

Privacy Policy

What data the Video Caravan (the Service) collects:

The Service collects data of videos you post, along with their metadata. The data is stored so it can be provided to other accounts that have permissions to see the videos. The Service also stores data on who you have sent videos to and received from. The videos and their metadata are never shared to someone who does not have permission to view the data.

The data about your organization or your connections outside of your organization are provided by your administrator.

The Service does not sell your data and only holds data to provide the functionality. The data is hosted on secure Google Firebase servers and will not be shared or made available outside of the Service.

Anonymous usage and crash data are collected to improve service quality with future development.
