Family History:

Relentless is a Family originated in Los Angeles owned by the well known gangster "Musha Relentless" that is what theyve been calling him for ages now. Musha was the most wanted and most well known gangster at the time and was on the run. Musha was on his biggest drug deal of his life when he heard the news that the police swatted his house and took out all his friends and comrades. He found out that one of his close friends who was a part of his crew was an undercover cop who was giving out information to the cops and killed his family. He fled the U.S and went missing for years. One day he got the call that his mother had been murdered by Rivals. Musha couldnt let that slide and came back to L.A soon after, he called up his 3 old friends Trippy, Macole and Semmo to plan his takeover and revenge. as the name already tells they went on multiple hits taking one Rival after another out. It didnt take long for everyone to know that Musha is back and not planning on showing any mercy with his Rivals. the group of 4 were then known as "Relentless" as they brutally eliminated all their rivals and took over the Drug Business.
