

Attack Potency: 2-A+ (Nexus defeated Zenith who has twisted Metatime that act as a countless timelines), 1-A (Positive Force is not merely a source of energy, but an extra-dimensional energy field of the division between velocity and motion, the generator of existence where the beginning, the ending and the act of traveling are functioned that perceives time and space as nothing more than just a superheroes comic for entertaining those Speedways Fans), H1-A [Environmental Destruction] (From Freeman perspective, Genesis was known as the origin source that defined of how Positive Force system will operate. Positive Force will not work if it is without its definer, and during his conflict with Zenith within the realm of Positive Force, Nexus ran so fast that they accidentally tore Genesis apart. As a result, the two forces that had been contained within it escaped, spilling into an alternative narrative, a completely different storyline meant for another protagonist)

Speed: Massively FTL+ (Nexus saved 700,000 people from a hydrogen bomb, moving them 40 miles away from the explosion in just zeptosecond), Infinite (Moving within frozen time by accelerating past the natural flow of time itself), Immeasurable (By breaking through the Time Barrier he travels the timestream, his race with Zenith also broke the Metatime Barrier, allowing him to travel through multiple timelines), Irrelevant (Engaged in a full potential conflict, Nexus and Zenith unconsciously moved faster than Primary who represents the concept of speed, accidentally unleashing devastating cosmic destruction)

Strength: Class K

Durability: H1-A (Nexus endured a direct strike from Zenith before successfully awakening his Reflexes Style)

Stamina: Superhuman, Infinite

Range: Standard Melee Range (For physical combat and standard interaction)
Several Kilometers (Via Air Manipulation and Vibration Manipulation)

Standard Equipment: (None)

Intelligence: Extraordinary Genius (His Speed Thinking able to hack the Alien Technology and understand an Unrealistic Language which is impossible for human mind to comprehend)

Weakness: (None)

Feats:

Nexus can perceive events far beyond human measurement, reaching down to at least the zeptosecond

By accelerating past the speed of light, he successfully breached the physical world and entered the Positive Force, an extra-dimensional energy field.

He defeated Powerman by moving so fast that his opponent had a 0% chance to react. During this, Nexus executed thousands of attack combinations in a single times

Because his mind operate at speed beyond humans measurements, he can see an infinite number of possible future outcomes

Under extreme stress, Nexus charged his speed to such a high level that the universe appeared to freeze. While time was stopped, he manually unscrewed every part of a giant robot at each continent, causing it to collapse the moment time resumed

Through his connection Positive Force, Nexus can move faster than Instant Transmission (teleportation), effectively arriving at his destination before the "instant" even occurs.

Notable Attacks/Techniques:

Infinite Mass Punch/IMP: (Most speedsters or speed based fighters utilize this technique to deal massive damage. However, its use is situational, as many maintain a strict moral code regarding the amount of force they apply)

Reflexes Style: (Dodging is his signature style throughout his story, he prefers evading over tanking physical strikes. He can perform micro movements to dodge strikes that from a bystander's perspective, it appears to have already landed. At his peak, his reflexes surpass even those of his rival, rendering him virtually untouchable)

Phasing: (He often integrates phasing into his 'Reflex Style,' making him even more difficult to strike. He can instantaneously vibrate his molecules, allowing him to pass through solid objects or let attacks drift harmlessly through his body)
