

Quick Tip #30 - Do What You Can

This will be my last quick tip - it's quick tip #30. Vlogging just isn't my thing.

So here's what I've learned in the past month.

Do what you can.

Do the research.

Get feedback from others.

Ask questions.

Reflect.

Try again.

Do what you believe is right and good for your students.

Get their input.

Get the parents' input.

Get other teacher's input.

Reflect again.

And try again.

You can only do so much.

This is tough stuff you're doing, so keep doing your best.

It's all we can do.
