

Name:

Your Personal HERO (Historical Evidence Research Organizer) for All PBAT Research

Directions: After reading each article, fill in the graphic organizer to gather your evidence. You will use this organizer for all readings. Keep all of your information here so you always be able to find your notes and research.

PBAT Question with yes or no answer for argumentative essay:

Thesis statement which changes your question to an answer or main “Claim” for the essay:

Article #1 (Video/Documentary):

Complete MLA reference:

Author:

Title:

Date published:

Publication/website/newspaper name:

Weblink:

Main Idea: Why does this source relate to your thesis/main idea? (1-3 sentences.)

EVIDENCE #1

Choose the first QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include a page number if there is one.

“ ... ”

ANALYSIS #1

How does this evidence help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic? (2-3 sentences)

EVIDENCE #2 (Optional)

If you would like to use another quotation from the same article, choose the second QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include page number if there is one.

“ ... ”

ANALYSIS #2

How does this evidence also help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic?

Article #2

Complete MLA reference:

Author:

Title:

Date published:

Publication/website/newspaper name:

Weblink:

Main Idea: Why does this source relate to your thesis/main idea? (1-3 sentences.)

EVIDENCE #1

Choose the first QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include a page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #1

How does this evidence help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic? (2-3 sentences)

EVIDENCE #2 (Optional)

If you would like to use another quotation from the same article, choose the second QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #2

How does this evidence also help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic?

Article #3

Complete MLA reference:

Author:

Title:

Date published:

Publication/website/newspaper name:

Weblink:

Main Idea: Why does this source relate to your thesis/main idea? (1-3 sentences.)

EVIDENCE #1

Choose the first QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include a page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #1

How does this evidence help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic? (2-3 sentences)

EVIDENCE #2 (Optional)

If you would like to use another quotation from the same article, choose the second QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #2

How does this evidence also help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic?

Article #4

Complete MLA reference:

Author:

Title:

Date published:

Publication/website/newspaper name:

Weblink:

Main Idea: Why does this source relate to your thesis/main idea? (1-3 sentences.)

EVIDENCE #1

Choose the first QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include a page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #1

How does this evidence help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic? (2-3 sentences)

EVIDENCE #2 (Optional)

If you would like to use another quotation from the same article, choose the second QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #2

How does this evidence also help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic?

Article #5

Complete MLA reference:

Author:

Title:

Date published:

Publication/website/newspaper name:

Weblink:

Main Idea: Why does this source relate to your thesis/main idea? (1-3 sentences.)

EVIDENCE #1

Choose the first QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include a page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #1

How does this evidence help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic? (2-3 sentences)

EVIDENCE #2 (Optional)

If you would like to use another quotation from the same article, choose the second QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #2

How does this evidence also help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic?

Article #6

Complete MLA reference:

Author:

Title:

Date published:

Publication/website/newspaper name:

Weblink:

Main Idea: Why does this source relate to your thesis/main idea? (1-3 sentences.)

EVIDENCE #1

Choose the first QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include a page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #1

How does this evidence help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic? (2-3 sentences)

EVIDENCE #2 (Optional)

If you would like to use another quotation from the same article, choose the second QUOTATION (using “quotation marks”) that has important information which connects to your thesis statement. Include page number if there is one.

“ ...

ANALYSIS #2

How does this evidence also help you answer your research question? Why is this evidence significant and/or what might it suggest about your topic?