A History of Mining in Latin America: From the Colonial Era to the Present. Albuquerque, NM: University of New Mexico Press, 2012. This book takes the reader through Latin America’s colonial and postcolonial history of mining. The emblematic mines of Potosí in Bolivia form the author’s starting point, but the different chapters of the book also pay attention to mining areas in Mexico, Peru, Chile, and Brazil. Thematically, the book focuses on the changing capitalist relations, labor conditions, worker’s resistance, and the use of technology that marked this rich history. https://www-oxfordbibliographies-com.ezp.lib.rochester.edu/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0268.xml#obo-9780199766581-0268-bibltem-0006
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Brown, Kendall	A History of Mining in Latin America: From the Colonial Era to the Present.	2012	University of New Mexico Press
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Ebook Central https://ebookcentral.proquest.com/lib/rochester/reader.action?docID=1118944
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0166
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		Yes
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
I think it is great for finding sources.

Student 3 Directions:

11. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
12. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
13. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?

Student 4 Directions:

14. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
15. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
16. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
The Haitian Revolution
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Hector, Michel. “Problèmes du passage à la société postesclavagiste et postcoloniale (1791–1793/1820–1826).” Paper presented at a conference held in Port-au-Prince in May 2005. In Genèse de l’État haïtien (1804–1859). Edited by Michel Hector and Laënnec Hurbon, 93–117. Horizons Américains. Paris: Éditions de la Maison des Sciences de l’Homme, 2009. An analysis of the broad structural issues involved in the transition from slavery to freedom in Haiti, and of the implications of this process for the situation after independence, especially under the regime of Boyer. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0030.xml#obo-9780199766581-0030-biblItem-0085
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Michel Hector	Genèse de l’État haïtien	2009	Éditions de la Maison des Sciences de l'Homme
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
		Amazon?
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0002
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
Yes		Yes
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Are there English copies for books with French titles?

Student 5 Directions:

17. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
18. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
19. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Revolution and Reaction in Central America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Paige, Jeffrey M. Coffee and Power: Revolution and the Rise of Democracy in Central America. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 1997. Sociological analysis of the relation between coffee production and political developments in Central America. Compares the cases of El Salvador, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica to determine why they took three distinct paths to arrive at neoliberal democracy. He concludes that their distinct landholding patterns are the primary variable. Contains a fascinating section on elite ideologies during the 1980s. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0070.xml#obo-9780199766581-0070-biblItem-0003
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Jeffrey M. Paige	Coffee and Power: Revolution and the Rise of Democracy in Central America	1997	Cambridge
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Rhees Stacks ; HD9199.C82 P35 1997
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0205
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
Yes		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
I think it really helps on elaborate related sources for research.

Student 6 Directions:

20. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
21. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
22. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Political Exile in Latin America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Kaminsky, Amy K. After Exile: Writing the Latin American Diaspora. University of Minnesota Press, 1999. Kaminsky analyzes the literary outpourings of exile writers from Chile, Argentina, and Uruguay during the military dictatorships of the 1970s and 1980s. Examining such writers as Luisa Valenzuela, Cristina Peri Rossi, Mario Benedetti, and José Donoso, Kaminsky addresses, among many other topics, linguistic conflicts (of miscommunication and isolation), questions of national identity, the “otherness” of exile, and gender issues faced by female exiles. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0147.xml#obo-9780199766581-0147-biblItem-0022
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Amy K. Kaminsky	Writing the Latin American Diaspora	1999	University of Minnesota Press
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Rhees Stacks ; PQ7551 .K36 1999
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0204
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
Yes		Yes
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
I like how easy it is to find where a book or article is available at the UR.

Student 7 Directions:

23. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
24. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
25. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
The Guaraní and Their Legacy
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
(I don't see any books in this article)
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/obo/9780199766581-0067
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
Yes		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Navigation was a little hard at first, but it was easy to figure out (especially with the provided screenshots)

Student 8 Directions:

26. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
27. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
28. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
A Diverse New Left
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Aviña, Alex (2011). The New Left in Latin America. obo in Latin American Studies. doi: 10.1093/obo/9780199766581-0040
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Alex Avina	The New Left in Latin America	05 MAY 2017
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Whole book is available on the Oxford press through U of R library		You can request for the library to purchase a book or look it up online to see if theres a free or affordable copy in the area
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0040
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
no		no
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Do all the articles contain the full book for usage?

Student 9 Directions:

29. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
30. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
31. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Mexican-US Relations
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Langley, Lester. Mexico and the United States: The Fragile Relationship. Boston: Twayne, 1991. An outstanding assessment of the ambivalent public feelings that prevail within each nation toward the other. https://www-oxfordbibliographies-com.ezp.lib.rochester.edu/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0119.xml#obo-9780199766581-0119-bibliItem-0005
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Lester Langley	Mexico and the United States: The Fragile Relationship	1991	Twayne
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
E183.8.M6 L283 1991
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0205
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
It seems pretty easy to navigate with some experience but I'm worried it might be a little confusing at first/hard to get back to where I was.

Student 10 Directions:

32. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
33. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
34. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
The New Left in Latin America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Carr, Barry, and Steve Ellner, eds. The Latin American Left: From the Fall of Allende to Perestroika. Boulder, CO: Westview, 1993. An assortment of contributions that trace the performance of the Latin American Left (defined in party, electoral, and union terms) in the last decades of the Cold War. Essays focus on Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, El Salvador, Mexico, Peru, and Venezuela to collectively argue that the Latin American Left emerged ready to engage a democratic, postdictatorship era. Good for undergraduates and scholars. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0040.xml#obo-9780199766581-0040-biblItem-0002
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Barry Carr and Steve Ellner	The Latin American Left: From the Fall of Allende to Perestroika	1993	Westview
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Rush Rhees Stacks ; F1414.2 .L3286 1993
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0015
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Overall, it was easy to navigate and helpful in getting a broad idea about specific topics.

Student 11 Directions:

35. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
36. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
37. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
The New Left in Latin America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Carr, Barry, and Steve Ellner, eds. The Latin American Left: From the Fall of Allende to Perestroika. Boulder, CO: Westview, 1993. An assortment of contributions that trace the performance of the Latin American Left (defined in party, electoral, and union terms) in the last decades of the Cold War. Essays focus on Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, El Salvador, Mexico, Peru, and Venezuela to collectively argue that the Latin American Left emerged ready to engage a democratic, postdictatorship era. Good for undergraduates and scholars. https://www-oxfordbibliographies-com.ezp.lib.rochester.edu/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0040.xml#obo-9780199766581-0040-biblItem-0002
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Barry Carr and Steve Ellner	The Latin America Left: From the Fall of Allende to Perestroika	1993	Boulder, CO: Westview
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
F1414.2 .L3286 1993
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1111/ecaf.12441
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Once an interested area of knowledge or topic is chosen, it's a great start to search for resources.

Student 12 Directions:

38. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
39. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
40. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Photography in the History of Race and Nation
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Serrano, Eduardo. Historia de la fotografía en Colombia. Bogotá, Colombia: Museo de Arte Moderno, 1983. Chronological survey of photographers and photographic collections in Colombia. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0084.xml#obo-9780199766581-0084-bibItem-0026
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Serrano, Eduardo	Historia de la fotografía en Colombia	1983	Museo de Arte Moderno
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
George Eastman Museum Library Main Stacks ; TR45 .S47
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0084
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Although the website seems a bit clunky to use and it is not as intuitive as the library primo database we use regularly, I really like the categorizing of topics and related articles.

Student 13 Directions:

41. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
42. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
43. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Migration to the United States
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Menjívar, Cecilia. Fragmented Ties: Salvadoran Immigrant Networks in America. Berkeley: University of California Press, 2000. Ethnographic study of Salvadoran migrants living in San Francisco. Asks what motivated migrants to leave home, what their journey was like, and how they found work and housing. Based on extensive interviews. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0014.xml#obo-9780199766581-0014-biblItem-0091
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Cecilia Menjívar	Fragmented Ties: Salvadoran Immigrant Networks in America	2000	University of California Press
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
		Access available through an interlibrary loan from libraries under the University.
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1215/00182168-86-1-1
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No, they have not.		Yes, they have.
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
I noticed that the OBO is extremely organized and creates a web of sources that may serve to answer any rising questions from the read sources.

Student 14 Directions:

44. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
45. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
46. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Magical Realism
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Bell, Michael. “García Márquez, Magical Realism and World Literature.” In The Cambridge Companion to Gabriel García Márquez. Edited by Philip Swanson, 179–195. Cambridge, UK: Cambridge University Press, 2010. Distinguishing between the commitment to the use of myth in literature and magical realism, Bell surveys the ways in which García Márquez stands as the classic example of the latter. In the process, he also surveys the author’s international reputation as an exemplar of magical realism. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0212.xml#obo-9780199766581-0212-biblItem-0053
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Bell, Michael	García Márquez, Magical Realism and World Literature	2010	Cambridge University Press
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Cambridge Companions Complete Collection
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0060
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		Yes
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Why is this an “article”? (I thought this is just a collection of other authors’ work)

Student 15 Directions:

47. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
48. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
49. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Human Rights in Latin America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Cardenas, Sonia. Human Rights in Latin America: A Politics of Terror and Hope. Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania Press, 2010. A social science interdisciplinary textbook. Provides an excellent overview for students. Also includes extensive bibliographies, filmographies, and ideas for classroom assignments. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0146.xml#obo-9780199766581-0146-biblItem-0002
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Sonia Cardenas	Human Rights in Latin America: A Politics of Terror and Hope	2010	University of Philadelphia Press
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
ProQuest Ebook Central
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0042
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
While I'm using it, for some reason I am logged into the database under an Eastman account and the only subject available is music.

Student 16 Directions:

50. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
51. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
52. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Struggles for Social Rights in Latin America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Eckstein, Susan Eva, and Timothy P. Wickham-Crowley, eds. Struggles for Social Rights in Latin America. New York: Routledge, 2003. A consideration of social rights in the context of the human rights paradigm in Latin America. Essays cover questions of labor and race and ethnicity as well as gender. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0146.xml#obo-9780199766581-0146-biblItem-0080
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Eckstein, Susan Eva, and Timothy P. Wickham-Crowley, eds	Struggles for social rights in Latin America	2003	New York: Routledge
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Ebook Central Academic Complete
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0239
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
Yes		Yes
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Obo is a little harder to look for subjects such as “Cosmic race” but is better for more broad topics, since it gives you so many choices.

Student 17 Directions:

53. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
54. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
55. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Mexican Nationalism
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Vaughan, Mary Kay. Cultural Politics in Revolution: Teachers, Peasants, and Schools in Mexico, 1930–1940. Tucson: University of Arizona Press, 1997. Post-Revolutionary-constructed state schools in rural Mexican communities provided sites for public dialogue that negotiated power between the local and the national. Rural communities used the schools as spaces to protect their local cultures, while the state used schools to craft a multiethnic populist nationalism based on ideas of development. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0208.xml#obo-9780199766581-0208-bibItem-0009
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Mary Kay Vaughan	Cultural Politics in Revolution: Teachers, Peasants, and Schools in Mexico, 1930-1940.	1997	University of Arizona Press.
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Rush Rhees Library Rhees Stacks LC92.M4 V38 1997
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0184
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
I like how well organized the site is, although it is a little hard to navigate at first. I also have a question as to where to find the “Find@UR button” since I wasn’t able to locate it.

Student 18 Directions:

56. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
57. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
58. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?

Student 19 Directions:

59. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
60. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
61. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
La nación en vaivén: identidad, migración y cultura popular en Puerto Rico
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Duany, J. (2000). Nation on the move: the construction of cultural identities in Puerto Rico and the diaspora. American Ethnologist, 27(1), 5–30. https://doi.org/10.1525/ae.2000.27.1.5
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Jorge Duany	Nation on the move: the construction of cultural identities in Puerto Rico and the diaspora	2000
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
JSTOR Arts and Sciences II
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
https://doi.org/10.1525/ae.2000.27.1.5
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
Yes		Yes
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
I don't like it. For some reason it didn't want to let me access the area I was searching and I think it's a little complicated for a research platform.

Student 20 Directions:

62. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
63. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
64. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
The Chiapas Rebellion: The Struggle for Land and Democracy
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Harvey, Neil. The Chiapas Rebellion: The Struggle for Land and Democracy. Durham, NC: Duke University Press, 1998. Harvey analyzes the formation and actions of three independent peasant movements in Chiapas during the 1970s and 1980s. The struggle for land and the right to organize outside of the ruling party's main peasant confederation are seen as important factors that led up to the Zapatista rebellion. The author also examines responses from the Mexican government and civil society. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0065.xml#obo-9780199766581-0065-biblItem-0003
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Harvey, Neil	The Chiapas Rebellion: The Struggle for Land and Democracy	1998
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
E-book: Ebook Central Academic Complete
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0065
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		Yes
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
What are other ways to use this database?

Student 21 Directions:

65. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
66. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
67. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?

Student 22 Directions:

68. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
69. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
70. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?

Student 23 Directions:

71. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
72. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
73. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn't work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn't have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
Search for the article author's name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?

Student 24 Directions:

74. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
75. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
76. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
History of Health and Disease in Latin America and the Caribbean, 1600–1870
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Conrad, Robert Edgar. Children of God’s Fire: A Documentary History of Black Slavery in Brazil. Princeton, NJ: Princeton University Press, 1983. A collection of translated primary sources related to the slave trade and enslaved life in Brazil. Sources include observations by physicians about the Middle Passage, plantation management, and disease outbreaks, as well as a number of materials that more broadly convey the political, social, and material circumstances under which enslaved people lived. Most of the sources are from the 18th and 19th centuries. https://www-oxfordbibliographies-com.ezp.lib.rochester.edu/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0265.xml#obo-9780199766581-0265-bibltem-0002
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Conrad, Robert Edgar	Children of God’s Fire: A Documentary History of Black Slavery in Brazil	1983	Princeton, NJ: Princeton University Press
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Rush Rhees Library Available , Rhees Stacks ; HT1126 .C575 1994 (1 copy, 1 available, 0 requests)
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0094
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
no		no
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
Observation: it’s quick and efficient. It doesn’t delay the time.

Student 25 Directions:

77. Go to Oxford Bibliographies Online--Latin American Studies (OBO)
78. In the “About Subject” box on the left-hand side of the page, click to “Learn more about this subject” (see screenshot)
79. Scroll down to the “Articles and Contributors” section and find an article of interest to complete the following activity

Oxford Bibliographies Activity
What is the title of your article?
Poverty in Latin America
Scroll through the article and find a book or book chapter of interest.
Paste the full citation for the article in the area below (see screenshot)
Geremek, Bronislaw. Poverty: A History. Oxford: Blackwell, 1997. Geremek’s powerful and impressive study on the historical roots of poverty in general traces the beginnings of welfare to the Early Modern period, when a distinction was first made between “honest” and “dishonest” poor, between almsgiving and welfare, and provides aid to the first in each of these categories. https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/display/document/obo-9780199766581/obo-9780199766581-0166.xml#obo-9780199766581-0166-biblItem-0004
Using the citation above, extract the following identifying information for your selected source (see screenshot):
Author	Book Title	Date of Publication	Publisher
Bronislaw Geremek	Poverty: A History	1997	Blackwell
Use the Find@UR button to locate the book/e-book in DiscoverUR (see screenshot). If the Find@UR button doesn’t work, try pasting the title of the book directly into DiscoverUR .
If UR has a copy of the book in its collection... Paste the location and call number (print book) or the name of the database (e-book) in the box below (see screenshot).		If UR doesn’t have a copy of the book... What is your next step? What service can you use to request a copy of the book?
Rhees Stacks ; HC240.9.P6 G4713 1994
Use the “Related Articles” feature on the left-hand side of the screen to find another article of interest (see screenshot).
Paste the DOI for your new article in the box below (see screenshot).
DOI: 10.1093/OBO/9780199766581-0205
Search for the article author’s name in the main search box near the top of the page (see screenshot).
Has the author written any other articles for OBO? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)		Does the author have any works included in other OBO articles? (Yes/No) (see screenshot)
No		No
What is one question or observation you have about using OBO for research?
The search shows results that contain at least one word of whatever it is that I searched for. For example, I searched “Miguel Reyes Hernández”, the author of the article, and 36 results popped up, none of which contained the full name of the author, but they all contained part of his name that other authors shared. This could be useful when I have key words, but I feel that it would be more efficient to tell me when there’s not a match for what I’m looking for.			