Dear Centennial Community,

Centennial Public School, in partnership with York and Seward County law enforcement and the Child Advocacy Center, will be hosting a community event on Monday, July 27, 2020 from 6:00-7:00pm in the Centennial Public School auditorium. Law enforcement will make a brief statement and Centennial Public School will share supports that we have put in place and future trainings for staff, parents, and students. We also plan to share resources available through the Child Advocacy Center.

All parents, staff, and community members are invited and encouraged to attend this community event. This event is appropriate for individuals 16 and older. Parents are asked to use their discretion in determining whether their child/children are mature enough to understand and process the information that will be shared.

Current COVID-19 Directed Health Measures will be followed and capacity at the event will be limited to 250 people. Masks are not required, but are strongly encouraged in addition to social distancing measures.

A RSVP through Google Forms is attached below. We ask for each individual/family who plans to be in attendance to complete the RSVP form by Friday, July 24 at 4pm to help us determine if an additional event is needed in order to allow for proper social distancing. This event will not be streamed via zoom nor will it be recorded. We plan to summarize what is shared out and make all resources available to anybody that is unable to attend.

We are very grateful for our communities, patrons, parents, staff, and students. We hope that you are able to attend.

Sincerely,
