To whom it may concern,

I highly recommend Judy Ng Sanchez to you as a deeply knowledgeable, experienced leader who would have much to offer your school community.

I have worked closely with Judy in my capacity as Education Administrator in New York City's Division of Early Childhood Education, where Judy is an early childhood Instructional Coordinator. I have been her direct supervisor and have witnessed her initiative and leadership among the staff of 40 early childhood instructional coaches in the Brooklyn office. Judy's role in schools is one of responsive pedagogical leader, working alongside teachers and leaders to further developmentally appropriate and culturally responsive approaches. She models best practices, holds reflective conversations, utilizes state and national standards, and designs and facilitates professional learning opportunities for adults - always with a strength based lens. I have seen her work alongside a teacher to extend a young child's thinking; I have watched her shift a teacher's understanding of a child's strong emotions. Judy knows how to have a lasting impact on educators' practices and beliefs.

Judy's organizational skills, compassion, and sense of social responsibility are deeply appreciated by all who work with her. She is a self starter, seeks and shares resources, and delights in working with others, young and old. I am confident that Judy would be a joyful, collaborative addition to your leadership team.

Please don't hesitate to reach out if I can be of further assistance.

Best,
