

Most tracks are under a creative commons liscense or equivalent. Look up the individual track for details.

A few are public domain. Again, look up the individual track for details.

Most Kevin Macleod tracks can be used commercially (if not all) and most others can as well.

Tracks with [Argofox] in the title also require a link to the Argofox video/soundcloud for the song and attribution to them.

Tracks with [NCS] in the title require credit to NoCopyrightSound and are only usable for Youtube and Twitch. (this would include personal and in house showings)

Songs in the Unknown Permission folder require investigation as to the liscense they are under. DO NOT USE without investigating first.
