STRENGTHS

- Ol' Reliable: Though simply made and extremely cheap, the spice runner's blaster is assembled to function in any environment, making it a valid option for any engagement.

WEAKNESSES

- Overheat: Due to being made from cheaper metals, this blaster easily overheats if one doesn't give it a break when firing.

DESCRIPTION

Typically created from scrap and salvage, the Spicerunner's Blaster is a standard issue pyke weapon meant to be as cheap as possible while still retaining usefulness and practicality.

Though not the most pleasing aesthetically, it's cheaply produced and easily used. This makes it the perfect choice to help arm the pykes that wish to retake their criminal empire.
