

To keep this confession well documented, I am documenting it here.

Yes, I, ColonolNutty, did fix the ATF mods when they broke like 4 or so years ago (Before Kinky Whims and Wicked Pets were create, whenever that was) and managed them for like a year or two, I barely even remember. I saw it as an opportunity to get my foot in the door with modding in The Sims 4. While working on their mods, I learned python and also a ton of how the game code works.

The mere fact I created the gargantuan fetish mod that is Devious Desires should tell you that I'm not into all fetishes I put in my mods. It is exactly the same thing with their mod, sex, nudity, pretty much all adult content barely phases me anymore. I'm not interested in Loli/Shota, I'm interested in working on mods regardless of their content (Obviously now I have things I simply won't work on or add to my mods, but back then the world was open to all possibilities). The original reason I worked on their stupid mod was for my own fetish "Futanari". Specifically that of Natural Born Futanari, which simply don't exist in real life. The best way to show a Sim is a Natural Born Futanari is to show the Sim has "the parts" from birth, rather than suddenly having a penis when they became a Teen Sim.

Of course since I've been of the "building it for the community" mindset, I also included the sex half their original mod had. I didn't care for those parts obviously, but I didn't want to fix their mod without fixing the whole thing, that'd be rude... or so I thought.

I made those mods in a very crudely done "module" style format (similar to how it is in DD), so you could use the base for romantic/woohoo between Adult Sims or you could add in the ts4script scripts or package files (or whatever they were) to add the features you wanted. So you could add stuff for Child Sims if you wanted or you could add stuff with Pet Sims. (Yes, I also made a "module" for pets at that time)

Unfortunately, I was naïve back then and was still riding the "You're the greatest modder ever!" high I was on from the More Farming mod I fixed previously. I was too blind and didn't realize how immoral or badly seen their Loli/Shota mod was until it was too late.

As soon as I started hearing and seeing people being banned from discords and forums for simply using just the freakin base mod without any of the Child Sim stuff, I was like, "This is really dumb for people to do to others when Sims is a fictional setting and Sims aren't even real people". I dropped support for those "modules" and began doing my own thing, but with just the Base, Kinky, and the Pets portions.

At this point, I literally have no ties or hand in anything they do with their mods. Nor do I care.

In the past few years, I've had a focus on mods that better the community by providing tools to users and mod authors to create mods. As well as mods that provide features and performance unlike any other mods out there.

Anyone can tell you how much my mods DO NOT break on patches. (Obviously I had to fix a couple things from this patch, but how many patches has it been before that?)

I constantly regret working on those stupid mods, and I do my best to leave it in the past. However Turbodriver and Deaderpool simply can't let it go. They constantly feel the need to remind people about this fact. It is literally stalking, harassment and pretty creepy at this point. I hardly fight back because they don't give any room for me to fight back, anyone who does just gets banned from wherever they try it. I just want to let my past mistake go and get on with my life.

We all make mistakes we are not proud of, mistakes are made to be learned from, let's all just leave the past where it is. Them bringing up my past mistakes, as if they are still relevant, helps no one but themselves.

I'm sure Turbodriver and Deaderpool will find some way to twist my words, as they always do, but now the truth is truly out there.

This confession so far has been removed from the following sites with little to no reason for its removal given by the Admins or Moderators: These sites are willing to let Turbodrivers story go unimpeded to simply defame and make me look bad. Even though the above confession is a true confession as the events transpired.

The screenshot shows a forum thread on the Sims 4 Studio Forums. The thread consists of four posts:

- Post 1: By orangemittens (Administrator, 4 stars). Posted 46 minutes ago. The content is a ban notice: "Hi haveconion, your post has been removed because it discusses adult content. Sims 4 Studio is a PG-13 site. Any posts that reference adult material will be removed. Any account that violates this rule repeatedly will be removed and its owner banned." Below the notice, it says "Posts: 12,220" and "Please help other creators find Sims 4 Studio and receive the help you received by mentioning Sims 4 Studio with your downloads. Please do not PM me with questions about projects or getting Studio to run on your computer, I do not answer these PMs."
- Post 2: By haveconion (New Member, 0 stars). Posted 34 minutes ago. The content is: "Could you please answer the part of why Nutty was banned? People have been asking for days with no response." Below the post, it says "Posts: 2" and "Member is Online".
- Post 3: By haveconion (New Member, 0 stars). Posted 31 minutes ago. The content is: "Also, Lastreception.com now links to an entire dossier about ColonelNatty that not only mentions adult stuff, but also explicitly explains how to access illegal sites and encourages the readers to go sign up on those sites to 'verify the contents' of the dossier. It maybe shouldn't be linked on a PG-13 site either?" Below the post, it says "Posts: 2" and "Member is Online".
- Post 4: By orangemittens (Administrator, 4 stars). Posted 24 minutes ago. The content is: "Hi haveconion, stop PM'ing me."

I'm sure Turbdriver and Deaderpool will find some way to twist my words, as they always do, but now the truth is truly out there.

I want Turbdriver and Deaderpool to stop harassing mod creators who are using my mods as a base. Other mod creators shouldn't be held accountable for my past mistakes. It is my mistake and I deeply regret it, but that doesn't give a right to others to harass people for it. I only want to see the community become better, not be torn apart by Holier Than Thou mod creators. I don't create mods for myself, I create them for those who can't because I enjoy it as a hobby.

I am most of all sorry that people are allowing them to get away with the things they do. Thank you for listening to my confession. Save a screenshot or archive if you want. I'm sure the moderators will probably delete it anyways. Turbdriver and Deaderpool get away with everything, even having confessions of his wrong doings from those he harasses deleted.

This is my honest confession of the events surrounding the Turbdriver, Deaderpool vs ColonelNutty war. I just want it to end, but they won't let me live down my mistakes. Edited just now by HeWhoCannotBeNamed

Discord Support

Things you can expect to experience within my discord server:

- Help with issues big or small for any mod, we do not discriminate like many other discord servers!
 - Test Builds are made available before their release, come test our code!
 - If you're looking to create a Mod, we can provide our experience and offer advice!
- Please do not join the discord if you are under the age of 18!*

I'm open to many suggestions and will add them to my various mods if I think they are possible and make sense to add!

Deaderpool, please stop bullying, harassing, and banning people who use my mods. It is not appropriate behavior for a Mod Author of this community. People are free to use whatever mods they like, you have no right to dictate what mods a Simmer can or cannot use! #ModIsMyChoice
