INTRODUCTION (Times new roman, 12pts, spaces 1.5)

The introduction should provide a brief background on the subject written, which contains about research problems, a summary of relevant theoretical studies, novelty (newness) and research objectives. For that, the manuscript to be sent must use a library that is really supportive. and a summary of relevant theoretical studies, so that readers can understand the research to be done and can evaluate the results of other studies that have been done without having to read the previous publication themselves. (Times new roman, font size 12 pts, space 1.5)

METHOD (Times new roman, 12pts, spaces 1.5)

This chapter contains structured information about methods and approaches, research locations, research time, population and sample, sampling methods and data analysis. This chapter also does not contain citations. Other parts can be added according to research needs, such as research procedures, data retrieval procedures and data analysis procedures. (Times new roman, font size 12 pts, space 1.5)

RESULTS AND DISCUSSIONS (Times new romance, 12pts, spaces 1.5)

Result

The results section contains only the results of research, both presented in the form of interview writing, tables or pictures. Images and tables must be titled and if sourced from a previous publication, they must have the author's approval. The bottom of the table or image should be given a source. The use of photos is allowed if the photo truly represents the result of discovery. All interview writings, tables and figures should be clearly narrated. Each table or image must be assigned a number. (Times new roman, font size 12 pts, space 1.5)

Discussion (Times new roman, 12pts, spaces 1.5)

The discussion section contains a comprehensive interpretation and analysis of the results of research obtained and associated with previously reported concepts and results. Repetition of the presentation of research methods and results and things that have been disclosed in the Preliminary Chapter should be avoided. (Times new roman, 12pts, space 1.5)

CONCLUSION (Times new roman, 12pts, spaces 1.5)

This section is the conclusion of the results of the study. Authors are prohibited from rewriting (copy paste) the results section, but must paraphrase the contents of research results that have been written and narrated. If there is any suggestion of the results of the study directly written in the conclusion. (Times new roman, font size 12 pts, space 1.5)

THANK YOU (Times new roman, font size 12 pts, space 1.5)

This chapter may be added if necessary, which is used to name the source of research funds whose results are reported in this journal and to reward some institutions or people who assisted in the conduct of the research and/or the writing of the report. Special thanks such as data collection from specialized agencies / research based on funding from grants can be included. Specifically funding from grants, authors are advised to write down the origin of the grant and the number of the grant project. (Times new roman, font size 12 pts, space 1.5)

BIBLIOGRAPHY (Times new roman, 12pts, spaces 1)

This section contains only reference sources that are referenced and listed in the contents of the article. Reference sources amount to at least 20 libraries (journal references are at least 80% of the total bibliography). For the source of the journal must be published the last 5 years. References are written in the format of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition. Reference writing uses application management such as Mendeley so that it makes it easier to prepare and check library sources. The recommended similarity rate is < 30%. The reference list is written using space 1 with add space after paragraph. It is expected to be able to imitate at least 1 article from the reviewer / editor of this journal.
