Backstory:

Mey is the daughter of two deceased scientists. They worked with a technology they didn't understand, Pym technology. This caused an accident that destroyed the lab and gave Mei powers. (Some Scientists survived, others didn't).

She was found by Hope and Hank, who were investigating the lab, and was trained by them. She was very close to the two of them like a real family and she always heard stories about Janet from Hope, she really wanted to bring her back and make her "Sister" happy.

Hank was very overprotective and never let her go out on missions, but over time Mey kept pushing her more and more, so Hank sent her to work at Pym tech to push her away. (Mey was super smart, learning everything from Hank). She didn't like it so much but she did.

Ant Man (2015):

May thought she had something wrong with Cross, and investigated him. So she found out about his Yellow Jacket plans and immediately told Hank. Again she was pushed away by Hank, who ordered her out of Pym tech for her safety. So the whole Ant Man movie happens, Hank recruits Scott, he is trained in the Ant Man suit, Cross wears the Yellow Jacket suit...

When Mey returns and discovers that Scott has made it back from the quantum realm alive, she immediately begins working with Hank and Hope to find a way to bring Janet back.

Civil War (2016):

After Scott wears the Ant-Man costume during the fight at the airport, everything related to Pym technology was criminal, including Hank, Hope and Mey, so they are forced to run away. "I knew this guy was an idiot!!!"

-Mey seeing Scott on the news

Ant Man and the Wasp (2018):

(Ok... I will add more details later, I will re-watch the movie and write the parts with Mey. But for now we have a few points):

- Mey appears on MCCU for the first time
- Hank finally let her help
- She meets Ghost and tries to help her
- She and Scott go to the quantum realm to get healing particles for Ghost (In this scene she gets her glasses)
- While they were getting the particles Scott was Dusted, and Mey spent five hours trying to find a way to get back and understand what was going on.

Endgame (2019):

A rat accidentally takes Mey out of the Quantum Realm, once she gets out she goes to find Hank and Hope, but things were different, she was in a different place. She quickly starts banging on the bars trying to escape, this gets the attention of the security guard who quickly goes to see what was going on. Mey, confused, talks to the security guard and he tells her that it has not been 5 hours, but 5 years, so he tells her everything that happened in that time.

After a while trying to process what was happening, she rushes to the Avengers base to tell them about her new time travel idea.

Mey goes with Nebula, Speaks, and Oliver to get the power stone.

When they return, she finds out about Pepper's death and is shocked. Mey admired her so much, how could this happen? Bruce then puts on the gauntlet and snaps his fingers.

During the final battle, Mey falls with Bruce, Rocket and Rhodey and gets trapped under some rubble. To save them she forces herself to grow as big as possible, becoming giant and saving them.

Mey becomes weak and shrinks, being saved by Hope. (She is very happy to see her) Then Scott arrives, and the three of them go to the van.

Blizzy sacrifices himself to defeat Thanos' army. Clint lowers his head as a sign of respect and as soon as he sees this Mey lowers her head as well.

After the battle, she becomes responsible for guarding and researching about the time machine, becoming completely obsessed with reversing the "mistakes" caused by the war.

Some curiosities:

- Mey has always been a fan of Tony Stark even if Hank didn't trust him.
- In What If ep 3 Mey doesn't help Hank
- In the comics she creates Ultron with Hank and Tony
- She has a secret lab that shrinks for her suits
- If Mey and July knew each other they would be good friends
- Her favorite color is purple, of course XD
- Mey had a pet mouse when she was a child
