

GROW GROUP QUESTIONS

Announcement: MEN, we have several men's Bible studies starting up in Feb. Check out the list. Are there any you want to do together? Check out the link to them here.

Opening Prayer Prompts For Group:

P-Praise and thank Jesus that His victory over Satan is already secured through the cross.

R- Repent by confessing where you have treated people as enemies instead of recognizing the work of the real Enemy.

A-Ask God for spiritual discernment to recognize lies and deception.

Y-Yield and commit to trusting God's victory even when circumstances feel chaotic.

Ice Breaker: When you hear the phrase "cosmic battle between good and evil," what images or stories come to mind?

The Sermon – The Real Enemy Read Revelation 12:7–9

- Revelation shows that believers are spiritually protected but still experience suffering. How does that tension sit with you?
- When conflict shows up in your life, how do you tend to interpret it: as a problem with people, or as part of a deeper spiritual struggle? Why?
- When feeling the pain of relationships and life, what can help you remember that Satan is the true enemy AND has been defeated?
- When circumstances feel unfair, what helps you live in light of Jesus' victory instead of the chaos around you?

Going Deeper – Standing Firm Against The Real Enemy

- Knowing who the true enemy is, where do you feel pressure to compromise your allegiance to Jesus in (work, relationships, cultural expectations, comfort, security etc.), and why?
- Knowing who the true enemy is, what does it look like to "stand firm" in faith in everyday life?
- Knowing who the true enemy is, what helps you stay loyal to Jesus when following Him feels costly or difficult?
