

Sherlock Holmes

Private Investigator

Profile

I am an experienced private investigator in the field of solving mysteries. Whether it be murder, or where you lost your valuable family jewel, whatever it is, I may be of assistance. I have, in only four cases been outwitted by an opponent, but I will state that my success rate is very high.

Experience

I have been involved in numerous cases, and even have been involved with solving some crimes which referred to that of the Scotland Yard. I have solved a few murder cases, many theft, and many oddities that if you wish, I shall explain to you with no hesitance. I have worked as a private investigator and consultant, as long as I can recall.

Education

One does not need an education to be a fine investigator. One just needs the right tools, a sharp mindset, and the art of observation.

Skills

I have the ability to deduce what most people cannot. This is because I happen to have a keen sense of paying attention to details, and learning everything that I can possibly know by reading, and observing. As it has been noted, this may seem a little strange. If, at anytime you would wish for me to show you the art of deduction, I would be delighted to show my skills in action.

Merits

Here is a list of some of my accomplishments in which I have taken extensive notes on, and would be willing to share, if inquired upon.

Bohemian Scandal

The Mystery of The Red-Headed League

Multiple Identity Cases

The Five Orange Pips

The Boscombe Valley Mystery
