

You. You there! You are an interesting person for this neck of the woods. Just passing through? Doesn't matter! But you are here, and I have something that might interest you.

Nonono, where you going? I don't peddle that cheap crap. The stuff that just makes things seem good 'til it runs dry. Nonononono. I got better things here. I bet you haven't even heard of this one. Come on. Come on over. Come into my shop.

Okay, well, its not so pretty and not so much a shop, but its mine. HA! haha haha Ha. But yessss~ My product. Impact. Yes, Impact. So named for that heavy hit that blast your body. That surge of energy that makes you want to lose control. Like your being being some meteor crashing to the ground, leaving a crater at your feet.

Wait! No! Don't walk away yet. This thing doesn't have any bad side effects like those drugs. When its done, you just go back to your life like it never even happened. Just a little adrenaline and sweat. That's all. No withdrawals. No fevers. No downs. Just a temp boost to Everything!

What? Why you lookin' at me funny? Don't get it still? *sigh* Okay, okay. So, lets get scientific here. Lets say you had all the energy in the world at your fingertips to play with physically. A big battery of energy. And say you released a huge wave of that energy in a form of.... eh... Kinect? Kismet? Karmic energy.... what's that called? KINETIC! Kinetic energy. That stuff that is how fast things are moving and junk. You have a sudden, near un-ending burst of kinetic energy. All that power, you could run through buildings, punch through solid steel walls, run on water, leap small buildings in a single bound, and other cliches.

Nonononono no! Come on, man. You really don't believe me? Haven't you watched the news? Did you see all those crimes scenes of the impossible situations with heavy damage? What do you think caused it? Impact. Some thugs on impact. Come on. You don't really believe me? Would I lie to you? Wait, don't answer that. Look, I'll give you..... a little test run. A 5 second jolt, on me. No harm, no fowl.

Hey, hey. I know what you are thinking. How can something that makes a person do more than what was meant for the body be safe? You are no fool and that why I like ya'. So, Impact is not the only thing in there. Yes, I know, but the other stuff has to be in there or else ya'll die. If you had raw impact, the shear force of taking a step would tear every muscle in your body and make your skull squish like a grape on the lightest object. So, you see, this Impact here is cut with just enough Stone Hide to strengthen up yourself to take what can come at you. And that stuff is safe too. Only thing you'll get is maybe a bit stiff the next day. No big deal, right? You get just as bad at a day in the gym, right? So, come on. Give it a shot. You don't like it, I won't bother you anymore and you can be on your way. What do you say?

Good. Now just give it few seconds to set in. You got this long alley way down here. Try an' darting down it. Don't worry about those dumpsters or trash cans. They won't stop ya'. Oh.. oh, oh. There we go. Just hold on through. Its coming. That blast, that Impact is coming. 5 seconds. Make it count.

*Pant, pant, pant, huff, huff, huff* Hey..... heeeeeey. Did you see that? Did you see what you did? Look how far ya' went? ha HA! What a rush, right? Now, lets start talking about a price.
