Statement of Purpose

Throughout his journey, Moses has held several leadership positions and served in various capacities. Moses has been mentored by several people who have inspired him to give back in his own way which he has decided to do by in turn mentoring others. Moses found such an opportunity with ASCE and became practitioner advisor for the Morgan State University ASCE student Chapter in 2020 and has worked to help students with academics, resume building, and life advice. As he continues his journey, Moses hopes to continue providing guidance and support to students and wishes to extend that to young career professionals as well by helping them become a part of ASCE and keeping them engaged by providing them with experiences and opportunities to foster their growth and development.
