

SLUMBERINGSUNS DESIGN TOS

By purchasing or receiving one of my designs you automatically agree to my TOS. My TOS is ALWAYS linked in the character's description, as well as my profile for easy access. If you break any of my rules you will be issued one warning, if you continue after that you will be blacklisted. Please read through my TOS thoroughly. I will not be held responsible if you are reprimanded for not following my TOS, as I have everything clearly outlined here as well as linked on my toyhou.se and other socials. Thank you!

DESIGN TOS

1. I do not permit my art or designs to be used in conjunction with AI in any way, shape or form, this is non negotiable. This includes training AI on my art, using AI to modify or 'improve' my art, or anything at all that involves AI generated 'art'. If you are found to be doing this you will be blacklisted immediately without warning.
2. Only minor changes can be made to my designs! It must be recognizable to the original design. Feel free to ask if changes are okay to be made! *This generally includes things such as: hair colour, adding/removing hair, eye colour, adding/removing claws, changing ear type, changing tail type, changing fur length, changing paw pad/mouth/tongue colour, adjusting colour values slightly, etc. If you are unsure please ask!
3. Major changes to my designs are NOT okay! This includes 'revamping' my designs, editing/changing/altering majority of the markings etc. If you have questions please ask!
4. All versions of my design MUST stay together. This means that you CANNOT separate 'redesigns', 'revamps' or 'alt designs'. Everything must stay under the one character. Having separate 'tabs' on toyhouse for alt forms etc is okay! You just cannot split up my designs/have multiple character profiles for the one character, this is to ensure that you do not sell 'old' versions of the design etc. You can turn your character into another species or have multiple options of species that they can be drawn as! Alternate forms are 100% okay.
5. If at any stage you wish to overhaul, revamp or heavily redesign your character to be different from the original you MUST commission me for the changes! You cannot do so yourself. I am more than happy to make minor/small adjustments for free! But if you wish for a revamped version of the design I and I alone must be commissioned solely for this. This is because I do not want any confusion regarding other artists adding their own TOS to the new design, separating the design, etc.
6. You are not permitted to add your own rules to my designs, this includes things like trading one of my designs and adding the clause that they can only be traded back to you, only my TOS is binding.
7. All my designs MUST stay on toyhouse, you are not permitted to delete any of my designs or move them offsite. You are welcome to hide them, or put them on authorise only, but never delete them. Additionally, you are not permitted to trade designs offsite if the new owner does not have a toyhouse account. To prevent theft, my designs must solely be traded onsite.
8. You may sell my designs you got in a trade, and visa versa. Additionally, personal art can be added to a character's worth. Whilst I disagree with selling designs of mine that you received for free, I will not prevent that - so long as you are completely transparent about the fact that the character was received for free and has no monetary value.

9. Making siblings, offspring or otherwise 'breeding' my design is not permitted. Having pre-existing characters be related to the design is 100% okay! But deliberately making designs similar to mine is not okay and therefore copying it in any way is not permitted. Similarly, things like breeding charts are not allowed. This is because I do not want similar versions of my designs to be made and distributed.

10. I do not allow co-owning of my designs, I find that this leads to many issues.

11. Please do not edit/make changes to yourself on the artwork, unless I used someone else's base and they allow that!

12. You're more than welcome to turn my design into a fursuit, plush, etc for personal use. You may obviously take full credit for the physical item, but I must always be credited for the design.

13. You may turn my designs into premade fursuits with the intention of selling them. If you are turning one of my designs into a premade to sell you MUST credit me explicitly for the design - such as mentioning me in the description, listing, etc. You may take all the credit for the creation of the fursuit, but please do NOT claim credit for the design itself.

14. Ask about commercial design usage.
