

Epistle
Philippians 4:4-9

⁴ Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice.

⁵ Let your gentleness be known to everyone.

The Lord is near.

⁶ Do not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God.

⁷ And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

⁸ Finally, beloved, whatever is true,
whatever is honourable,
whatever is just,
whatever is pure,
whatever is pleasing,
whatever is commendable,

if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things.

⁹ Keep on doing the things that you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, and the God of peace will be with you.

Reading the Epistle This Week

It's ironic that this text about 'peace' floats free as a fragment, v7, Disconnected from its roots in conflict

Paul maybe wrote this to Philippi from jail,
In Ephesus, or later in Rome
He got flack in Philippi (1 Thess 2:2)
But they supported his work with money Sent Epaphroditus to help him

They had fights, like between Euodia and Syntyche (4:2-5)
They lost members back to synagogues (3:2-16)
They fought with 'libertines' (3:17-20)

Who knows peace-making, except from conflict?
What peace-making advice to you hear here?

Attitudes: rejoicing, gentleness...
Aspirations: true, honourable, just, pure, pleasing, commendable, excellence, worthy of praise...
Persistent in virtue and duty

One fancy word is 'paraenetic' – moral advice Another is 'eirenic' – peaceful
This is what people expect to find in scripture

Is this really 'don't worry, be happy' stuff?
Is it 'happily ever after, God bless' c.3 is all about 'not yet' stuff – the opponents were the complacent ones!

What do you make of 5(b)
Is that 'Jesus is coming – look busy'?
Is that 'Jesus is cuddly close'?

Torah
Deuteronomy 26:1-11

When you have come into the land that the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance to possess, and you possess it,
and settle in it,

²you shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground, which you harvest from the land
that the LORD your God is giving you, and you shall put it in a basket and go to the place that the LORD your God will choose as a dwelling for his name.

³You shall go to the priest who is in office at that time, and say to him,

'Today I declare to the LORD your God that I have come into the land that the LORD swore to our ancestors
to give us.'

⁴When the priest takes the basket from your hand and sets it down before the altar of the LORD your God,

⁵you shall make this response before the LORD your God:

'A wandering Aramean was my ancestor;
he went down into Egypt and lived there as an alien, few in number,
and there he became a great nation, mighty and populous.

⁶When the Egyptians treated us harshly and afflicted us, by imposing hard labour on us,

⁷we cried to the LORD,
the God of our ancestors;
the LORD heard our voice and saw our affliction, our toil, and our oppression.

⁸The LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, with a terrifying display of power, and with signs and wonders; ⁹and he brought us into this place and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey.

¹⁰So now I bring the first of the fruit of the ground that you, O LORD, have given me.'

You shall set it down before the LORD your God and bow down before the LORD your God.

¹¹Then you, together with the Levites and the aliens who reside among you, shall celebrate with all the bounty that the LORD your God has given to you and to your house.

Reading Torah this Week

Deuteronomy – 'second law' – restates
The voice is post-exile –
The life of the Second Temple

The literary conceit:
A long speech by Moses at Jericho
At the end of Exodus, before Joshua's conquest
As if before Jerusalem, Solomon's Temple Anticipating the 'rise and fall' national stories

This chapter is a text for Succoth
The harvest in-gathering Week in middle of High Holidays
After Yom Kippur
Before Shmini Azerat/Simchat Torah

Live in booths, huts for a week
Remember we were once vulnerable migrants Even though we now have plenty
So we share from that bounty

What's your origin story
Your practice of gift to the commonwealth
Your migration, settler roots
Your empathy for others?

When you have arrived What's your story of 'got it made'?

My father was a wandering Aramean What's your story of an immigrant ancestor?

God brought us out of Egypt
What's your liberation story?

Whose acts of generosity are we blind to see?
Whose stories are we deaf to hear?
